

The digestive process – instructions.

This new work looks at the digestive process. There is a PowerPoint presentation for you to read through and then there are three worksheets and a quiz. Do the worksheets in any order but do the quiz last. The instructions of how to complete each sheet is written on the sheet. Open the worksheet, have a go at the task and then save the completed worksheet. You can print off the sheets if you want.

This work is roughly two lessons long.
