Dear Families,

We are delighted to share some fantastic news with you! Following our recent Ofsted inspection, Saxon Hill has been recognised for its unwavering dedication to our amazing pupils. The inspection team awarded us a 'Strong' judgement in all areas under the new, highly challenging framework.

This achievement is a testament to the hard work, passion, and commitment of our staff, pupils, and families. It reflects the excellence that happens every single day within our school community.

Our CEO, Kerry Inscker, expressed her pride in this accomplishment:

"We are so proud of the Ofsted report achieved by Saxon Hill which celebrates the excellence happening every day within the school! We are delighted with the outcome of 'strong standard' in all areas. The new inspection framework is extremely challenging, and to be considered 'strong' is a fantastic achievement which aligns well with previous 'outstanding' judgements."

Thank you for your continued support in making Saxon Hill such a special place for our pupils to thrive. We look forward to building on this success together.

Kindest regards
