

HOW FOSSILS ARE MADE

A dead dinosaur

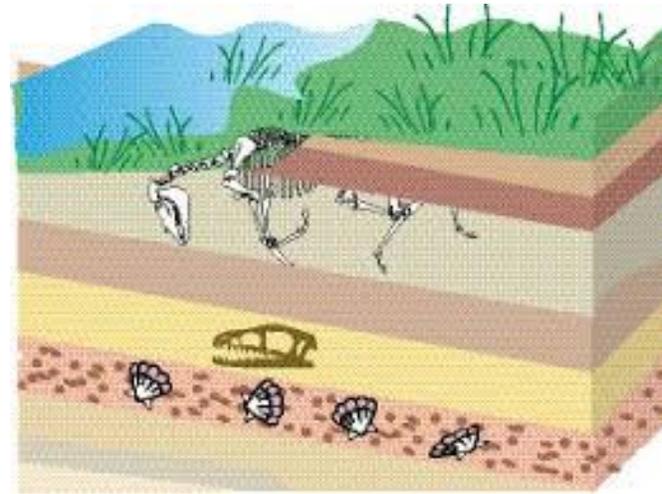

It's muscles and skin decompose leaving the skeleton behind.

It's skeleton is buried by rock called sediment

Minerals in the groundwater replace the bone forming a fossil

The rock comes to the surface and is worn away by erosion.

Paleontologists are people that look for dinosaur fossils.

shutterstock.com • 164236364

MY FOSSIL FIND AT THE BEACH

