

1. This is the declaration of faith in Islam. This means it is a statement of what they believe.
2. It says 'There is no god but Allah and Muhammad (PBUH) is his messenger'.
3. This should be the first words an Islamic child hears after birth and the last words someone hears before they die.

1. This is worship of Allah (prayer).
2. Before praying, Muslims should carry out ritual washing. This is known as wudu.
It symbolises purity.
3. Muslims are expected to pray five times a day. Mosques will make a 'call to prayer' so believers know when to pray. However, these prayers can be said anywhere that is clean.

1. This is an annual charitable payment. This money is used to help the poor.
2. Each Muslim able to afford it should give 2.5% of his savings.
3. This charitable donation has the effect of purifying your money.

1. This is fasting during the month of Ramadan.
2. During this time, Muslims do not eat or drink between dawn and sunset. They will eat large meals at other times to sustain themselves. These meals are often taken with family and friends.
3. This is a very difficult task that helps Muslims develop spiritually. In some countries, there can be more the 20 hours between sunrise and sunset.

1. This is the pilgrimage to Mecca. Mecca is the birthplace of the Prophet Muhammad (PBUH) and was also central to the story of Prophet Ibrahim.
2. Muslims are expected to perform this once in their lives.
3. It is a challenging journey, which requires great dedication. It brings Muslims closer to God and can lead to the forgiveness of sin.

1. This is the declaration of faith in Islam. This means it is a statement of what they believe.
2. It says 'There is no god but Allah and Muhammad (PBUH) is his messenger'.
3. This should be the first words an Islamic child hears after birth and the last words someone hears before they die.

1. This is worship of Allah (prayer).
2. Before praying, Muslims should carry out ritual washing. This is known as wudu.
It symbolises purity.
3. Muslims are expected to pray five times a day. Mosques will make a 'call to prayer' so believers know when to pray. However, these prayers can be said anywhere that is clean.

1. This is an annual charitable payment. This money is used to help the poor.
2. Each Muslim able to afford it should give 2.5% of his savings.
3. This charitable donation has the effect of purifying your money.

1. This is fasting during the month of Ramadan.
2. During this time, Muslims do not eat or drink between dawn and sunset. They will eat large meals at other times to sustain themselves. These meals are often taken with family and friends.
3. This is a very difficult task that helps Muslims develop spiritually. In some countries, there can be more the 20 hours between sunrise and sunset.

1. This is the pilgrimage to Mecca. Mecca is the birthplace of the Prophet Muhammad (PBUH) and was also central to the story of Prophet Ibrahim.
2. Muslims are expected to perform this once in their lives.
3. It is a challenging journey, which requires great dedication. It brings Muslims closer to God and can lead to the forgiveness of sin.