To all our Staff, Volunteers and Governance Personnel

As we reach the end of another academic year, I would like to take a moment to reflect on what has been an incredibly busy and successful summer term. Our Year of Ambition has seen staff, pupils and communities across the Trust rise to challenges, embrace opportunities and achieve so much together. I am immensely proud of everything that has been accomplished.

The final weeks of term have been marked by exceptionally hot weather, and I would like to thank all colleagues for the care, flexibility and professionalism they have shown in ensuring that our children have remained safe, happy and able to learn. The temperatures we have experienced serve as a timely reminder of why our commitment to achieving Net Zero by 2030 is so important. Through our collective efforts, we are not only reducing our environmental impact but also helping to create a more sustainable future for the young people we serve.

Across all our schools, staff have worked tirelessly to improve outcomes and provide the very best educational experiences for children and young people. I would particularly like to acknowledge the dedication of colleagues in our primary schools, whose relentless focus on teaching, learning and achievement continues to make a real difference. I also recognise the frustration and uncertainty caused by the delays to SATs marking this year. Despite circumstances beyond their control, our teams remained focused on supporting pupils and families with professionalism and care.

The summer term has also been enriched by a remarkable programme of activities, visits, performances, competitions and experiences which have helped to provide our children with a truly rounded education. These opportunities do not happen by chance, and I would like to thank everyone who has contributed their time, expertise and enthusiasm to making them possible. Together, we continue to ensure that education extends well beyond the classroom and helps young people discover their talents, interests and aspirations.

TRUST NEWSLETTER

At this time of year, we also say farewell to colleagues who are moving on to new opportunities or beginning the next chapter of their lives. On behalf of the Trust, I would like to thank them for their dedication, service and contribution to our schools. Whilst they may be leaving their roles, we hope they will continue to remain connected to our Trust family and follow our future successes with pride.

In particular, I would like to pay tribute to Andrew Hurley, who retires this summer after many years of outstanding service, both at Anchorsholme Academy and more recently as a valued member of our Central Team in his role as School Improvement Lead. Andrew's commitment to improving outcomes for children, supporting colleagues and championing excellence across our schools has left a lasting legacy. We thank him for everything he has contributed and wish him a long, happy and well-deserved retirement.

Finally, I would like to express my sincere thanks to our volunteers, governors, trustees and members. The generosity with which you give your time, energy and expertise is invaluable. Your support, challenge and commitment help to strengthen our Trust and enable us to continue delivering the highest quality education for the communities we serve. I would like to thank Dave Wallbank, a hugely supportive Trustee and former Chair who is stepping down from his current position but remaining as a Member to help ensure that the values we have successfully created together are sustained.

As we look ahead, we will move from our Year of Ambition into our Year of Community. Ambition has challenged us to strive for excellence and achieve more than we thought possible; community will help us build on that success together. Whether through collaboration between schools, engagement with families, support for local initiatives or simply looking out for one another, every one of us has a part to play.

My challenge to all of us for the year ahead is simple: be active contributors to our community. Let us strengthen connections, create opportunities for others, and continue building a Trust where everyone feels valued, supported and able to thrive. By working together, we can ensure that our impact extends far beyond the classroom and into the heart of the communities we serve.

I hope that everyone enjoys a well-deserved summer break. Thank you for your continued dedication, commitment and belief in our shared vision. I look forward to working alongside you as we begin our Year of Community and continue transforming lives through education together.

Take care,

Angela

RECRUITMENT & CAREERS INFORMATION EVENT

The Sea View Trust was delighted to welcome prospective candidates to its recent Recruitment and Careers Information Event, held across two locations: the Oracle at our Blackpool site in the morning, and the Tor View School Conference Room at our Rossendale site in the afternoon.

Throughout the day, we had the pleasure of meeting a number of enthusiastic and engaged guests keen to learn more about The Sea View Trust, explore career pathways into education, and gain insight into what life is like across our schools and college.

A key highlight of the event was the opportunity for attendees to hear directly from our Deputy CEO, Louise Parrish. Louise spent time speaking with guests about the Trust's ethos, values, and collaborative approach. She emphasised that The Sea View Trust operates as a supportive network—working alongside schools and colleges rather than above them. As a Trust, we pride ourselves on being a team that stands shoulder to shoulder with our colleagues, offering support in every way possible to enable success for both staff and students.

Guests were also encouraged to share their own career journeys and aspirations. These open and insightful conversations allowed Trust and school representatives to offer tailored advice on potential roles and pathways into education, helping attendees to better understand how they could begin or progress their careers with us.

It was truly inspiring to meet so many individuals who are motivated to make a difference in the lives of children and young people through education. The event provided valuable insights not only for attendees but also for us as a Trust, highlighting how we can continue to support those looking to enter the profession.

Due to the success of the day, we look forward to hosting another Recruitment and Careers Information Event in the near future.

We thank everyone who attended and contributed to such a positive and inspiring day.

SUSTAINABILITY NETWORK

A very busy term has seen all our schools working hard on their journey to Net Zero. Across the Trust, significant work has been carried out to improve outdoor spaces, from litter-picking initiatives to the redevelopment of school allotments.

Revoe, Anchorholme and Park schools received their Green Flag Eco-Schools Awards, with Revoe and Anchorholme achieving this recognition for the first time. Tor View School is eagerly awaiting the outcome of its submission, while Devonshire has been accredited as a Friend of the Honey Bee by the British Beekeepers Association.

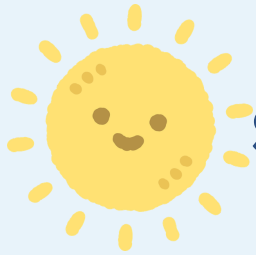

Devonshire experienced the power of direct action when pupils campaigned for a litter bin to be installed outside the school. Their efforts attracted attention from BBC News, resulted in a letter from Parliament, and led to a visit from their local MP. Most importantly, they got their litter bin!

Continuing the theme of waste reduction, Applebee Wood has launched a paper recycling initiative after identifying that classroom paper was not being recycled. There is now a paper recycling bin in every classroom, and a dedicated team of Eco Warriors helps to empty and manage them.

Well done to all our school communities for their commitment to environmental sustainability. We are excited to see what progress and achievements next year will bring.

Sea View Trust Wellbeing Review 2025-2026

As we reach the end of another successful academic year, it is a wonderful opportunity to reflect on the incredible commitment shown across Sea View Trust to promoting the wellbeing of both our pupils and staff.

Throughout the year, wellbeing has remained a clear priority across all of our schools. From trust-wide initiatives to individual school projects, colleagues have continued to develop creative, meaningful and impactful ways to ensure that our school communities feel supported, valued and able to thrive.

One of the highlights of the year has been the continued growth of our Wellbeing Warriors programme. Across the Trust, pupils have completed training based on the Five Ways to Wellbeing, developed leadership skills, supported their peers through initiatives such as Morning Pals and Morning Buddies, and helped shape wellbeing provision through pupil voice activities. These programmes have given children a genuine sense of belonging, responsibility and purpose while helping to create caring and inclusive school cultures.

Schools have introduced an impressive range of initiatives to support wellbeing. These have included wellbeing clubs, yoga groups, friendship groups, kindness projects, wellbeing surveys, designated wellbeing spaces, parent workshops, singing assemblies, learner and staff wellbeing events, and partnerships with organisations such as Lancashire Mind, ELCAS, AWAKEN and Young Carers. Many schools have also strengthened opportunities for pupil voice, ensuring that children play an active role in shaping their school communities.

Staff wellbeing has also continued to be a major strength across the Trust. Open-door leadership approaches, wellbeing meetings, professional development opportunities, dedicated leadership and planning time, workload reduction initiatives and colleague recognition programmes have all contributed to creating supportive working environments. Schools have also recognised the importance of bringing colleagues together through social events, wellbeing sessions, staff celebrations and simple acts of appreciation that help strengthen morale and team spirit.

Sea View Trust Wellbeing Review 2025-2026

The summer term has been a particularly positive one. Staff have benefited from increased flexibility through initiatives such as PPA from home, dedicated wellbeing sessions, targeted training opportunities and additional time for key responsibilities. Pupils have continued to engage in programmes such as SuperKind, helping them to develop kindness, social responsibility and a sense of community impact. Outdoor learning environments and wellbeing spaces have also been enhanced, creating further opportunities for learning, connection and enjoyment.

What stands out most when reflecting on the year is the collective commitment shown by colleagues across every Sea View Trust school. Wellbeing is not viewed as a standalone initiative; it is embedded within the culture of our schools and evident in the daily experiences of children, families and staff. The countless acts of kindness, support and care demonstrated throughout the year have made a genuine difference to our communities.

Finally, I would like to extend my sincere thanks to all of our Wellbeing Leads and representatives across the Trust. Your enthusiasm, creativity and dedication have been instrumental in driving this work forward. Thank you for your commitment to improving outcomes for both pupils and staff, for sharing ideas so openly, and for helping to ensure that wellbeing remains at the heart of everything we do.

I would also like to thank all colleagues across Sea View Trust for embracing our wellbeing agenda and contributing so positively to the culture within our schools.

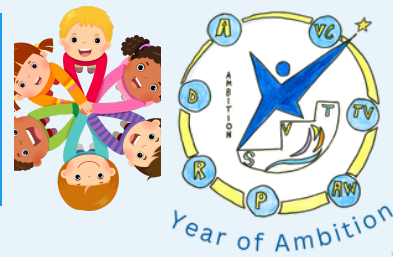

We have much to be proud of and I look forward to building on this success together in the year ahead. I am excited to see the many new ideas and initiatives that will continue to strengthen wellbeing across our Trust as we move into another successful academic year.

Wishing all colleagues, a wonderful Summer break!!

Dan Simm - Trust Personal Development Lead

We are incredibly proud and pleased to have awarded Qualified Teacher Status (QTS) to our second cohort of trainees at Embrace SCITT. This year, 45 primary and secondary trainees successfully achieved QTS and are now embarking on their teaching careers, making a valuable contribution to the profession.

We are particularly delighted that three members of this cohort will be continuing their journey within our Trust schools, where they will help inspire and support the next generation of learners.

This academic year has also marked an important period of growth for Embrace SCITT. Alongside our established teacher training programme, we have successfully trained three apprentice teachers and introduced a part-time training route.

Ofsted Report

Earlier this year, Embrace SCITT was inspected by Ofsted. We were extremely proud of the outcome, which reflects the dedication, expertise and hard work of our staff, trainees and school partners. While we celebrate this achievement, we are equally focused on continuous improvement. Over the coming years, we will continue to strengthen and develop our programme so that, when we are next inspected, we can achieve an even stronger result.

We would like to thank all our trainees, mentors, school leaders and partners for their ongoing support in making Embrace SCITT a success. We look forward to welcoming our next cohort and continuing to contribute to the development of excellent teachers for our schools and communities.

Thank You

CURRICULUM, TEACHING & TRAINING

Drawing on a wealth of expertise from across the partnership, leaders have designed an ambitious initial teacher education (ITE) curriculum that is informed by high-quality educational research. They continually refine and improve the curriculum in consultation with a range of stakeholders.

This ensures that the training equips trainees with the knowledge and skills that they need to be successful.

Leaders have been particularly mindful to ensure that all trainees benefit from teaching by expert teacher educators.
