1. Policy Overview

Within our academies, high standards of behaviour are expected from all pupils. A positive working environment is essential for positive relationships and members of staff should lead by example.

This policy applies to pupil behaviour whether the pupil is on the Academy site, outside of the Academy site or outside of the school day. The Academy will take appropriate action where a pupil's behaviour falls below the expected standards.

Policies and practice promote an environment conducive to learning and ensuring high achievement for all young people, irrespective of their differing needs. Children are asked to:

- Arrive in the Academy and at lessons punctually and be prepared to learn.
- Bring appropriate equipment such as: PE kit and reading books and any other necessary equipment
- Wear the Academy uniform correctly.
- All pupils are expected to be polite, courteous and respectful to everyone on the Academy site and to comply with reasonable requests or instructions made by staff on the first time of asking.
- All pupils complete any task reasonably assigned to them in connection with their education.
- Children are expected to have regard for their own safety and that of others.

This policy is to be read in conjunction with the following guidance:
- Behaviour in schools guidance (publishing.service.gov.uk)
- Searching, Screening and Confiscation (publishing.service.gov.uk)
- Suspension and Permanent Exclusion from maintained schools, academies and pupil referral units in England, including pupil movement (publishing.service.gov.uk)

2. Aim

We aim to offer a happy, well-organised, positive and stimulating environment where children will work purposefully, where effective learning can take place and where children demonstrate good social and learning behaviours.

This behaviour policy is therefore intended to support all members of our school community in living and working together in a mutually beneficial way. It aims to promote an environment in which everyone feels happy, safe and secure.

We aim for the children to develop the following:

- Respect for oneself, others and property.

- Positive self-esteem.
- Co-operation and collaboration.
- Care for others.
- Self-discipline.
- Self-motivation and resilience.
- Independence.

3. Objectives

- To ensure a common policy concerning behaviour that will generate positive consistent approaches amongst staff.
- To examine and reaffirm the importance of PSHE/citizenship and other areas of the curriculum as a vehicle for positive behaviour.
- To ensure regular and consistent use of the expectations throughout each Academy.
- To develop strategies to support pupils showing challenging behaviour.
- To challenge and address any form of bullying (including cyberbullying, prejudiced-based and discriminatory bullying). (Please see our Anti-Bullying Policy for further details of our approach.)
- To work in partnership with parents to inform and offer support with regard to any individual behaviour difficulties.

4. The Classroom Environment

Disruptive behaviour affects both the teacher and other children. As recognised in the Special Educational Needs and Disability Code of Practice (January 2015), poor behaviour may be a result of unmet needs and the class teacher will, with support from other staff in the Academy, implement strategies to provide the necessary support to the pupil. Reasonable adjustments will also be made to support pupils with SEND.

Adjustments to behavioural expectations may be made for any pupil, who needs additional support with their behaviour choices. These may be temporary or permanent depending on the individual circumstances of the pupil. Where possible, these adjustments are made proactively and by design to ensure all pupils can meet behavioural expectations. For example, a pupil new to the school may need time to settle into new routines and expectations, or a pupil who is experiencing a bereavement etc.

Low-level disruptive behaviour can be influenced positively by effective classroom management techniques.

Positive Influences

- Structured and well-prepared activities taking place in a friendly atmosphere and pitched at an appropriate level.
- Courteous and respectful interactions with pupils making use of pleasant humour.
- Clear messages of enjoyment about being with the group.
- Creating space and "play" opportunities for individual children where appropriate.
- Giving children opportunities to explore feelings, make choices, clarify values and work collaboratively.
- Considering furniture layout, groupings, pace of lessons and challenging tasks.
- Avoiding stereotyping, especially stereotyping children as troublemakers.
- Being aware of home circumstances and values.

Negative Influences

- Loud use of public reprimands and threats.
- Constant use of criticism and sarcasm.
- Aggressive reaction to minor incidents which increases the likelihood of major confrontation.
- Being unjust or inconsistent.

5. The Role of the Class Teacher

The class teachers have high expectations of our children with regard to behaviour, and they strive to ensure that all children achieve to the best of their ability.

The class teacher treats each child fairly and enforces the classroom code consistently. The teachers treat all children in their classes with respect and understanding.

It is the responsibility of class teachers to ensure that the school rules are enforced in their classes, and that their classes behave in a responsible manner during lesson time.

Where external support agencies are involved in meeting the needs of a particular child, the class teacher liaises and works co-operatively with those agencies, as necessary, to support and guide the progress of the child. The class teacher may, for example, in consultation with the Special Educational Needs Co-ordinator (SENCO) discuss the needs of a child with their Social Worker.

6. The Role of the Principal

It is the responsibility of the Principal, under the School Standards and Framework Act 1998, to implement the school behaviour policy consistently and to report to the Academy Improvement Committee, when requested, on the effectiveness of the policy. It is also the responsibility of the Principal to ensure the health, safety and welfare of all children in the school.

The Principal supports staff by implementing the policy, by setting the standards of behaviour, and by supporting staff in their implementation of the policy.

The Principal has the responsibility for giving suspensions to individual children for serious acts of misbehaviour. For repeated or very serious acts of anti-social behaviour, the Principal may permanently exclude a child.

7. The Role of Parents and Carers

We collaborate actively with parents and carers, so that children receive consistent messages about how to behave both at home and at school.

We try to build a supportive dialogue between home and school, and we inform parents and carers immediately if we have concerns about their child's welfare or behaviour.

If we have to use reasonable sanctions to address any behaviour concerns with a child, we expect parents and carers to support these actions. If parents and carers have any concerns about the way that their child has been treated, they should initially contact the class teacher. If their concerns remain, they should contact the Principal to discuss the issues involved. If parents or carers wish to complain further about actions taken by us, the Enquire Learning Trust's Complaints Policy is available on our website.

8. Positive Discipline

Each Academy has developed a Code of Conduct that should be clearly understood by all and adhered to in the interests of everyone. These key rules will be prominently displayed around the Academy and regularly referred to by staff and children.

System of affirmation/strategies for praise and reward

Any praise given to pupils should be genuine, personal and specific.

Children behave positively if they think they are worthwhile people. Affirming a person increases or restores her/his sense of self-esteem. It is particularly necessary with children whose own self-image is low. Affirming a child will sometimes avoid problematic situations.

Good behaviour is praised and rewarded by staff to give recognition to the efforts being made by pupils to behave appropriately. This will also have the effect of communicating staff expectations to pupils who are not behaving in an acceptable manner.

At Moorside, we expect pupils to adhere to the academies core values:

> Collaboration
> Pride
> Aspiration
> Understanding

We give Dojo points based on these core values and we positively affirm pupils we see displaying these values.

Assertiveness/Warnings/Consequences

Faced with inappropriate behaviour it is tempting for any teacher to threaten punishment. However, punishments and rewards keep children dependent upon external motivators. The development of self-awareness and self-discipline is sacrificed for the sake of immediate compliance.

Behaviours have consequences. However, negative consequences imposed too quickly take away the need for the pupil to face the issues, make choices and take responsibility.

At Moorside, we believe in supporting pupils with relational approaches, to help them with their emotional literacy and behaviour development.

Our Approaches to supporting emotional literacy and behaviour development

At Moorside, our staff are provided with ongoing training and access to support from other professionals. Training sessions include a focus on:
- Restorative Practice
- De-escalation strategies
- Social, Emotional and Mental Health (SEMH) needs

- The link between behaviour and Speech, Language and Communication Needs (SLCN)

Staff are coached and trained to implement a range of different approaches which may include but are not limited to:

- Reflective conversations, using visuals (See Appendix 2)
- Emotion Coaching principles, using a script (See Appendix 3)
- Considering the 'why' behind the behaviour – every behaviour has a function and in order to support and understand behaviour development we need to understand what might be going on under the surface that could be contributing to a pupil's emotional state. For example, this may include sensory needs, changes at home, hunger and fatigue levels, underlying speech and language difficulties etc. These triggers may build up across the course of a day or multiple days and may not be easy to spot immediately so it's important to gather information from those who know the pupil well.
- Reframing the language used to discuss pupils and their behaviour needs - Often, children and young people who have received regular feedback on their behaviour can develop reputations amongst staff and other children/young people, e.g., they are 'naughty', 'difficult' or 'attention-seeking'. These reputations often relate entirely to their behaviour and are not helpful in supporting the pupil in their emotional development. Reframing the language we use, can help us to see the 'why' behind the behaviour, e.g., is a child 'not engaging' or are they not yet feeling safe in their environment.
- 'Name it to Tame it' (Dr Dan Siegel) – this is where we notice our emotions and name them as they are happening which has a calming effect on the brain.
- Empathy is calming
- Being calm is contagious – Our brains naturally mirror the emotional state of who we are interacting with and so as adults, we are better able to help pupils regulate once we ourselves are calm.
- Self-talk around emotions – Staff are encouraged to openly discuss their emotional state with pupils so that they create an environment where pupils feel safe and supported to be their authentic selves.
- Model and demonstrate the use of self-regulation tools – Throughout the school day, staff demonstrate to pupils how they manage their emotions and sensory needs so that pupils can see how to do it and to normalise self-regulation. Staff might do this by sharing how they are feeling and what they are going to do to try to manage their emotions, e.g. "I feel very frustrated so I am going to take a minute to do some lazy-eight breathing" (this is where we breath in and out by tracing a figure eight in the air with our finger).
- Reduce demands and language when a pupil is dysregulated – when our emotions are heightened, our ability to learn and behave well is greatly reduced. This is why it's important to regulate instead of trying to persevere with doing 'work' as we are likely to become more distressed and cause greater disruption for the pupil and the wider class.
- Resets – sometimes an individual, a group of pupils or a whole class have become disengaged with their learning. Staff can use a 'reset' which involves stopping the lesson and doing a quick activity to support with regulation and reengagement.

The Zones of Regulation programme (See Appendix 4)
- https://zonesofregulation.com/how-it-works/
- This programme is an intervention designed by an Occupational Therapist that sorts different emotions into four coloured zones depending on how they relate to our body:
  - The BLUE ZONE describes low states of alertness and down feelings, such as when a person feels sad, tired, sick, hurt, lonely, or bored. Our energy is low and our body is moving slowly when we are in the Blue Zone.
  - The GREEN ZONE describes a calm, alert state. We may be feeling happy, focused, content, peaceful, or calm in the Green Zone. The nervous system feels safe, organized, and connected in the Green Zone, helping us be primed to learn. However, we can learn in other Zones too.

- The YELLOW ZONE describes when our energy is higher, and our internal state starts to elevate. We may be experiencing stress, frustration, anxiety, excitement, silliness, confusion, nervousness, be overwhelmed, or have the wiggles.
- The RED ZONE describes a state of extremely high energy and intense, very overwhelming feelings. We may be in an extremely heightened state of alertness, potentially triggering our fight, flight, freeze or flee protective response. We may feel elated, euphoric, anger, rage, devastated, out of control, panicked, or terrified when in the Red Zone.

- The Zones of Regulation programme provides opportunities for pupils and staff to develop a 'toolbox' of strategies that they can use to manage each zone they are in. These 'tools' (regulation strategies) will work differently for everyone, so it is important that pupils are given the time to explore their response to different strategies in different emotional states.
- Some pupils may benefit from an individualised 'toolbox' of tried and tested strategies that might include information from other professionals such as a Speech and Language Therapist or an Occupational Therapist. Pupils with bespoke recommendations may be encouraged to use different tools to their peers due to their specific needs or sensory processing difficulties and this is not favouritism or being 'unfair' but rather equity over equality.
- Staff are supported to use ideas, lessons and visuals from the Zones of Regulation programme in their everyday teaching and also in more tailored group or one-to-one interventions.
- The Zones of Regulation programme also provides adults with language scripts to use whilst discussing emotions and the 'zones' so this language is familiar to pupils across school in all year groups.

Regulate, Relate, Repair (adapted from Dr Bruce Perry – Regulate, Relate and Reason)
Regulate
- Reduce language and demands – consider going to a calm and quiet environment with the pupil as it can be difficult to do this in a noisy and busy environment like the classroom.
- Coach pupils to regulate – pupils need to be shown how to calm and regulate by trying different tools. It is not helpful to put them in 'time out' or isolate them as this can increase their distress, feelings of guilt and damage the adult/pupil relationship further.
Relate
- Recognise what the pupil is experiencing and consider how distressed you would have to feel to have the same reaction they have had.
- Empathise and label feelings – e.g. "I can see you are feeling very frustrated, I would feel that way too."
Repair
- Once the pupil is fully calm and the previous steps have been completed, adults can then work together with the pupil to repair and resolve the event that occurred.
- This may involve 'showing sorry' rather than verbally saying sorry as some pupils might find it difficult to say these words and doing an action instead can result in a better outcome. This enables pupils to understand what sorry means and allows them to greater repair relationships.
- This is also the time to reinforce boundaries and expectations for behaviour with the pupil and to explore alternatives for what they will do next time, e.g., taking the time to regulate before the emotions escalate, going to an adult for help etc. For example, "Hitting others is not okay, there are other ways we can manage being angry".
- Adults may use a visual to support this conversation such as Moorside's reflective/respect conversation visual

9. Support Pupils

A behaviour modification programme for individuals may be applied if appropriate.

The class teacher and child will identify outcomes. If there are a number of incidents of negative behaviour, outside agencies may be consulted.

It is important to consider a differentiated approach to learning if a child is displaying challenging behaviour. It is also important to try and establish the reasons why the child is displaying challenging behaviour and provide the appropriate support to mitigate the behaviours; this may include focussed interventions in-school and/or liaison with a range of external professionals/agencies to access additional support.

Differentiation should be an inherent part of planning for individual needs.

Moorside's Behaviour and Relationships approach
All staff at Moorside are expected to use whole class relational approaches whilst recognising that some pupils may need a tailored approach.
Whole class Approaches High expectations for all pupils Zones of regulation class tool kits Regulate, relate, repair Resets Reflective conversations Discussions with parents where appropriate Regular training for all staff Log on CPOMS where appropriate Check ins from SLT Use of Reflective/Respect Conversation sheets (see Appendix 6) Use checklist before considering a tailored approach (See Appendix 5)
Tailored Approaches Whole class approaches continue to be used High expectations A written support plan detailing interventions e.g., sensory circuits, pastoral sessions. Use of The Calm quad and The Den (as appropriate) Conversations with parents Gaining regular pupil voice Log on CPOMS where appropriate Check ins from SLT and SEND Lead Use of Reflective/Respect Conversation sheets (see Appendix 6) Use checklist before informing SLT (See Appendix 5)
Ongoing Concerns For each incident, a reflective/respect conversation sheet (see Appendix 6) should be completed. These will be completed with the child and the adult who has witnessed or was told about the incident e.g. a teacher or a teaching assistant. Where possible, the conversation will take place on the day of the incident. Parents/carers must be contacted each time a reflective conversation sheet is completed. This could either be in person, over the phone or via Class Dojo. A child can have 3 reflective conversations in a half term, using the reflective conversation sheets.

On 4th incident, a reflective conversation sheet will be completed, and parents/carers will receive a letter from the Vice Principal or one of the Assistant Vice Principals inviting them in for a meeting to discuss their child's behaviour and how we can support moving forward. Parents/carers will need to confirm that they can attend. If a child is on the SEND register, the SEND Lead will also be invited to the meeting to discuss the strategies and provision currently in place (see Appendix 7).

On 5th incident, a reflective conversation sheet will be completed, and parents/carers will receive a letter from the Principal inviting them in for a meeting to discuss the child's behaviour, ongoing concerns and how we can support so behaviour does not escalate further (see Appendix 8).

Reflective/Respect conversation sheets will be kept in a folder by the class teacher to help identify any patterns/triggers with behaviours. These can be used during Parents Evening discussions.

In September 2024, the school has introduced new initiative focused on fostering respect across our school. This new approach will complement the 'zones of regulation' and 'reflection' systems already in place and aims to create a positive and inclusive environment where every person (including visitors) feels valued and respected.

We want to raise our expectations around how children engage with adults in school and continue to build mutual respect. Adults will model our value of 'Understanding' and give children the opportunity to modify their behaviour and change their thinking. After this chance, children will engage in a respect reflection and parents will be contacted. If the same child is still not being respectful, then we bypass the next reflection and go straight to letters to parents and possible further consequences.

Children might not show 'respect' by doing the following (please note that this list is not exhaustive):

- Refusing to follow adult instructions
- Leaving the classroom without permission
- Answering back/arguing with an adult
- Being verbally or physically aggressive towards an adult

As a school we are going to be doing the following:

Respect Workshops: We will conduct workshops/lessons for pupils and staff to discuss and understand the importance of respect in our daily interactions. These sessions will provide practical strategies for promoting respect in the classroom and beyond and will take place half-termly in Personal Development sessions.

Respect Assemblies: SLT will regularly run 'Respect' assemblies and ensure that children are praised for showing 'respect' in and around school.

Respect Awards: To encourage and celebrate respectful behaviour, we will introduce a half-termly "Respect Award." Students who consistently demonstrate respect towards peers and staff will be recognised and rewarded.

Respect Reflections: Reflections focussed on children who are not showing 'Respect' and how they can improve this in the future. A comprehension linked to 'Respect' must also be completed by the pupil.

5. Parent Engagement: We will also involve parents by mentioning 'Respect' in our newsletters, discussing it with our Parent Voice Group and keeping them updated when children are not showing 'Respect'.

Only together, can we create a respectful and nurturing environment for our students to thrive and achieve their very best.

Internal Suspension

An internal suspension is when a pupil is removed from their classroom and supervised by a member of the senior leadership team or school support staff. A decision to internally suspend a pupil is made by the Principal. Work will be set for the pupil during this time and parents/carers will be informed about the incident which led to the internal suspension and the duration of the internal suspension. Internal suspensions will be logged on CPOMS and provision will be reviewed and adapted to support the pupil on their return to the classroom.

Fast Track

In some cases, SLT may need to become involved immediately (fast track). This includes, but is not limited to when a pupil:

- Presents with abusive, threatening language and/or behaviour towards another person.
- Presents with behaviour that puts themselves or others in danger
- Has damaged school property
- Has engaged in serious fighting
- Has sworn at a member of staff
- Has been observed hurting another person deliberately
- Has presented with targeted behaviour towards other children that causes upset – verbal and physical.
- Has left the classroom without permission
- Has left the school grounds during the school day without permission.

Staff: It is important for staff to feel that they can rely on each other when dealing with challenging behaviour. Members of staff should feel that they are able to seek support and advice from colleagues, particularly SLT, before a situation becomes out of hand.

10. Curricular Links with Behaviour Management

Our Academies have a positive approach to behaviour management and as such, believe in actively developing children to be self-disciplined. In order to do this, it is essential that children are given opportunities to discuss different types of behaviour and their effect on others. A significant part of the curriculum is committed to Personal Social and Health Education (PSHE)

when many of these issues can be considered. At Moorside, we teach children PSHE through the Jigsaw scheme. Our structured framework enables each child to develop a positive sense of themselves, and others, and to learn how to form positive and respectful relationships within the school community and in each child's home community. We introduce children to the concept of understanding the emotional, social and physical aspects of growing up; how to manage their emotions and help them develop positive feelings towards growing up. We also use Zones of Regulation lessons to help embed our relational approach to behaviour.

11. Bullying and Racism

Each academy has an Anti-Bullying and Anti-Racism approach and actively explores these issues within the curriculum. These subjects are discussed from the viewpoint of the bully and the victim to enable pupils to understand the feelings and emotions of others.

We need to be clear about what we mean by bullying. We define it as:

- the wilful, conscious desire to hurt or threaten someone, physically, emotionally or materially on a number of occasions; or
- when a person or a group deliberately intends to cause someone else to feel hurt, distressed, threatened or humiliated; or
- behaviour by an individual or group, usually repeated over time, that intentionally hurts another individual or group either physically or emotionally.

In accordance with the academy's Anti-Bullying Policy, any incident of bullying occurring at the Academy will be taken seriously and followed through appropriately by staff. Parents of both the bully and the victim will be involved and kept informed as appropriate. A written record of any such incident will be made and recorded on CPOMs.

The Enquire Learning Trust sees racism as a form of bullying and does not condone it in any form.

12. Child on child Sexual harmful behaviour

Sexually harmful behaviour from young children is not always contrived or with the intent to harm others. There may be many reasons why a young person engages in sexually harmful behaviour and it may be just as distressing to the young person who instigates it as to the young person it is intended towards. Sexually harmful behaviour may include:

- Inappropriate sexual language
- Inappropriate role play
- Sexual touching
- Sexual assault/abuse

Staff are aware of the importance of:

- Making clear that sexual violence and sexual harassment is not acceptable, will never be tolerated and is not an inevitable part of growing up.
- Not tolerating or dismissing sexual violence or sexual harassment as 'banter', 'part of growing up', just having a laugh' etc.
- Challenging behaviours (potentially criminal in nature) such as grabbing bottoms, breasts and genetalia, flicking bras and lifting up skirts. Dismissing or tolerating such behaviours risks normailsing them.

- Upskirting will never be tolerated. This behaviour typically involves taking a picture under a person's clothing without them knowing, with the intention of viewing their genitals or buttocks to obtain sexual gratification or cause the victim humiliation, distress or alarm.

13. Monitoring Behaviour

Senior leaders monitor behaviour regularly to identify any patterns in incidents. Appropriate actions are taken to ensure that these patterns are broken.

A pupil's presenting behaviours are recorded on CPOMS so that senior leaders can carefully monitor and analyse incidents. At Moorside, we recognise that some children with SEND may need additional support with their emotional literacy and behaviour development. All pupils on the SEND register have a personalised SEND support plan which is reviewed termly. This plan outlines what the pupil's desirable outcomes are and the actions, strategies and provision in place to support them to achieve those outcomes. If a pupil presents with an emerging need, a Cycle 1 support plan will be put in place. This captures the pupil's emerging needs and outlines some actions and strategies to try for a term. If the pupil continues to require further support after a term, they may be placed on the SEND register (after discussion with the SEND Lead). All pupils who require a tailored approach to support them with their emotional literacy and behaviour development will have a support plan. Please see the SEND information report and SEND Policy on the academy website for further information.

14. Use of Reasonable Force

In exceptional circumstances and as a very last resort, where there is a danger of injury to a pupil or member of staff, positive handling using reasonable force may be appropriate. Positive handling methods are only used by staff with appropriate training where de-escalation techniques have failed or cannot be used.

The Academy will always communicate with parents where such techniques have been used. These incidents are recorded on CPOMs.

Please refer to the academy's positive handling policy.

15. Prohibited Items on the School-Site

No pupil should bring any prohibited items on to the school-site. The following are prohibited items:
- knives and weapons
- alcohol
- illegal drugs
- stolen items
- cigarettes
- any article that a member of staff reasonably suspects has been, or is likely to be used:
  - to commit an offence, or
  - to cause personal injury to, or damage to property of; any person (including pupils)
- an article specified in regulations:
  - Tobacco and cigarette papers,

- o Fireworks; and
- o Pornographic images.

The Principal and staff (who are authorised by the Principal) have a statutory power to search a pupil or their possessions where they have reasonable grounds to suspect that a pupil may have a prohibited item listed above. Under common law, school staff have the power to search a pupil for any item if the pupil agrees. The member of staff will ensure the pupil understands the reason for the search and how it will be conducted so that their agreement is informed Searching, screening and confiscation (publishing.service.gov.uk).

If a pupil needs to be searched, parents/carers will be contacted and asked to come in and undertake the search with two members of staff present. If it is deemed necessary, the pupil will be kept separate from other pupils until the parents/carers can attend. The two members of staff will be the same sex as the pupil being searched. In limited circumstances, there may be an exception to whether the two members of staff are of the same sex and this is if the principal deems there is a serious risk of harm to the pupil or another, if the search is not carried out immediately, or it is not within a practical reasonable timeframe to allocate two same sex staff member's. If the search is carried out under these circumstances the reason will be recorded alongside the record of the search on CPOMS. Two members of staff will be present during any search of a pupil.

Authorised staff will seek permission from a pupil to undertake a search of a pupil's possessions (for example, their locker, desk, drawer, pencil case, bag, lunch box, coat, hat etc.). The members of staff will ensure that the pupil understands the reason for the search and how it will be conducted so that their agreement is informed. Parents will also be informed and consent gained. Two members of staff will conduct the search and parents/carers can attend and witness the search of the pupil's possessions.

If a pupil refuses to give consent for their possessions to be searched, parents/carers will be contacted and asked to come in and undertake the search with two members of staff present. If it is deemed necessary, the pupil will be kept separate from other pupils until the parents/carers can attend.

Any kind of search will take place in a location away from other pupils and staff, providing the pupil with privacy. Two members of staff will always be present and consent from parents sought.

If a pupil is found to be in possession of a prohibited item, they may be permanently excluded depending on the circumstances, (e.g. threatening another pupil with a knife/weapon, sharing a vape or cigarettes with other pupils on the school-site etc.) or receive a suspension (e.g. bringing a vape into school and storing in their coat, bags etc – no other pupils are involved etc.).

Staff will liaise with both parents/carers and the appropriate professionals if a child is found to be in possession of a prohibited item – this may involve liaising with the Police and Social Care. Staff will also follow the 'DfE Searching, Screening & Confiscation Advice for Schools, July 2022 (paragraphs 57-81, Appendix 1).

If any child is found to be suffering from the effects of alcohol or other substances, arrangements will be made for that child to be taken home and Social Care will be informed with a Multi-Agency Referral Form completed.

16. Expected behaviour/Code of Conduct

Each Academy has a clear set of behavioural standards and code of conduct for all pupils; these are clearly set out on the Academy website and are communicated to pupils and parents on a regular basis. High standards of work and behaviour are expected at all times. A positive approach to discipline is taken and pupils are encouraged to show consideration and care for people and property.

At Moorside, we expect pupils to adhere to the academies core values:

Collaboration
Pride
Aspiration
Understanding

17. Exclusion and Suspension

The Enquire Learning Trust recognises that in order to ensure a positive atmosphere based on a sense of community and shared values it may, on occasions, be necessary to exclude an individual or individuals either for a fixed period, not exceeding forty five academy days in any one academic year, or, in some circumstances, permanently.

Such exclusions will only be resorted to when the academy can demonstrate with adequate evidence that all reasonable steps have been taken (including education off site) and/ or that the presence of the learner is likely to be severely detrimental to his/herself, other learners or employees. There may also be occasions when a suspension is appropriate because of unacceptable behaviour.

Good discipline in academies is essential to ensure that all pupils can benefit from the opportunities provided by education. The Trust supports its academies in using exclusion as a sanction where it is warranted. However, permanent exclusions should only be used as a last resort, in response to a serious breach, or persistent breaches, of the Academy's Behaviour Policy; and where allowing the pupil to remain in the academy would seriously harm the education or welfare of the pupil or others in the academy.

We follow the Suspension and Permanent Exclusion from maintained schools, academies and pupil referral units in England, including pupil movement, published by the DfE in September 2022 which has regard to the standard national list of reasons for exclusion. Currently, schools and local authorities must make full-time educational provision for suspended pupils from day 6 of their exclusion.

Parents and carers must ensure their child is not present in a public place during the first five days of an exclusion.

18. Reintegration Meeting

Principals have a duty to offer the parents or carers a reintegration interview in respect of certain time-limited suspensions.

The reintegration meeting aims to set out a strategy in which the risk of further suspension or permanent exclusion is reduced. The meeting will be a collaboration between academy staff, parents/carers and the pupil. The meeting will also be an opportunity for exploration of working with other professionals to identify any additional individual needs or multi agency approach that may be required. It will look at risk assessment and have an effective timescale for reviewing any intervention identified.

19. The Role of the AIC

The AIC will consider academy statistics on suspension and exclusion and professionally challenge school leaders on any suspension and exclusion in their academy during their termly meetings as a regular item on the agenda. The support for children at risk of permanent exclusion will be explored.

The principal will inform the AIC of any suspensions that are more than 5 academy days in one term. The AIC are not required to meet for suspensions of 5 days or less but parents may make a representation. The AIC do not have the power to consider to reinstate pupils with suspensions of 5 days or less.

If the suspension is between 6 and 15 days and parents request a hearing from the AIC, the AIC must meet within 50 school days of receiving the principals notice to consider reinstatement or uphold the principals decision based on the evidence presented.

The principal will inform the AIC of suspensions that are more than 15 days in one term. The AIC must then meet within 15 school days to explore the suspension/s and have the power to either uphold the principal's decision or reinstate the pupil based on the evidence presented.

The AIC must meet within 15 school days if the exclusion is permanent or if the suspension means the pupil will miss a public examination or national curriculum test. The AIC has the power to then uphold the principal's decision or reinstate the pupil based on the evidence presented.

Any pupils that are at risk of exclusion or have been identified as requiring additional support should be referred to the Enquire Learning Trust SEMH Collaborative for support with strategies and interventions. For more information on the SEMH Collaborative please speak to your academy Principal or SENDCO.

Please refer to the Enquire Learning Trust Exclusion Policy for further information regarding the exclusion of pupils.

Confiscation Advice

DfE Searching, Screening & Confiscation, Advice for Schools, July 2022 (paragraphs 57 - 81):

Confiscation

Items found as a result of a search

57. An authorised staff member carrying out a search can confiscate any item that they have reasonable grounds for suspecting:
• poses a risk to staff or pupils;
• is prohibited, or identified in the school rules for which a search can be made (see paragraphs 2-3); or
• is evidence in relation to an offence.

Prohibited or illegal items

58. Controlled drugs must be delivered to the police as soon as possible unless there is a good reason not to do so.[1] In these cases, the member of staff must safely dispose of the drugs. In determining whether there is a good reason to dispose of controlled drugs, the member of staff must have regard to the following guidance in paragraph 59 below issued by the Secretary of State.

59. The member of staff should take into account all relevant circumstances and use their professional judgement to determine whether they can safely dispose of the controlled drug. When staff are unsure as to the legal status of a substance and have reason to believe it may be a controlled drug, they should treat it as such. If the member of staff is in doubt about the safe disposal of controlled drugs, they should deliver them to the police.

60. Other substances which are not believed to be controlled should also be delivered to the police, or disposed of as above, if the member of staff believes they could be harmful.

61. Where a person conducting a search finds alcohol, tobacco, cigarette papers or fireworks, they may retain or dispose of them as they think appropriate but should not return them to the pupil.

62. If a member of staff finds a pornographic image, they may dispose of the image unless they have reasonable grounds to suspect that its possession constitutes a specified offence (i.e. it is extreme or an indecent image of a child) in which case it must be delivered to the police as soon as reasonably practicable. [2]Members of staff should never intentionally view any indecent image of a child (also sometimes known as nude or semi-nude images). Staff must never copy, print, share, store or save such images. See paragraphs 72-79 for further advice on searching electronic devices.

[1] Legally, schools do not have to give the name of the pupil from whom drugs have been taken to the police. Schools should consider this on a case-by-case basis. Please see the DfE and ACPO drug advice for schools for more information on the relevant powers and duties in relation to powers to search for and confiscate drugs, liaison with the police and with parents.

[2] Section 62 of the Coroners and Justice Act 2009 defines prohibited images of children. Section 63 of the Criminal Justice and Immigrations Act 2008 defines extreme pornographic images.

63. Where a member of staff finds stolen items, these must be delivered to the police as soon as reasonably practicable. However, if there is good reason to do so, the member of staff may also return the item to the owner, or retain or dispose of it if returning them to their owner is not practicable. In determining whether there is a good reason to return the stolen item to its owner or retain or dispose of the item, the member of staff must have regard to the following guidance issued by the Secretary of State in paragraph 64 below.

64. The member of staff should take into account all relevant circumstances and use their professional judgement to determine whether they can safely dispose of the seized article. In taking into account the relevant circumstances, the member of staff should consider the following:
• the value of the item - it would not be reasonable or desirable to involve the police in dealing with low value items such as pencil cases, though school staff may judge it appropriate to contact the police if the items are valuable;
   • whether the item is banned by the school;
   • whether retaining or returning the item to the owner may place any person at risk of harm; and
   • whether the item can be disposed of safely.

65. Any weapons or items which are evidence of a suspected offence must be passed to the police as soon as possible.

66. Items that have been (or are likely to be) used to commit an offence or to cause personal injury or damage to property should be delivered to the police as soon as reasonably practicable, returned to the owner, retained or disposed of. In deciding what to do with such an item, the member of staff must have regard to the guidance issued by the Secretary of State in paragraphs 67-68.

67. The member of staff should take into account all relevant circumstances and use their professional judgement to determine whether the item should be delivered to the police, retained, returned to the owner or disposed of. In taking into account all relevant circumstances the member of staff should consider:
   • whether it is safe to dispose of the item; and
   • whether and when it is safe to return the item.

68. If a member staff suspects a confiscated item has been used to commit an offence or is evidence in relation to an offence, the item should be delivered to the police.

69. Members of staff should use their judgement to decide to return, retain or dispose of any other items banned under the school rules. In deciding what to do with such an item, the member of staff must have regard to the guidance issued by the Secretary of State in paragraph 70.

70. The member of staff should take into account all relevant circumstances and use their professional judgement to determine whether they can safely dispose of the seized item. In taking into account all relevant circumstances, the member of staff should consider:
   • the value of the item;
   • whether it is appropriate to return the item to the pupil or parent; and
   • whether the item is likely to continue to disrupt learning or the calm, safe and supportive environment of the school.

71. Members of staff should follow any additional guidance and procedures on the retention and disposal of items put in place by the school.

Electronic devices

72. Electronic devices, including mobile phones, can contain files or data which relate to an offence, or which may cause harm to another person. This includes, but is not limited to, indecent images of children, pornography, abusive messages, images or videos, or evidence relating to suspected criminal behaviour.

73. As with all prohibited items, staff should first consider the appropriate safeguarding response if they find images, data or files on an electronic device that they reasonably suspect are likely to put a person at risk.

74. Staff may examine any data or files on an electronic device they have confiscated as a result of a search, as defined in paragraph 57, if there is good reason to do so.

75. If the member of staff conducting the search suspects they may find an indecent image of a child (sometimes known as nude or semi-nude images), the member of staff should never intentionally view the image, and must never copy, print, share, store or save such images. When an incident might involve an indecent image of a child and/or video, the member of staff should confiscate the device, avoid looking at the device and refer the incident to the designated safeguarding lead (or deputy) as the most appropriate person to advise on the school's response. Handling such reports or concerns can be especially complicated and schools should follow the principles as set out in Keeping children safe in education. The UK Council for Internet Safety also provides the following guidance to support school staff and designated safeguarding leads: Sharing nudes and semi-nudes: advice for education settings working with children and young people.

76. If a member of staff finds any image, data or file that they suspect might constitute a specified offence, then they must be delivered to the police as soon as is reasonably practicable.

77. In exceptional circumstances members of staff may dispose of the image or data if there is a good reason to do so. In determining a 'good reason' to examine or erase the data or files, the member of staff must have regard to the following guidance issued by the Secretary of State in paragraphs 78 and 79 below.

78. In determining whether there is a 'good reason' to examine the data or files, the member of staff should reasonably suspect that the data or file on the device has been, or could be used, to cause harm, undermine the safe environment of the school and disrupt teaching, or be used to commit an offence.

79. In determining whether there is a 'good reason' to erase any data or files from the device, the member of staff should consider whether the material found may constitute evidence relating to a suspected offence. In those instances, the data or files should not be deleted, and the device must be handed to the police as soon as it is reasonably practicable. If the data or files are not suspected to be evidence in relation to an offence, a member of staff may delete the data or files if the continued existence of the data or file is likely to continue to cause harm to any person and the pupil and/or the parent refuses to delete the data or files themselves.

Confiscation as a disciplinary penalty

80. Schools' general power to discipline enables a member of staff to confiscate, retain or dispose of a pupil's property as a disciplinary penalty, where reasonable to do so. [3]

81. The law protects members of staff from liability in any proceedings brought against them for any loss of, or damage to, any item they have confiscated, provided they acted lawfully.

Appendix 2 - Reflective Visuals

Appendix 3 - Emotion Coaching/Zones of Regulation Script

| Step	How to	Example Script – linked to Zones of Regulation
Step 1: Empathise, validate and label	• Recognise all emotions as being natural and normal and not always a matter of choice • Recognise the behaviour as communication • Look for physical and verbal signs of the emotion being felt • Take on the child's perspective • Use words to reflect back child's emotions and help the CYP to label the emotion • Empathise and provide a narrative/ translation for the emotional experience	(Child's name), what Zone are you in? Remember all Zones are OK. (Child's name), I think you are in the red zone because you are feeling angry. I would feel angry if that happened to me. It's OK to feel like that. (Child's name), I think you are in the blue zone because you are feeling tired. It's OK to feel like that.
Step 2: Limit set	• State the boundary limits of acceptable behaviour (if needed) • Make it clear certain behaviours cannot be accepted • But retain the child's self-dignity (crucial for responsive behaviour and well-being)	These are the rules that we have to follow. Doing that is not OK. We can't behave like that even though you are feeling angry, because it is not safe.
Step 3: Problem solve with the child	When the child is calm and in a relaxed, rational state: • Explore the feelings that give rise to the behaviour/ problem/ incident • Scaffold alternative ideas and actions that could lead to more appropriate and productive outcomes • Empower the child to believe s/he can overcome difficulties and manage feelings	Which tool would you like to use to help you to manage your zone? I wonder if a tool might help us manage our Zones right now? What about trying this tool… This is not a safe place to be angry. Let's go to a safe place and then we can talk. Next time you're feeling like this, what could you do? How do you think you will react next time or if it happens again? We need to figure out what to do next time. Have you got any ideas?
Suggested tools	Breathing exercises, fidgets, theraputty, time out in shared area, a walk around school, doing a job as a brain break (heavy lifting jobs work well e.g. carrying photocopier paper or giving out the milk), use of ear defenders, weighted blanket, The Den Zones of Regulation toolbox (please see the 'Tools menu' for more ideas) The six sides of breathing, lazy 8 breathing, calming sequence visual, inner coach/inner critic, size of a problem

Date

Dear

At Moorside Primary Academy, the core values of 'pride', 'collaboration', 'understanding' and 'aspiration' underpin everything we do as we 'strive for excellence'. All of our pupils are expected to demonstrate these values by being well mannered, respectful at all times and responding appropriately to adults.

Despite being given opportunities to manage their zone of regulation, engage in a reflective conversation and consider their own behaviour,  has found it difficult to meet the Moorside behaviour expectations.

As this is the 4th incident this half term, we would like to arrange a meeting between yourself and other members of the Senior Leadership Team to discuss how we can support your child with their behaviour, moving forward.

This meeting will take place on

DATE

We thank you in advance for your support on this matter and look forward to meeting with you.

Yours sincerely,

Dear *

At Moorside Primary Academy, the core values of 'pride', 'collaboration', 'understanding' and 'aspiration' underpin everything we do as we 'strive for excellence'. All of our pupils are expected to demonstrate these values by being well mannered, respectful at all times and responding appropriately to adults.

There have been at least four previous occasions when * have been given opportunities to manage their zone of regulation, engage in reflective conversations and consider their own behaviour. I also believe that members of the Senior Leadership Team have invited you in to discuss how to best support your child with their behaviour, moving forwards.

Therefore, the next step is to invite you into a meeting with myself to discuss appropriate strategies to support your child in accessing our offer here at Moorside Primary Academy and ensure that these behaviours do not escalate further.

This meeting will take place on

_____ at _____.

As always, I thank you in advance for your support and cooperation on this matter and look forward to meeting with you soon.

Kind regards,

Mr S. Ismail
