Dear Parents and Carers,

On Monday 13th September, many people around the world will join in with celebrations of Roald Dahl day, his life and work as perhaps still one of the most well-known and loved of all children's authors.

As a school, we would like to join in with this annual global celebration of Roald Dahl Story Day; although we are still settling back into a routine, joining in will provide a great opportunity for us to come together as a school community, celebrating the wonderful world of stories. We will therefore host a Roald Dahl day in school on Monday 13th September, where the children will be able to come to school, but only if they wish, dressed as their favourite character. Alternatively, why not come to school dressed in something yellow, the favourite colour of this wonderful author or simply bring in their favourite Dahl book. Please do not feel there is any pressure to dress up, the children will get just as much out of the day dressed in normal school uniform. Each child will take part in a day full of related activities in their classrooms. Perhaps they could be invited to share what they have been doing in the evening, or even read from one of Roald Dahl's books with an adult.

We look forward to seeing those children that wish to, bring their favourite characters to life through their costumes or their discussions and very much appreciate your support.

Yours Sincerely,

Mrs Warner
