Behaviour Policy

1. Introduction

Endeavour Learning Trust believes that all members of our communities have the right to a safe and positive educational environment where they can learn and thrive free from disruption, violence, discrimination, bullying and abuse. Every member of our Trust has a responsibility to practice in a way which facilitates this, in line with our Trust values:

Belonging, People Centred, Togetherness, Transformational, Individuality

Endeavour Learning Trust believes:

- We must provide a safe environment for all pupils based on a sense of connection and belonging where they can learn and fulfil their unique potential.
- All behaviour is communication or indicator of need. It is our role to support children in understanding their emotions and needs teaching them effective self-regulation strategies enabling them to communicate, and therefore, behave appropriately.
- It is the job of all adults working for and representing the Trust to model appropriate behaviour at all times, responding to all pupils with praise or challenge.
- Mistakes are part of the learning process, and we recognise that all our students are at various stages of their development. We review and acknowledge, ensuring all adults are doing everything we can to ensure pupil's needs are met. All staff ensure consistent application of this policy, keeping clear boundaries and maintaining high expectations, thus promoting trusting and mutually respectful relationships.
- We must ensure fair treatment for all, considering individual needs and fulfilling our responsibilities under the Equality Act.
- In listening to and collaborating with pupils and families as partners in their education and to remove any barriers to learning.

Where there is an incident of behaviour that breaches the high standards expected by all schools, pupils will be supported through education, reasonable and proportionate consequences, alongside exploration of the pupil's circumstances, experiences and needs both within and outside of school and any underlying cause, including additional needs.

All our schools will ensure:

- Culture, ethos and environment – the health and wellbeing of pupils and staff is promoted through the relationships, practice and examples set by staff, including leadership practice, policies, values and attitudes, alongside the social and physical environment
- Teaching – the curriculum is used to develop pupils' knowledge about health and wellbeing

Behaviour Policy

- Community engagement – schools proactively engages with parents, outside agencies and the wider community to promote consistent support for pupils' health and wellbeing

Endeavour Learning Trust acknowledges the impact that adversity, past/recent/current trauma, including abuse, neglect and exploitation, can have on a pupil's development and presentation, including their wellbeing and behaviour. All staff are aware that behaviour can be an indicator that something isn't right for a pupil and will respond to all incidents with curiosity to explore the pupil's lived experience with the underpinning principle of safeguarding and wellbeing as paramount.

Endeavour Learning Trust served pupils spanning across educational phases from EYFS up to sixth form. Each individual school has the responsibility to provide developmentally appropriate procedures for their setting in line with this policy, DfE guidance and relevant legislation, attached as an appendix to this policy.

Definitions

For the purposes of this policy, The Trust defines "serious unacceptable behaviour" as any behaviour which may cause harm to oneself or others, damage school environment, damage the reputation of the school within the wider community, and/or any illegal behaviour. This will include, but is not limited to, the following:

- Discrimination – not giving equal respect to an individual on the basis of age, disability, gender identity, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion or belief, sex, and sexual orientation
- Harassment – behaviour towards others which is unwanted, offensive and affects the dignity of the individual or group of individuals

- Possession of banned items
- Truancy and running away from school
- Refusing to comply with disciplinary sanctions
- Theft
- Verbal abuse, including swearing, racist remarks and threatening language
- Fighting and aggression
- Persistent disruptive behaviour
- Extreme behaviour, such as violence and serious damage to property
- Any behaviour that threatens safety or presents a serious danger

Behaviour Policy

- Any behaviour that seriously inhibits the learning of pupils

This includes behaviours both online and offline.

4. Responding to behaviour: Recognition and consequences

Endeavour Learning Trust believes in working preventatively, embedding and regularly communicating clear and consistent expectations and routines, creating a sense of safety, stability and predictability.

We will support our pupils through a combination of education, recognition, consequences and curious exploration of a pupil's live experience and any underlying cause or need.

We will communicate with pupils and families about their own/their child/ren's progress and development, including celebration not only of their achievements but also for their effort, as we recognise every pupil has a unique learning journey which we aim to support through recognition of their individuality. We believe that 'what you draw attention to, you get more of' and positive reinforcement through praise and rewards supports pupils in developing confidence and self-esteem which contribute to effective communication and self-regulation.

Instances of unacceptable behaviour will be taken seriously with a focus on the safety and welfare of all. Staff will respond promptly, predictably and with confidence to maintain a calm, safe learning environment. Staff will consider afterwards how to prevent such behaviour from recurring.

When a pupil disrupts learning or behaves inappropriately within the school, there are consequences for those actions. There are many possible consequences to an incident, and schools ensure that the consequence relates very much to the specifics of the incident. Consequences can include sanctions. Consequences should not be considered in opposition to recognition, but rather as two complementary strands of intervention that support children in learning about and understanding the impact of their behaviour on themselves and others, provide an opportunity to resolve the incident and develop new skills to communicate and therefore behave appropriately.

Sanctions are lawful if they are reasonable in the circumstances, proportionate to the circumstances and any special circumstances, such as age, SEND or religious requirements, have been considered.

For sanctions to be lawful, all schools will ensure that:

- The decision to sanction a pupil is made by a paid member of school staff (but not one who the headteacher has decided should not do so) or an unpaid member of staff authorised by the headteacher;
- The decision to sanction the pupil and the sanction itself are made on the school premises or while the pupil is under the lawful charge of the member of staff;
- It does not breach any other legislation (for example in respect of equality, special educational needs and human rights) and it is reasonable in all the circumstances.

Behaviour Policy

All schools will ensure that sanctions do not compromise a pupil's safety.

A pupil's behaviour online and via media (e.g. by text message or phone call), including outside of school hours, will be considered within our policies whenever that behaviour could impact on members of our Trust communities or the reputation of the school/ Trust itself.

All known and suspected criminal behaviour will be reported to the police without delay. Staff will refer to the NPCC guidance 'When to Call the Police: Guidance for Schools and Colleges'.

Schools should consider whether the pupil's behaviour gives cause to suspect that they are suffering, or is likely to suffer, harm. Where this may be the case, as set out in Part 1 of Keeping children safe in education, school staff should follow the school's child protection policy and speak to the designated safeguarding lead (or deputy). They will consider if pastoral support, an early help intervention or a referral to children's social care is appropriate.

Incidents of behaviour will be recorded using the Trust's systems to help identify pupils whose behaviour may indicate unidentified underlying causes.

It is the responsibility of each individual school to set out a clear system of possible mechanisms for recognition and consequence, in line with guidance and this policy, communicate it to all staff, pupils and families, and ensure that it is upheld on a day to day basis.

Removal from classrooms

Removal from the classroom is considered a serious sanction and only used when necessary to restore order and calm following unreasonable levels of disruption and to enable pupils who have been removed to continue to be educated in a managed environment. Removal from the classroom will only be used once classroom behaviour strategies/ individual behaviour plans have been attempted or if the behaviour is extreme enough to warrant immediate removal.

The use of removal should allow for continuation of the pupil's education in a supervised setting. The continuous education provided may differ to the mainstream curriculum but should still be meaningful for the pupil.

Removal can be used for the following reasons:

- a) to maintain the safety of all pupils and to restore stability following an unreasonably high level of disruption;
- b) to enable pupils that have caused disruption to be taken to a place where education can be continued in a managed environment;
- c) to allow the pupil to regain calm in a safe space.

Behaviour Policy

Removal should be distinguished from the use of separation spaces (sometimes known as sensory or nurture rooms) for non-disciplinary reasons. For instance, where a pupil is taken out of the classroom to regulate his or her emotions because of identified sensory overload as part of a planned response.

Schools will inform parents the same day when a removal has taken place. For children with a social worker and looked after children, contact will be made to inform the social worker of every instance of removal from class and where applicable, the Head of the Virtual School for the authority caring for the child.

Detentions

DfE guidance defines a detention as ‘... a commonly used sanction, often used as a deterrent to future misbehaviour. It is typically a short period where the student is required to remain under supervision of school staff when their peers have been allowed to go home or to a break.’

In our Trust, detentions and the specifics of their use will be individual to each school

In all cases, a detention incorporates the following:

- an element of restoration, guidance and / or support as relevant to the situation
- if taking place at lunch or break, sufficient time to eat, drink and use the toilet
- if taking place out of school hours, consideration of any impact on the pupil’s safety and wellbeing
- Safe travel to and from school
- known caring responsibilities in the home
- conflict with medical appointments, including mental health appointments
- if the arrangement is in any way likely to put the pupil at increased risk of harm

Use of detention outside of the normal school day is lawful if safety considerations have been made, the pupil is under 18, the Headteacher has clearly communicated to families that this form of sanction may be used, and it is on one of the following days:

- any school day on which the student does not have permission to be absent
- weekends during term time (not including a weekend that directly precedes or follows a school holiday)
- non-teaching days i.e. training days, but not public holidays; the day preceding the first day of term; during a half term; or after the last school day of the term

5. Mobile phones

Behaviour Policy

All our schools prohibit the use of mobile phones during school hours, unless they are required for an identified purpose, e.g. needed for a medical condition, required for caring responsibilities, or to provide information to staff in relation to online incidents.

Pupils who bring mobile phones to school for use whilst travelling to and from school must ensure they are switched off and stored safely and securely during school hours.

6. Prohibited items, searching pupils and confiscation

Searching can play a critical role in ensuring that schools are safe environments for all pupils and staff. It is a vital measure to safeguard and promote staff and pupil welfare, and to maintain high standards of behaviour through which pupils can learn and thrive.

Headteachers and staff they authorise have a statutory power to search a pupil or their possessions where they have reasonable grounds to suspect that the pupil may have a prohibited item listed below or any other item that the school rules identify as an item which may be searched for.

The list of prohibited items is:

- knives and weapons
- alcohol
- illegal drugs
- stolen items
- any article that the member of staff reasonably suspects has been, or is likely to be used to commit an offence
- to cause personal injury to, or damage to property of; any person (including the pupil)
- an article specified in The School Regulations 2012
- tobacco and cigarette papers
- fireworks
- pornographic images

The school will also identify the following as prohibited items which may be searched for by authorised staff without consent if necessary:

- E-cigarettes/vapes
- Electronic devices – including where there are concerns over digital content
- Lighters

Being in possession of a prohibited item may mean that the pupil is involved, or at risk of being involved, in criminal behaviour including child exploitation. A search may play a vital role in identifying pupils who may benefit from early help or a referral to the local authority Children's Social Care services.

Behaviour Policy

All searches must be carried out by at least two members of staff, at least who is of the same gender as the pupil being searched, and with the prior knowledge and agreement of the Senior Leadership Team.

The person conducting the search must not require the pupil to remove any clothing other than outer clothing. 'Outer clothing' means any item of clothing that is not worn wholly next to the skin or immediately over a garment that is being worn as underwear, including hats, shoes, boots or scarves.

Parents should always be informed of any search for a prohibited item listed in this policy that has taken place, and the outcome of the search as soon as is practicable. A member of staff should inform the parents of what, if anything, has been confiscated and the resulting action the school has taken, including any sanctions applied.

All searches will be recorded using school's recording systems in line with DfE guidance.

7. Child on child sexual abuse/violence –

The Trust will refer to the specific guidance in Keeping Children Safe in Education Part five: Child on Child Sexual Violence and Sexual Harassment.

Child on child abuse, including sexual violence and harassment, as defined above, will not be tolerated within the Trust or any of its schools. Pupils will be taught about how to raise concerns and make a report, including concerns about their friends or peers, and how a report will be handled. Reports of upskirting and sexual harassment will be managed by school in line with the Behaviour Policy and statutory guidance.

All staff will be aware that child-on-child abuse can occur between pupils of any age and gender, both inside and outside of school, as well as online. All staff will be aware of the indicators of child-on-child abuse, how to identify it, and how to respond to reports. All staff will also recognise that even if no cases have been reported, this is not an indicator that child-on-child abuse is not occurring. All staff will speak to the DSL if they have any concerns about child-on-child abuse.

All staff will understand the importance of challenging inappropriate behaviour between peers and will not tolerate abuse as "banter" or "part of growing up".

The procedures for managing instances of child-on-child abuse is outlined in the Behaviour Policy. Staff will follow these procedures, as well as the procedures outlined in the school's Anti-Bullying Policy, where relevant.

Child-on-child abuse can be manifested in many different ways, including:

- Bullying, including cyberbullying and prejudice-based or discriminatory bullying.
- Abuse in intimate personal relationships between peers.
- Physical abuse – this may include an online element which facilitates, threatens and/or encourages physical abuse.

Behaviour Policy

- Sexual violence – this may include an online element which facilitates, threatens and/or encourages sexual violence.
- Sexual harassment, including online sexual harassment, which may be standalone or part of a broader pattern of abuse.
- Causing someone to engage in sexual activity without consent.
- The consensual and non-consensual sharing of nude and semi-nude images and/or videos.
- Upskirting.
- Initiation and hazing-type violence and rituals, which can include activities involving harassment, abuse or humiliation used as a way of initiating a person into a group, and may also include an online element.

All staff will be clear as to the school's policy and procedures regarding child-on-child abuse and the role they have to play in preventing it and responding where they believe a child may be at risk from it.

All staff will be made aware of the heightened vulnerability of pupils with SEND who, evidence suggests, are more likely to be abused than their peers. Staff will not assume that possible indicators of abuse relate to the pupil's SEND and will always explore indicators further.

All staff will be made aware of the heightened vulnerability of LGBTQ+ pupils who, evidence suggests, are also more likely to be targeted by their peers. In some cases, pupils who are perceived to be LGBTQ+, regardless of whether they are LGBTQ+, can be just as vulnerable to abuse as LGBTQ+ pupils. The school's response to sexual violence and sexual harassment between pupils of the same sex will be equally as robust as it is for incidents between children of the opposite sex.

The curriculum will ensure that pupils of all ages are taught about and understand the concept of consent and its importance in an age-appropriate way.

Following a report of child-on-child sexual harassment, assault, violence or harmful sexual behaviour, the Designated Safeguarding Lead (or deputy) will consider the following:

- the wishes of the child who has been harmed in terms of how they want to proceed
- the nature of the reported incident
- the ages of the children involved
- the development stages of the children involved
- any power imbalance between the children
- is the incident a one-off or a sustained pattern of abuse
- are there ongoing risks to either the child who has been harmed or the child who has harmed, other children, school or college staff
- contextual safeguarding issues.
- Refer to guidance in Keeping Children Safe in Education Part 5.

Behaviour Policy

Each report will be addressed on a case-by-case basis with the DSL considering all information available, and where required will seek advice from the Trust's Head of Safeguarding and Welfare, the Local Authority School Safeguarding Service, Multi-Agency Safeguarding Hub or police, and consult AIM Checklists (www.aimproject.org) to help assess the level of behaviour in line with pupils stages of development.

The DSL will decide on an appropriate course of action. This will be one of the four options below:

1. Manage internally. In some cases of sexual harassment, for example, one-off incidents, school may decide that it would be appropriate to handle the incident internally, perhaps through utilising sanctions outlined in this behaviour policy and by providing pastoral support.
2. Early Help. Early help can be particularly useful to address non-violent Harmful Sexual Behaviour and may prevent escalation of sexual violence.
3. Referrals to local authority pupils' social care. Where a child has been harmed, is at risk of harm, or is in immediate danger, school will make a referral to local authority pupils social care.
4. Reporting to the police. Where a report of rape, assault by penetration or sexual assault is made, the starting point is that this should be passed on to the police. Whilst the age of criminal responsibility is ten, if the alleged perpetrator(s) is under ten, the starting principle of reporting to the police remains.

All schools will not wait for the outcome (or even the start) of a local authority Children's Social Care investigation before implementing appropriate measures to protect the child that may have been harmed and the child who may have harmed. Immediate actions/sanctions will be implemented when an incident is reported. This will allow schools to gather information to be able to inform any necessary further actions and sanctions. All schools will ensure that there are appropriate risk management plans in place.

Immediate actions might include the following, but not exclusively:

- Removal from circulation to an internal learning space away from other pupils to ensure the pupil who may have harmed is appropriately supervised and supported whilst further investigation takes place.
- Suspension

Decision on the course of action may change once full information is obtained and on advice from external agencies, where they are involved.

All schools will provide ongoing support for the child who has been harmed and the child who has harmed through discussion with the pupils, families and any external agencies involved, where requested and deemed to be appropriate.

DSLs in schools will be supported by the Head of Safeguarding and Welfare who is trained to use AIM checklists and Risk Assessment Management Plans to ensure an appropriate assessment of behaviour is completed, including considering age and developmental stage of the child/ren involved.

All cases that are assessed using the AIM Assessment and categorised as abusive/violent (including all reports of rape), will be referred to the police and Children's Social Care. School will always aim to be transparent and share information with families, however cases of child on child abuse can be complex and where external agency input is felt necessary, advice will be sought on what information can be shared by school. This may mean that families are not immediately informed where a concern has been reported.

Where required, risk assessments will be written, informed by the voice of the children involved, consulted on with parents and any agencies involved, shared on a need to know basis with relevant staff and kept under review as a minimum, termly.

The DSL will work closely with other agencies where needed and ensure ongoing multi-agency work to support all parties involved.

Pupils and families can seek advice from Lucy Faithful Foundation for concerns around any type of sexual abuse, including child on child abuse.

8. Reasonable force

The use of reasonable force and other restrictive interventions can have a significant impact on the pupils, staff members and parents involved, as well as the wider classroom. However, there are times when the use of reasonable force and other restrictive interventions will be lawful; for example, to keep individuals and the wider school community safe. All members of school staff have a legal power to use reasonable force in certain circumstances. This includes:

- Preventing a pupil from harming themselves
- Preventing harm being caused to others
- Significant damage to property
- Significant and prolonged disruption to the learning environment

All schools will ensure a whole school approach that minimises the need for use of reasonable force and/or restrictive interventions. This will include:

- Consideration of how the school and classroom environment can support all pupils to achieve and thrive
- Sharing best practice for whole-class behaviour management, and for managing communal spaces such as corridors and playgrounds
- Training staff in effective communication strategies, such as using appropriate tone of voice and empathy to aid de-escalation

Behaviour Policy

- Development of working staff-pupil relationships and trust
- Recording and analysing data on the use of reasonable force and other restrictive interventions to inform improvement planning.

Where pupils require an individual approach to supporting them with behaviour, school will:

- Work closely with families and external agencies, where consent to do so, to identify and support children's individual needs
- Give pupils time, space and strategies to calm down before their behaviour escalates
- Implement brain-based de-escalation strategies
- Develop strategies to support individual pupils based on their identified needs, including the development of bespoke Inclusion Plans

Where a pupil has a disability, schools have a legal obligation under the Equality Act 2010 to support pupils with reasonable adjustments, making sure they can benefit from what the school offers in the same way as a pupil who is not disabled.

The decision on whether it is reasonable to use force and/or other restrictive interventions depends on the individual circumstances of each situation. In assessing whether force and/or other restrictive interventions are reasonable in a situation, the member of staff should use their professional judgement and consider:

- Is it necessary?

Staff should consider all alternative ways to manage the situation and if the use of reasonable force/restrictive interventions will improve or escalate the situation.

- Is it proportionate?

Staff should use the least amount of force or least restrictive intervention necessary for the least amount of time required to reduce the relevant risks.

- Has the pupil's welfare been considered?

Staff should consider the impact on the pupil's overall welfare, balanced against any actions taken. For example, pupils who have experienced an adverse life event, with diagnosed or undiagnosed medical conditions or sensory impairments, past trauma or neglect, communication difficulties, or other needs, may find the use of reasonable force and other restrictive interventions particularly distressing.

Every incident involving the use of reasonable force and/or other restrictive intervention, is a significant incident. After every incident, schools will evaluate what happened to understand why reasonable force and/or other restrictive interventions were used, the impact on pupils and staff, any patterns and trends, and how the use of reasonable force and other restrictive interventions might be avoided in future. This will include reviewing the pupil's voice and account of the incident and, consideration of an individualised approach to supporting a pupil's behaviour, including advice from external agencies.

Behaviour Policy

School will consider what post-incident support is required by the pupil, family and staff member/s involved in the incidents. The pupil's voice, wishes and feelings and account of the incident will be sought through appropriate communication methods in line with their developmental stage and individual needs.

All staff involved in the incident will be supported through a de-brief meeting to check their wellbeing.

There is a legal duty for schools to record all incidents where reasonable force has been used. The Trust will ensure that all schools will record all incidents where reasonable force and/or restrictive interventions, in line with recommended best practice. Incidents will be recorded on CPOMS using the custom form to ensure a thorough, detailed and accurate record. This includes the pupil's voice and their account of the incident. Incidents will be recorded as soon as is practicably possible following the incident, but must be before the end of the school day. The Head of Safeguarding and Welfare and the Director of SEND will be alerted to every recorded incident of use of reasonable force/restrictive interventions to support schools in developing their practice and reviewing pupil's needs.

Families will be verbally informed the same day the incident occurred. This may be by phone or face to face in a meeting. Email/written communication is not acceptable.

Data on use of reasonable force and restrictive interventions will be collated and analysis by school for patterns. Where repeated incidents are occurring, reasons for this should be explored by school leaders with a view to reducing these where possible, reviewing the whole school approach to behaviour, including additional training and agency advice and the individual needs of the pupil/s.

Data on use of reasonable force/restrictive interventions will be reported to Local Academy Councils and Trustees regularly.

9. Suspension and permanent exclusion

All our schools work tremendously hard to avoid suspension and permanent exclusion but, at times, it can be necessary to address a more serious behaviour matter when considering the safety of the school community. All our schools will comply with the law and communicate with families as clearly as possible. Further information can be found in the Suspension and Permanent Exclusion Policy.
