1 Introduction

At Stamford Park Trust we aim to create an open and transparent culture where all concerns about all adults involved with our academies are dealt with promptly and appropriately. We aim to identify any concerning, problematic or inappropriate behaviour early; minimise the risk of abuse; and ensure that adults working in or on behalf of our academies are clear about professional boundaries and act within these boundaries, and in accordance with our school ethos.

Chapter 2 of Working Together to Safeguard Children 2018 sets out the guidance on safeguarding children from people in a position of trust and further detail is provided in Part Four of Keeping children safe in education September 2024.

This document should be read alongside our Trust Safeguarding and Child Protection and Staff Code of Conduct Policies.

2 Summary

It may be possible that a member of staff acts in a way that does not cause risk to children but their conduct is however inappropriate. A member of staff who has a concern about another member of staff, supply staff, volunteer, contractor who, on reflection, recognises that their actions could have been viewed as a risk should inform the Head of the academy about their concern using the Low-Level Record of Concern Form. (Page 9/10 of this document) If the Head of the academy cannot be contacted, the Executive Principal (Secondary schools) or the CEO should be contacted instead.

3 Data Protection and Confidentiality

Stamford Park Trust will always respect the personal data of staff (and others, where they may be identifiable) in implementing the Low-Level Concerns Procedure and in keeping records of low-level concerns secure.

The Data Protection Act 2018 includes a specific provision which permits organisations to process even the most sensitive personal data where necessary for the purposes of protecting children from harm. Although sharing of low-level concerns will not always involve legally sensitive categories of data, the safeguarding purpose is the same as that under the Trusts Safeguarding and Child Protection Policy.

In each report being considered, in order to support the safeguarding concern and, to ensure the information is accurate, fair, and as far as possible recorded without bias in neutral terms, a proportionate approach must be taken when considering what personal data is necessary to share and record by way of low-level concern(s).

If a member of staff who raises a low-level concern does not wish to be named, then the academy will respect their wishes as far as possible. However, staff should be aware that in certain circumstances this anonymity may need to be waived.

All staff are entitled, under data protection law, to ask to see the content of any low-level concern(s) retained by the Trust under the Low-Level Concerns Procedure as it relates to them personally and to make any reasonable objection as to the fairness or accuracy of that content. The academy will process such requests within the period prescribed by law, subject always to any necessary protection of the rights of third parties and unless any other relevant exemptions apply (including if complying with the request would be likely to prejudice the safeguarding purpose of the Low-Level Concerns Procedure). If the content of a low-level concern is disputed, it may not be appropriate for the academy to delete or alter the original record, but a note may be recorded alongside reflecting the staff member's alternative account or objection(s).

All personal data processed in connection with the Low-Level Concerns will be processed in accordance with the Trusts Privacy policies.

3.1 Should staff who share low-level concerns be able to remain anonymous?

Staff are encouraged to consent to be named when sharing low-level concerns, as this will help to create a culture of openness and transparency. If the staff member who raises a low-level concern does not wish to be named, the academy will respect that person's wishes as far as possible. However, there may be circumstances where the staff member will need to be named (for example, where disclosure is required by a court or local authority, or under a fair disciplinary process) and, for this reason, Stamford Park Trust will not promise anonymity to members of staff who share low-level concerns.

3.2 Should staff share concerns about themselves (i.e., self-report)?

Occasionally a member of staff may find themselves in a situation which could be misinterpreted or might appear compromising to others. Equally, a member of staff may, for whatever reason, have behaved in a manner which, on reflection, they consider falls below the standard set out in the Staff Code of Conduct. Self-reporting in these circumstances can be positive for a number of reasons, and staff are encouraged to self-report on the basis that,

- it is self-protective, in that it enables a potentially difficult issue to be addressed at the earliest opportunity.
- it demonstrates awareness of the expected behavioural standards and self-awareness as to the member of staff's own actions or how they could be perceived and
- crucially, it is an important means of maintaining a culture where everyone aspires to the highest standards of conduct and behaviour.

Stamford Park Trust aim is to create an environment where staff are encouraged and feel confident to self-refer.

4 Keeping Children Safe in Education September 2024

The following is taken from Keeping children safe in education September 2024 and identifies what may be considered behaviour relating to a low-level concern:

What is a low-level concern (LLC)?

Paragraph 426. The term 'low-level' concern does not mean that it is insignificant. A low-level concern is any concern – no matter how small, and even if no more than causing a sense of unease or a 'nagging doubt' - that an adult working in or on behalf of the school or college may have acted in a way that:

- is inconsistent with the staff code of conduct, including inappropriate conduct outside of work and
- does not meet the harm threshold or is otherwise not serious enough to consider a referral to the LADO.

Paragraph 427. Such behaviour can exist on a wide spectrum, from the inadvertent or thoughtless, or behaviour that may look to be inappropriate, but might not be in specific circumstances, through to that which is ultimately intended to enable abuse.

Paragraph 428. Low-level concerns may arise in several ways and from a number of sources. For example: suspicion, complaint, or disclosure made by a child, parent/carer, or other adult within or outside of the organisation, or as a result of vetting checks undertaken.

Paragraph 429. It is crucial that all low-level concerns are shared responsibly with the right person and recorded and dealt with appropriately. Ensuring they are dealt with effectively should also protect those working in or on behalf of schools and colleges from becoming the subject of potential false low-level concerns or misunderstandings.

5 Clarity around Allegation vs Low Level Concern vs Appropriate Conduct

Allegation: Any adult linked to our Trust who has, <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • behaved in a way that has harmed a child, or may have harmed a child and/or; • possibly committed a criminal offence against or related to a child and/or; • behaved towards a child or children in a way that indicates he or she may pose a risk of harm to children; and/or • behaved or may have behaved in a way that indicates they may not be suitable to work with children • Multiple occasions of low level recorded.
Low Level Concern: Any adult linked to our Trust who has behaved in a way that, <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • is inconsistent with the staff code of conduct, including inappropriate conduct outside of work; and • does not meet the allegations threshold or is otherwise not considered serious enough to consider a referral to LADO.
Appropriate: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Behaviour which is entirely consistent with our Staff Code of Conduct, and the Law.

6 How should low-level concerns be shared and recorded?

The concern will be shared in writing using the Form on page 9/10 of the Procedure with the Head of the Academy.

All low-level concerns will be recorded by the Head and shared with Human Resources, who will ensure all records are kept confidential, held securely and comply with the Data Protection Act 2018 and the UK General Data Protection Regulation (UK GDPR) either contemporaneously or immediately following the discussion/receipt of the Form and will exercise sound professional judgment in determining what information is necessary to record for safeguarding purposes.

Where a low-level concern relates to a person employed by a supply agency or a contractor, that concern will be raised with their employers by the Head, so that any potential patterns of inappropriate behaviour can be identified. How an organisation responds to a low-level concern may be different depending on the employment status of the individual who is the subject of the concern - i.e., whether they are an employee, or worker to whom the organisation's disciplinary procedure would apply; or a contractor, Governor or volunteer who may be subject to alternative procedures.

The Head will inform Human Resources of all the low-level concerns and within one working day according to the nature of each particular low-level concern. The Head will be the ultimate decision maker in respect of all low-level concerns.

7 Storing and use of Low-Level Concerns (LLC) and follow up information

LLC forms and follow-up information will be stored securely within the academys safeguarding systems, with access only by the Head, Executive Principal (Secondary Schools), CEO and HR. This will be stored in accordance with the Trusts GDPR and data protection policies.

The staff member(s) reporting the concern must keep the information confidential and not share the concern with others apart from the Head.

Low-Level Concerns will not be referred to in references unless they have been formalised into more significant concerns resulting in disciplinary or misconduct procedures.

Whenever staff leave the employment of Stamford Park Trust, any record of low-level concerns which are stored about them will be reviewed as to whether or not that information needs to be kept.

Consideration will be given to:

- whether some or all of the information contained within any record may have any reasonably likely value in terms of any potential historic employment or abuse claim so as to justify keeping it, in line with normal safeguarding records practice; or
- if, on balance, any record is not considered to have any reasonably likely value, still less actionable concern, and ought to be deleted accordingly.

8 How we will respond to a Low-Level Concern, see Flow Chart in Appendix 2

Once the Head has received the low-level concern, we will – not necessarily in the below order but in an appropriate sequence according to the nature and detail of the particular concern shared:

- Appoint an investigating officer if appropriate
- speak to the person who raised the low-level concern (unless it has been raised anonymously).
- speak to any potential witnesses
- speak to the individual about whom the low-level concern has been raised
- if the Head is in any doubt, they will seek advice from the LADO
- review the information and determine whether the behaviour in question is,
- entirely consistent with the School's Staff Code of Conduct and the law
- constitutes a low-level concern.
- is not serious enough to consider a referral to the LADO but may merit consulting with and seeking advice from the LADO
- when considered with any other low-level concerns previously raised about the same person, could now meet the threshold of an allegation, and should be referred to the LADO/other relevant external agencies, and in accordance with the School's Safeguarding Policy, Part 4 of KCSIE 2024; or Managing allegations of abuse made against adults who work with children.
- ensure that appropriate and detailed records are kept of all internal and external conversations regarding the concern, their determination, the rationale for the decision and any actions taken and retain records in accordance with the Low-Level Concerns Procedure
- consider whether the concern also potentially raises misconduct or capability issues – taking advice from Human Resources (HR) or Legal Services on a named or no-names basis where necessary – and, if so, refer the matter to HR, Legal Services

8.1 What action will be taken if it is determined that the behaviour constitutes a low-level concern?

The Head will respond in a sensitive and proportionate way – on the one hand maintaining confidence that such concerns when raised will be handled promptly and effectively, whilst on the other hand protecting staff from any potential false allegations or misunderstandings.

Any investigation of low-level concerns will be done discreetly and, on a need -to-know basis.

Most low-level concerns may be innocuous. Some will not give rise to any ongoing concern and, accordingly, will not require any further action. Others may be most appropriately dealt with by means of management guidance and/or training. This will often involve informing the member of staff's line manager, who may in some instances provide ongoing guidance or training, as well as the Trusts HR department. In many cases, a low-level concern will simply require a conversation with the individual about whom the concern has been raised.

- any such conversation with individuals in these circumstances will include being clear with them as to why their behaviour is concerning, problematic or inappropriate
- what change is required in their behaviour,
- enquiring what, if any, support they might need in order to achieve and maintain that change
- being clear about the consequences if they fail to reach the required standard or repeat the behaviour in question.

Ongoing and transparent monitoring of the individual's behaviour may be appropriate. An action plan or risk assessment which is agreed with the individual, and regularly reviewed with them, may also be appropriate. This approach will be managed by the Trust HR department in most instances.

Some low-level concerns may also raise issues of misconduct or poor performance. The Head will also consider whether this is the case – by referring to the academies disciplinary and/or capability procedure and taking advice from HR or taking specialist advice as necessary on a named or no-names basis where necessary.

If the Head considers that the academies disciplinary or capability procedure may be triggered, they will refer the matter to HR. If HR advise that the academies disciplinary or capability procedure is triggered, the individual will have a full opportunity to respond to any factual allegations which form the basis of capability concerns or a disciplinary case against them.

Staff should be aware that when they share what they believe to be a low-level concern, the Head will speak to the adult who is the subject of that concern no matter how 'low' level the concern may be perceived to be, to gain the subject's account – and to make appropriate records (as above), which may be referenced in any subsequent disciplinary proceedings.

How the academy responds to a low-level concern may be different depending on the employment status of the individual who is the subject of the concern - i.e., whether they are an employee or worker to whom the academies disciplinary and/or capability procedure would apply, or a contractor, Governor, or volunteer. The academies response will be tailored accordingly.

What action will be taken if it is determined that the behaviour, whilst not sufficiently serious to consider a referral to the LADO, nonetheless merits consulting with and seeking advice from the LADO, then action (if/as necessary) will be taken in accordance with the LADO's advice; or

When considered with any other low-level concerns that have previously been shared about the same individual, could now meet the threshold of an allegation, or in and of itself meets the threshold of an allegation? Then it will be referred to the LADO/other relevant external agencies, and in accordance with the Trust Safeguarding Policy, Part 4 of KCSIE 2024

8.2 How should low-level concerns be held?

The Trust will retain all records of low-level concerns (including those which are subsequently deemed by the Head to relate to behaviour which is entirely consistent with the Staff Code of Conduct) in the LLC safeguarding file.

Where multiple low-level concerns have been shared regarding the same individual these will be kept in chronological order as a running record, and with a timeline alongside. These records will be kept confidential and held securely with access afforded only to a limited number of individuals such as the DSL, Head, Executive Principal (Secondary Schools), CEO and HR.

8.3 How often should the central low-level concerns file be reviewed?

The Trust HR team will review the central low-level concerns file periodically to ensure that all such concerns are being dealt with promptly and appropriately, and that any potential patterns of concerning, problematic or inappropriate behaviour are identified. A record of these reviews will be made.

Where a pattern of behaviour is identified in respect of a specific individual, the Head will also consider whether any wider cultural issues are at play that may have enabled the behaviour and/or whether the academy/Trust should arrange for additional training or a review of any of its policies to reduce the risk of it happening again.

8.4 How long should records of a low-level concern be kept?

Low-level concerns will be retained securely by Stamford Park Trust for as long as deemed relevant and necessary for a safeguarding purpose unless the Trust is required to disclose by law (for example, where the threshold of an allegation is met in respect of the individual in question). In most cases, once a staff member leaves the employment of the Trust, low-level concerns which are held relating to them:

- will be retained until the individual leaves the academy and as required by law
- will not be included in any onward reference, except as set out below
- Low-level concerns will be retained on the Trusts central low-level concerns file (securely and applying appropriate access restrictions) unless and until further guidance provides otherwise.

8.5 References

Where a low-level concern (or group of concerns) has met the threshold for referral to the LADO and is found to be substantiated, it will be referred to in a reference.

Low-level concerns will not be included in references unless they relate to issues which would normally be included in a reference, for example, misconduct or poor performance. It follows that a low-level concern which relates exclusively to safeguarding (and not to misconduct or poor performance) should not be referred to in a reference.

8.6 What is the role of the Local Governing Body and Trust Board?

The CEO will regularly inform the Trust board and the Head will regularly inform the Local Governing Body, about the implementation of the Low-Level Concerns Procedure and any evidence of its effectiveness, e.g., by including reference to it in any safeguarding reports and providing any relevant data. LLC will also be reviewed as an anonymised sample at regular intervals as part of any safeguarding audit, in order to ensure that these concerns have been responded to promptly and appropriately.

Appendix 1: Low Level Concerns Form

Please use this form to share any concern – no matter how small, and even if no more than causing a sense of unease or a ‘nagging doubt’ – that an adult may have acted in a way that:

- is inconsistent with staff code of conduct, including inappropriate conduct outside of work, and
- does not meet the allegation threshold or is otherwise not serious enough to consider a referral to the LADO.

You should provide a concise record – including brief context in which the low-level concern arose, and details which are chronological, and as precise and accurate as possible – of any such concern and relevant incident(s). The record should be signed, timed, and dated.

This document does not to replace suspension/formal disciplinary investigations in the event that concerns are either categorised as more serious than low level or when formal disciplinary procedures are required in relation to the low-level concern.

1. Name of individual raising the concern	(Leave blank if concern was raised anonymously or the individual wishes to remain anonymous)
2. Date the concern was raised
3. Name and role of individual about whom concern has been raised
4. Details of the concern(s) reported (give description and context) A ‘low level’ concern is any concern – no matter how small, and even if no more than causing a sense of unease or a ‘nagging doubt’ – that an adult may have acted in a way that is inconsistent with the staff code of conduct but does not meet the allegations threshold set out in Section 1 of Part 4 Keeping Children Safe in Education.
5. Head to Complete. Details of steps have been taken to investigate this concern Steps should include speaking to the individual who raised the concern, the individual about whom the concern is raised and any witnesses. You will need to review the Staff Code of Conduct and safeguarding policies, including Allegations of Abuse Against Adults, to determine if there has been a breach.
6. Set out the Individual’s response to the concern
7. Is this concern ‘low level’ or should it be treated as an allegation against staff and managed in
