Engineering Future Careers?

We were delighted to invite pupils along for a 'Tomorrow's Engineers' day in school this week as Year 8s were given various engineering challenges to overcome problems.

The programme, led by members of the engineering community, provides inspiration to school pupils in considering a career in engineering.

Mr Kenrick helped organise the workshops and oversaw various Year 8 pupils take part in a robotic challenge where they must design their robots to overcome multiple carefully designed challenges.

Meet the Governors: Karen Livesey

I've worked as a Senior Worker and as an Advanced Practitioner for 26 years for the Lancashire's Young People's Service (now known as the 'Well-being, Prevention and Early Help Service')

I see the role as Governor as an opportunity to contribute towards the well-being, academic achievement and the overall personal development of young people.

I have a positive approach to learning and a keen desire to empower young people as they progress through life.

I was delighted to join the school governing body for Priory and look forward to the rewards and challenges that the role will offer.
