

Giant Class Update:

For children's Mental Health Week Giant class were very fortunate to have someone from Place 2 Be come in and do a lovely session with us.

We read the story called 'The Invisible String by Patrice Karst.' It was story all about how we feel and stay connected to those around us that we love. Essentially we are attached to them via an invisible string that keeps us bonded. The children then went on to create posters where a heart represented them and the strings attached them to the things they loved. Please have a look below at our 'Invisible String Posters'.
