

Website Privacy Policy

Privacy Statement

This website will:

Track the pages you visit via Google Analytics.

This website will not:

Share any personal information with third parties other than Google, our Data Processor.

Data is retained for a period of 14 months and is used for the purposes of optimising visitor experience by tracking which pages are the most popular, the time which a page is accessed, whether you are using a computer or tablet/mobile phone, the screen size of the device, language your device is configured to use, your internet service provider, and your approximate location.

Individual users are identified using anonymous numeric Client ID codes rather than identifiable information such as an email address or name.