

PARKLANDS BULLETIN 12 - 16 September 2022

Headteacher's Message

Dear parents, carers and students,

I hope you have all had a lovely, relaxing summer. It has been a fantastic first week back in school, seeing our students again, many of whom have shot up over the course of the school holidays! Our new intake have made an exceptionally positive impression and it has been wonderful to see so many of our older students taking the time to get to the know our new Year 7s and help them when they don't know where they're going in our very large school.

The Queen

We are saddened to hear of the passing of her Royal Highness Queen Elizabeth. Our thoughts are with King Charles and his family. Queen Elizabeth was a truly inspirational figure and she will be sorely missed by the Parklands community.

Today we devoted Form Time today to discussing the Queen, her impact on our country and in the world, and how she was an inspirational female leader worldwide. We are living through a significant historic event, and it is only right that we mark this sad occasion in school. Should there be a Bank Holiday for the Queen's funeral, I will let you know as soon as possible. If children and young people are upset, Minded is a source of information to support children and young people to manage death and loss. You can also visit the Palace's website for more information about the mourning period: www.royal.uk.

GCSE examination success

I am absolutely delighted with the outstanding GCSE results of last year's Year 11s. They achieved far above our expectations and their results look to be the best in our school's history. This makes me incredibly proud of our school but, above all, I am proud of all our staff here who challenged and supported the students to achieve such excellence. I want you all to be confident in the skills, ability and talent of Parklands teachers and support staff who work tirelessly to push our students to achieve their best academically. You do not have to attend a selective school, a grammar or private school to achieve excellence: as long as you work with us and have a positive mindset, students at Parklands can excel and achieve beyond their wildest expectations!

School transport

We have been liaising extensively this week with the Local Authority transport department due to the changes to school transport. Mr Galbraith has provided a brief update on page 3 for you. The number 2 service has been arriving late, so we have raised this and asked if they could use our bus bays from next week (rather than go down Southport Road to Tesco and turn around on the roundabout). Hopefully this will ensure pupils arrive on time for form. No pupil on this service has been marked late this week as this is clearly not their fault. We will continue to monitor the situation and update if necessary.

PARKLANDS BULLETIN 12 - 16 September 2022

Year 7 Messages

Our new Year 7s will be having their very first Respect day next Tuesday. Last year, we spent a considerable amount of time in the Secure programme looking at equalities. So that we are to build on this in the coming year, we would like to introduce our new intake to some of the key concepts their form members worked on last year. Sessions will include, what is Secure and why do we do it?, Anti-racism, Anti-sexism and disability awareness. The whole day is designed to help our new pupils understand the level of respect they are expected to have for each other in their time here with us and should be an enjoyable start to their Secure programme.

If your child is in year 8, 9 or 10, confidently speaks, reads and writes another language and you would like them to be entered for a GCSE in it this summer, please send an email to jdonohue@parklandsacademy.co.uk stating your child's name, year group and language. We have officially started off another school year which I know will be a phenomenal year for everyone. This week we welcomed our brand new year 7s to our wonderful school and I hope they have enjoyed it so far and continue to settle in well. I struggled when I first started at Parklands but as our school is so supportive in the transition to high school, I am sure that your child will find themselves enjoying their independence as they progress forwards in their education and personal development.

Also, we welcomed year 11, their parents and carers on Wednesday night to discuss the huge year that we have - our GCSE year. It was beneficial to show how school will be supportive and helpful as we take on a massive step into our future next year.

Last night, we all received some deeply sad news that Her Majesty The Queen had passed away at Balmoral Castle. She was a dignified monarch and our thoughts and prayers are with everyone at this sad and sombre time.

I hope this year will be one of the best and let's continue to be our better selves as we grow and learn.

One of your head students at Parklands, Alannah.

I'm launching The Big Summer Survey, which aims to engage all children in a national conversation about family life. The Big Summer Survey will provide new insights into children's views on family, and will be an opportunity to hear from children about how they have spent their summer holidays. On the Children's Commissioner's website, you can also find a template presentation, suggested newsletter text to share the survey with parents and suggested tweets and FAQs, to guide schools in how they can discuss family life with pupils as part of the curriculum.

I would love to hear from your pupils as part of The Big Summer Survey, and I would be very grateful if you can share this among your network and encourage others to take part. The Big Summer Survey will be open until 30 September.

PARKLANDS SCHOOL LOTTERY

This lottery has been set up specifically to raise money and make a difference for our pupils and the fantastic opportunities we can offer them!

It's a fantastic way to bring parents, carers, teachers and the wider community together, in partnership with our school, and at the same time give something back. We hope to raise funds that can support and enrich the education of our children - we aim to provide extra resources for the children, improve the school environment as well as run extracurricular activities such as the Duke of Edinburgh award, music, art and sport.

Your support is greatly appreciated and we wish you good luck!

Yours sincerely

Careers

Follow the link to read this week's Career News. There are lots of great events to take part in as well as information about open events, apprenticeships, careers in STEM and much more. All the college open days/evenings will be advertised in Career News and in school (via email, bulletin or Google Classroom) - it is really important that Year 11s in particular attend as many open events as they can even if they only have one college in mind. Grades can be missed or courses can be withdrawn, sometimes at the last minute, so everyone needs a Plan B (even those who intend taking up an apprenticeship position or joining the Armed Forces). College applications should be done by Christmas as interviews start in January and some colleges have early deadlines.

STOP PRESS: Blackburn College has a Sixth Form (A Level) open evening on Tuesday 27th September from 4.30pm - 8.00pm - although the event for the main college is in October. Have a look here: www.blackburn.ac.uk/open-sixth-form Myerscough College has a course advice morning this Saturday https://www.myerscough.ac.uk/whats-on 10th September from 10.00am - 12.30pm If you have never been to Myerscough College, I highly recommend a visit. They have some incredible courses and facilities - plus Plant World nursery and Tea Room!
