Introduction

At Orton CE Primary School we understand that today's children and young people are growing up in an increasingly complex world and living their lives seamlessly on and offline. This presents many positive and exciting opportunities, but also challenges and risks. In this environment, children and young people need to know how to be safe and healthy and also how to manage their academic, personal and social lives in a positive way. As a result of this Relationship Education is now compulsory in all primary schools in England as is Health Education.

This policy outlines Orton CE Primary School's commitment to provide effective RSHE for all pupils. It has been written with regard to the Department of Education's RSHE guidance 2019, and other relevant guidance documents and statutory requirements. The RSHE teaching in this school contributes to our statutory duty to safeguard children and prepare them for the responsibilities and experiences of adult life. RSHE is taught in an age-appropriate manner throughout the school.

What is RSHE?

Relationships, Sex and Health Education (RSHE) is lifelong learning about physical, moral and emotional development.

We want to be able to provide children and young people with key building blocks of being physically and mentally healthy, understanding relationships, including online contact and good digital wellbeing.

Pupils will learn about the benefits and importance of having hobbies and interests, daily exercise, good nutrition and sufficient sleep, we also aim to give pupils the language and knowledge to understand the normal range of emotions that everyone experiences.

They will also cover healthy relationships, different families, respect, love and care, reproduction, puberty, hygiene, the body, how a baby is made and sexuality. There is often concern that RSHE will encourage sexual experimentation however, evidence shows that those who receive effective RSHE at school are more likely to delay first sexual activity.

In the primary school we are building the foundations of skills and knowledge that will be developed further at secondary level.

Through delivery of RSHE we aim to give children the information they need to make good decisions about their own health and wellbeing, to recognise issues in themselves and others, and to seek support as early as possible when issues arise.

Policy Aims

At Orton CE Primary School, our key aim in providing RSHE throughout the school is to safeguard our pupils. During their time at this school, children will learn key knowledge and skills to help keep them safe and embrace the challenges of creating a happy and successful adult life. RSHE is taught in the context of relationships and promotes self-esteem and emotional health and wellbeing to help children and young people to form healthy, meaningful relationships, based on respect for themselves and for others.

We believe in working in partnership with parents and carers and understand the importance of sharing our RSHE programme with families so that they can also support their children's physical, moral, mental wellbeing and emotional development at home.

Key Objectives

The key objectives of our RSHE programme are:

- ❖ To provide the knowledge and information to which all pupils are entitled;
- ❖ To clarify/reinforce existing knowledge;
- ❖ To raise pupils' self-esteem and confidence, especially in their relationships with others;

- ❖ To understand the importance of safe and stable relationships that promote respect, love and care;
- ❖ To help pupils develop skills (language, decision making, choice, assertiveness, resilience) and make the most of their abilities;
- ❖ To provide the confidence to be participating members of society and to value themselves and others;
- ❖ To help gain access to information and support;
- ❖ To develop skills for a healthier safer lifestyle;
- ❖ To develop and use communication skills and assertiveness skills to cope with the influences of their peers and the media;
- ❖ To develop resilience and positivity when responding to influences that may affect body image;
- ❖ To reinforce and develop pupils understanding of how to stay safe online;
- ❖ To respect and care for their bodies;
- ❖ To be prepared for puberty and adulthood;
- ❖ To respond to the needs of pupils and parents/carers by providing accurate knowledge of sexual matters at a level suitable to children's age and understanding and to dispel myths and rumour;
- ❖ To foster an understanding and acceptance that relationships can be formed in diverse and varied ways, for example; people of the same gender.

Inclusion and Support

RSHE will be accessible to all pupils regardless of age, sex, race, disability, religion or belief, gender or sexual orientation. We will ensure that issues such as sexism, misogyny, and homophobia and gender stereotypes are discussed in an age appropriate way and will take positive action to build a culture where these are not tolerated and any occurrences are identified and tackled.

RSHE can also be particularly important for pupils with social, emotional and mental health needs or learning disabilities as they are more vulnerable to exploitation and bullying, we will ensure that teaching will be tailored to meet the specific needs of pupils to ensure learning outcomes are met, this will also be discussed parents and carers if necessary.

As with all teaching within school, we will ensure that information taught is sensitive, age-appropriate, and developmentally appropriate and delivered within reference to the law.

As a Church of England school, we will ensure that the teaching of RSHE is delivered in line with our key Christian values.

The Carlisle Diocese states:

'The (Government) Guidance is perfectly compatible with the Church of England's Vision for Education with Jesus' promise of "life in all its fullness" at its heart.'

The Church of England Education Office states:

'Everyone will be treated with dignity as all people are made in the image of God and loved equally by God. All pupils have a right to an education which enables them to flourish and is set in a learning community where differences of lifestyle and opinion (within that which is permissible under UK law) are treated with dignity and respect; bullying of all kinds is eliminated; and where they are free to be themselves and fulfil their potential without fear.'

At Orton CE Primary School, we will deliver RSHE in a factual, non-judgmental way ensuring that those teaching RSHE lessons provide a balanced approach that acknowledges the wealth of views and opinions and teaches tolerance.

A range of different families and relationships will be explored within RSHE. All children whatever their developing sexuality or family background need to feel that RSHE is relevant to them and sensitive to their needs.

Delivery of the RSHE Programme

Everyone involved in the teaching of RSHE will follow the school policy. Where RSHE is taught within the curriculum, it will usually be delivered in class groups and therefore usually within a mixed gender class.

Teachers or teaching assistants will always be present during sessions delivered by visiting speakers and the school staff remain responsible for the delivery of the RSHE curriculum.

The personal beliefs and attitudes of teachers and teaching assistants will not influence the teaching of RSHE. A balanced and non-judgmental approach will be taken. Teachers, teaching assistants and all those contributing to RSHE will work to the agreed values within this policy.

The Curriculum

RSHE will be taught in each year group throughout the school. The curriculum that is to be delivered is progressive, building the children's knowledge, understanding and skills year on year in EYFS, KS1 and 2.

At Orton CE Primary School, we use online teaching resources from Coram Life Education called SCARF (which stands for Safety, Caring, Achievement, Resilience and Friendship) that are mapped to the PSHE Association programmes of study and the government's Relationships and Health Education curriculum requirements. It also includes elements of Sex Education that we feel are important to support children's wellbeing and safety.

In Key Stages 1 and 2, the SCARF curriculum is followed throughout the year and forms the basis of teaching and learning. In EYFS, the SCARF curriculum is used a resource to ensure children make progress towards the Early Learning Goals associated with RSHE, but is not used as the basis of all teaching and learning.

The curriculum may also be delivered through opportunities that are provided beyond the curriculum such as, whole school RSHE focussed sessions/days, visits from outside experts (e.g. the Life Education Bus sessions), charity events, visits from members of the community etc...

Assemblies may also be periodically used to address the whole school on major health issues, for example awareness of and countering cyber-bullying.

There will be cross curriculum learning from many other subjects such as our physical activity programme and science curriculum.

The themes that make up the framework for RSHE include:

Families and people that care for me
Respectful relationships
Being safe
Internet safety and harm
Healthy eating
Health and prevention
Changing adolescent body

Caring friendships
Online relationships
Mental wellbeing
Physical health and fitness
Drugs alcohol and tobacco
Basic first aid

More details on the lesson content for each year group see RSHE Whole Curriculum Overview.

Questions Raised by Pupils

Establishing a safe, open and positive learning environment, built on trusting relationships between all members of the class is vital to successful and effective teaching and learning within this subject.

A set of ground rules is established prior to the unit of work so that teachers, teaching assistants and pupils are working within a safe environment where they will not feel embarrassed or anxious during discussions. Questions raised by children should be answered honestly and with a degree of detail appropriate to the child's age and stage of development.

Teachers and teaching assistants will use their professional skill and discretion before answering questions and, if necessary, will deal with questions on an individual basis after the lesson. Where pupil's questions require a response that goes beyond the prescribed programme of study for the year group, they are encouraged to ask the question at home. Where appropriate, teachers will discuss a child's concerns with the child's parents.

Teachers and teaching assistants are aware that effective RSHE, which brings an understanding of what is and is not acceptable in a relationship, can lead to the disclosure of a safeguarding issue. The usual standards of confidentiality between child and member of staff will be observed, except where a child's question might suggest the possibility of abuse. In these circumstances, the Designated Safeguarding Lead should be informed.

No adult should ever promise confidentiality to a child, as per the school's Safeguarding Policy.

Staff Training

If a staff member has additional learning and development needs these will be supported either through mentoring from a more experienced staff member in school, team-teaching, observations, or attendance at an internal or external training event.

Right to be excused from sex education

We believe that RSHE should be a partnership with parents and carers. Parents will be routinely consulted and informed about RSHE through the school prospectus and letters to explain when RSHE will take place in different year groups.

Parents have the right to request that their child be withdrawn from some or all of the sex education that is delivered as part of the statutory RSHE, but is not part of the statutory Science curriculum. However, Relationship Education and Health Education is compulsory for all pupils receiving primary education therefore there is no right to withdraw from Relationship or Health Education.

Before granting any such request, the head teacher will discuss the request with parents and, as appropriate, with the child to ensure that their wishes are understood and to clarify the nature and purpose of the curriculum. The head teacher will also discuss with parents the benefits of receiving this important education and any detrimental effects that withdrawal might have on the child. This could include any social and emotional effects of being excluded, as well as the likelihood of the child hearing their peers' version of what was said in class, rather than what was directly said by the teacher.

Head teachers will automatically grant a request to withdraw a pupil from any sex education delivered in primary school, other than what has to be covered as part of the science curriculum.

Review, Assessment and Evaluation

Monitoring of the RSHE Policy is the responsibility of the head teacher, named governor and RSHE leader.

The effectiveness of the RSHE programme will be evaluated by assessing children's learning and implementing changes if required.

The school will also assess and evaluate the effectiveness of the aims, content and methods in promoting pupils learning by listening to the feedback from children, parents and carers.

This policy document is available to view on the school web site.

Equal Opportunities

The RSHE programme will be delivered in accordance with the school's Equality Scheme and the Equality Act (2010).

Consequently, implicit in the school's curriculum, pupils will learn from an early age that there are many different types of 'family'. In KS2, pupils will be taught that the term 'relationship' may refer to two people of the same or different: gender, ethnicity, religion/belief, or ability/disability. The promotion of any type of relationship shall not occur.

Where appropriate, pupils will be given opportunities to discuss specific issues related to puberty in single sex groups. Resources and methods of teaching will be in line with the strategies set out in the policies.
