Y3

Niveau bleu

Each niveau (level) is aligned with the KS2 PoS for Languages, and the KS2 PoS for English.

The materials have been designed to train the teacher by providing

- the essential subject knowledge needed to teach each aspect of language and culture
- an excellent model of pronunciation and intonation
- material that is age-appropriate

Y4

Niveau blanc

The materials have been designed to save planning and preparation time by providing

- easy-to-follow lessons plans (a single side of A4)
- optional assessments at the end of each module and each niveau
- adaptable PowerPoint files to present each lesson
- additional CLIL and IT materials, and mixed-age planning

Y5

Niveau rouge

Y6

Niveau tricolore

The materials have been designed to allow children to reach a level of attainment equivalent to level A1.1 on the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR) by the end of year 6. Teachers may consider allowing children to sit the DELF tests. DELF Prim is the first level in the DELF / DALF series of certificates awarded by the French Ministry of Education for proficiency in French as a Foreign Language. DELF has been consistent with the CEFR since 1 September 2005.

A conjunction can be used to link two words or phrases together. The French conjunction ou means the same as the English conjunction or , and is used in the same way.	In English and French, it is usual to capitalise the names of monuments or landmarks, e.g. the Eiffel Tower , la Tour Eiffel .	The abbreviation no. is used as a number label in both English and French (e.g. No. 1). Its origin is the Latin word numero .	A ligature is two or more connected letters to indicate a single sound. The ligature ‘ œ ’ occurs in French words such as cœur (heart), sœur (sister), œuf (egg), œuvre (work) and œil (eye). Ligatures used to be included in English words such as phœnix , fœtus and œdema , but their use has fallen out of favour and they are rarely seen in current written English.

A verb can express an action or a state of being in a sentence	An adverb is a word or phrase that tells us more about the time, place or manner of the action described in the rest of the sentence. (It tells us more about the verb).	When an adverbial phrase is used as a sentence opener, it must be followed by a comma (in both French and English).	Intonation describes how we can use our voice to help convey meaning in a sentence, and can highlight aspects of grammatical structure.	In written sentences a comma is used to separate words in a series, and to represent intonation present in spoken language.

J' ai 7 ans.	When we translate from one language to another, we translate ideas, not words.	This accent can appear over any vowel – a, e, i, o or u. The circumflex accent appears in the word âge . Historically, there used to be two vowels in this word. Double vowels have now usually disappeared from French words, but the circumflex accent can show us where they used to be.	Practise with a partner. Pronunciation Silent final consonant	Pronunciation Liaison	Grammar conjunction	Grammar adjective	Grammar syntax
The final consonant in French words is almost always silent. There are some exceptions to this rule, such as ours , in which the final 's' is sounded out.	Liaison: when a word ending in a vowel sound is followed by a word beginning with a vowel sound, a final consonant that is usually silent can be sounded out, e.g. C'est un éléphant . Similarly in English, It's an elephant.	A conjunction can link two words or phrases. It can link the final 2 nouns in a sequences, and the final 2 adjectives in a sequence.	An adjective describes a noun. In English, the adjective usually precedes the noun it is describing; in French the adjective usually follows the noun it is describing.	Syntax is the order in which words and phrases are put together to make a meaningful sentence.

Questions can be formed by inverting the verb and pronoun. In writing, a hyphen is put in between the verb and pronoun, e.g. Il est quelle heure ? becomes Quelle heure est-il ?	A clause is a group of words that can form a sentence, or part of a sentence. It always contains a verb. A main clause can stand alone and makes sense on its own. A subordinate clause cannot stand alone and is incomplete by itself.	A simple sentence is made up of one clause. A complex sentence is made up of at least two clauses: main and subordinate.	A cognate is a word in two languages that looks or sounds similar, and has the same meaning. A false friend is a word in two languages that looks or sounds similar, but does not have the same meaning.	The letters qu in English represent two phonemes: [k] and [w]. In French these letters form a grapheme that represents a single phoneme: [k]. The same phoneme can be represented by the letter q without the u if it comes at the end of a word.

Some compound words are joined by a hyphen, eg vingt-deux.	A compound sentence is formed by joining 2 main (or independent) clauses, linked by a coordinating conjunction , eg À Jolieville, il y a un petit parc et un grand cinéma, mais il n'y a pas d'hôpital.	This phoneme can be represented in writing by the graphemes 'in', 'im' and 'aim', eg vin, vingt.

possessive adjective	possessive adjective	negative adverb	subject pronoun	relative pronoun	silent final consonant	the ligature œ
A possessive adjective shows a form of possession or ownership in relation to the noun it is qualifying. In English, the most common are my, your, his, her, our and their .	In French, the possessive adjective 'my' has 3 forms: mon, ma and mes . Just like the definite article le, la and les , the possessive adjective must agree with the noun it is modifying, both in gender and in number.	A negative adverb turns a statement into a negative statement, e.g. I have not got a cat, je n'ai pas de chat .	The subject pronouns il and elle must match gender of the noun they are representing.	The relative pronoun qui can join together 2 clauses to make a compound sentence .	When the final letter in a French word is a consonant, it is almost always silent, e.g. chat, souris, furet .
