PERFORMING ARTS DEPARTMENT

PERIPATETIC MUSIC NEWS

Do you want to learn how to play a musical instrument?

At Oakfield Academy we have amazing visiting music 'peripatetic' teachers who currently offer lessons to students of all ages in woodwind, strings and percussion but we are looking to expand our repertoire in the New Year to include SINGING lessons too (more details below). We currently have spaces available in the following instruments:

- guitar, drums, violin, clarinet, flute, saxophone, ukulele, piano (singing after Christmas). This is what some of our pupils say about their peri music lessons:-

"I learn the piano on Fridays and it's really fun. I get taught by Jason Hatton and he's a good piano teacher.....put your heart into it and you'll be AMAZING" Florencio Globio Yr 7

"Don't be scared, it may take some time to learn the violin but you will get there"

Charlotte Loaring-Barr Yr 7

"I have recently switched from violin to drum lessons. My lessons are very fun and enjoyable and I can't wait for Tuesday mornings. My teacher is amazing and helps me focus in the lesson. I would encourage other people to join lessons, whether it's drums or any other instrument. Learning to play an instrument teaches you very important life lessons.....I would highly recommend it" Kizzi Tomkins Yr7

"School peri music lessons are great because they fit in with your day very well. The teachers are good and let you go at your own pace and just help you as you go along. I have done many different types of lessons but drums is my favourite.....I have joined a band with some of my friends which is really fun and I wouldn't be able to do it without my drum lessons.."

Sol Hyde Yr7

"I started guitar lessons last year because I was bored at home.....that's why you should pick up an instrument, when you're bored it can help. If you haven't tried having guitar lessons before I recommend that you give it a go at Oakfield. It's the best experience EVER!" Felix MacDonald Yr7

For more information about peri music lessons please contact Oakfield Academy or ask at Reception for An application form.
