Year 6 Bubble

This week, we have been learning about keeping safe. In art, we have been learning about Pop Art and Andy Warhol as well.

At the start of the week, we started learning about keeping safe, like what places are safe, and where we feel safe. We also made posters about keeping safe, how to keep safe and most importantly, what being safe means. We used colouring pencils to make our posters even more striking!

In art, we have been learning about the culture of Pop Art, and the life of Andy Warhol. We found out he created the famous pop art painting, Marilyn Diptych, the repeated image painting of Marilyn Monroe. The next day, we drew images and reduced them so that we could divide them into four, so now they looked like the repeated images of Marilyn Monroe.

We also painted them using diverse colours to make our pictures look exceptional, upbeat and very vibrant.

All of our paintings turned out great and we spent a whole day painting them, so everybody was particularly focused with this project. It was really fun to paint our pop art paintings, as well as learning about keeping safe. All of our posters and pop art images turned out very well, take a look! Maybe you can create your own pop art images as well!
