

HOBBIT

Plan the food and drink that Bilbo might need for his unexpected visitors. How much of each item will he need? How much might this cost?

We focused on the 'Riddles in the Dark' chapter a lot in class and created some of our own riddles. Can you create some of your own riddles to challenge your family? Do any of your family members have any riddles to share with you?

Gandalf is famous for his fireworks displays. Use different materials to create a picture of a firework display that he would enjoy.

Design a new character or creature that might appear in an additional chapter for the book. How might they fit into the story?

The Hobbit

As we did in class, have a look at the Runes sheet attached on the next page. Create your own phrases or sentences using the runes (a bit like morse code) and then translate what your sentence means underneath.

Create Bilbo's home – the Hobbit Hole at Bag End - using the description in the book. This can be created however you like (drawing, Lego, junk modelling, graphic design etc)

Watch the clip provided below of Bilbo's encounter with Smaug towards the end of the book. After watching the clip, place yourself into Bilbo's shoes and write a diary entry summarising the events that just happened to you and your thoughts and feelings throughout.
