Newsletter #12 – Spring Term

B&Q Donation

Thank you so much to B&Q in Kendal for very kindly donating nearly £400 worth of plants, planters, seeds and tools to school! All our pupils have loved planting the plants and growing the seeds in our green house. The majority of the pots have gone into the outside areas outside Class Two and Three.

If any members of our school community have any unused plant pots that they no longer need, we would really appreciate having more in school.

Prize Winners

Well done to all who entered the World Book Day competition to win a chance to meet Louie Stowell, the author of the Loki series. We didn't win first place but we have won copies of the series for school. Our top two entries also won a copy of the collection for themselves!

Tom Palmer visit – 21st May

On 21st May award winning author, Tom Palmer, will be visiting school. He will be talking to Class 3 & Class 4 about his latest book "Angel of Grasmere". On the day, Tom will also be signing copies of his new book (and any others from his back catalogue) for anyone who has purchased these in advance. If you would like to buy a copy of his book, please find an order form attached to this email with details of how to order and there's also a discount code available.

Farm Toy Request

Mrs Parsons and Mrs Hadwin in Class Two would really appreciate any small world farm animals or tractors that your child no longer plays with. If you have any, please bring them into school and pass them to any member of staff.

National Online Safety

This week's National Online Safety update is about energy drinks. The guide explains the impact energy drinks can have on a child.
