

Online Safety

As part of our Computing and digital literacy curriculum we regularly teach our children how to stay safe and protect themselves online.

With the digital world evolving so rapidly, particularly with mobile technology and social media, it is important parents and carers understand how to keep their children safe online.

Our school website has the following links for you for advice on keeping your children safe online and some sections for you to share at home with your children.

Please have a look at them. They are provided by the National Crime Agency and the NSPCC so are reliable and regularly updated.
