Mutual Respect, Ambition and Learning

June 7th, 2017

Dear Parent/Carer,

I am writing to you today to confirm that from today all year 11 students are on study leave. They should ensure that they continue to come in for their brain gyms and subsequent exams. They can also come in for their normal lessons for subjects where they are still yet to take the final exam. If they do come in for extra revision they must sign in at student services so we know they are on site in case of a fire. They must also sign out when they leave.

They will be required to return all their subject textbooks and revision guides before they can be issued with their prom ticket or given their yearbook or Year 11 hoodie if they have bought one. This will need to be done by returning their books, etc to Student Services in the week of the Prom, which is Monday 26th June to Friday 30th June. School uniform should continue to be worn at all times when in school.

I am sure that their last full day in school and the leavers assembly today will be seen as a coming of age and I believe that 'the tipping point' has been reached where students revising predominantly at home is the best way forward. Please support your son or daughter in continuing to study for their remaining exams. Also, encourage them to continue to seek our support, if they are struggling, and access the lessons still available if required.

We will see everyone again tomorrow morning for their second of three Maths exams. Please remind them to come to the Brain Gyms and to bring their calculators!

Although I have seen this fantastic group of students for only their last year at Montgomery, it has been a pleasure. I wish them every success in the future and look forward to seeing them in August, when hopefully everyone will be smiling.

Yours faithfully,

Mr Careless
Principal
