Dear Parents and Carers,

This year, with your support, we have continued to work in the most challenging circumstances. My admiration for you, the pupils and Red Marsh staff team is immense.

The school's purpose, values and vision are central to all the work that takes place across school every day. These core values and principles have continued to shine throughout this challenging year and I am proud to have led a school with a school community that has these principles at the heart of all they do.

After a great deal of thought and consideration I have made the decision to leave my role as head teacher of this amazing and outstanding school; a role I have enjoyed and been privileged to undertake for over 14 years. I have therefore resigned from my role as headteacher from the 31 August 2021.

However, I am delighted that from September I will be supporting the school's acting headteacher, Jenny Slater, two days a week as Red Marsh's School Improvement Partner. In this role, I will support Jenny to continue to develop the school's outstanding provision and maintain the school's purpose and values: to provide fantastic teaching and learning in an environment where everyone is cared for, valued and respected.

However, the best part of my new role as the School's Improvement Partner will be to continue to work with your inspiring children. Everyday your children display in abundance attitudes of curiosity, hard work, self-confidence, resilience, tolerance and understanding. It is truly inspirational and a privilege to have and continue to ensure Red Marsh School strives to provide the best educational provision possible for our wonderful pupils.

Yours sincerely,

Catherine Dellow
