Much Ado about Oakfield !

The Harmony Gardens were buzzing on Wednesday and Thursday evenings with the sounds of Shakespeare and Poetry as Oakfield presented 'Much Ado About Nothing'. The first half saw the Performance Poets set the scene with poems that were in turns hilarious, thought-provoking and powerful—brought to life by their amazing physical and vocal talents.

This was followed by the play itself, brilliantly brought to life by Oakfield's Shakespeare Club.

Audience members were "utterly impressed" with their performance and all involved should be super-proud of their achievement.

The teamwork from every member of the cast and crew was outstanding!

We would like to celebrate the achievements of 5 of our Year 8 pupils in the Mini Police project. Since September Toni Brooks, Sophie Thatcher, Eric Downes, Jacob Watkins and Ewan Goode have been working as mentors with pupils from Critchill School and 2 PCSOs.

The pupils have supported their peers in Critchill with community projects and understanding the role of the police in the community. The PCSO's commented on how well the pupils represented themselves and Oakfield Academy. That they were mature, articulate and an enormous support throughout the project.

The pupils have developed new skills and have been an incredible support to both the police and Critchill.

A huge thank you to Mrs Foulger who has been a great help with the project.
