Year 3 Recommended Reading List 2026-27

Dear Parents/Carers,

We are sometimes asked to recommend books suitable for different aged children and over the page is a list of possible fiction books for Year 3 aged children. The list over the page is purely a suggested reading list and by no means compulsory or exhaustive (please feel free to suggest to us any other texts you know that are suitable). We would also recommend that you read the synopsis of the book before deciding whether it would be suitable for, or of interest to, your child.

Please remember that there is an expectation for children to be reading every night at home and to be filling in their reading record regularly (at least 5 times a week). Whilst the children are at a stage where they may be starting to read independently, many of these books are particularly good to share with your child (especially the books with asterisks which are quite long and demanding). This helps them hear good reading and expression being modelled and also allows for you to discuss any themes or vocabulary arising from the books. We have recently bought many of the books on the list and so they are available in school if your child would like to borrow them.

It would be lovely if your child could keep this sheet, filling it in as they go along, and return it to their teacher at the end of the school year. Team points will be awarded! Feel free to attach a list of any other books which your child has read and enjoyed.
