HEAD OF SCHOOL UPDATE

As the final bell of the summer term approaches, we look back on what has been an absolutely incredible year at Selwood Academy. From outstanding academic efforts and creative triumphs to unforgettable moments on the sports field, our community has thrived.

This success is a team effort, and we want to extend a massive thank you to all of our parents and carers. Your continued support, whether cheering from the sidelines, helping with homework, or volunteering on trips, is what makes Selwood such a special place to learn and grow.

Term 6 has been an absolute whirlwind of activity, packed with incredible opportunities that have brought our learning to life and celebrated our pupils' hard work: Year 8 embarked on a deeply moving and educational journey to Belgium, exploring the historic battlefields and paying their respects in a profoundly mature reflection on history. Year 6 took an unforgettable adventure filled with outdoor challenges, team-building, and plenty of laughter, helping our Year 6 forge stronger bonds. The weather was great for sports day- a fantastic display of athletic talent, team spirit, and determination. Congratulations to everyone who took part and cheered so enthusiastically! Careers day was a huge success with pupils opening their eyes to the future, engaging with local businesses and professionals to explore a huge variety of exciting career paths. Our oldest pupils celebrated their time at Selwood in style, first braving the rollercoasters at Thorpe Park, followed by a truly magical Prom night where everyone looked spectacular. Finally, the Arts department took things to another level again by hosting an incredible Arts festival where the pupils got to showcase their talents. Beyond Term 6, our pupils have truly embodied our school values all year long, pushing boundaries and achieving greatness across the board:

- Greatest ever SATs results: as a school we have again achieved our greatest ever set of SATs results and this truly does come down to each individual pupil working extremely hard. As a school we scored 87% in maths, 84% in writing, 85% in reading giving us a combined score of 74% which is a 3% increase on last year hopefully securing our place once again as a school in the top 10 middle schools nationally. We will have a few re-marks to request for some pupils but we are very proud of every pupil and their effort regardless of their score.
- Creative Excellence: From stunning art exhibitions to vibrant musical performances, our creative arts department has been a powerhouse of talent this year as always.
- Sporting Triumphs: Selwood teams competed fiercely across Somerset, bringing home numerous victories in football, netball, and athletics, all while demonstrating exceptional teamwork and sportsmanship.
- Community & Charity: Our pupils showed immense empathy, organizing multiple fundraisers and community initiatives that raised vital support for local causes.

To our wonderful Year 8 pupils: this is your moment. You have been fantastic role models for the younger years, leading with kindness, curiosity, and resilience. As you prepare to take your next big step and move on to your next schools, remember the foundations you built here at Selwood. Be bold, stay curious, keep supporting one another and let your light shine. We are incredibly proud of the people you have become, and we wish you the absolute best of luck in your next adventure!

Finally, we want to wish our entire school community a fantastic, safe, and relaxing summer holiday. Whether you are staying close to Frome or travelling further afield, we hope you take this time to rest, recharge, and make wonderful memories with family and friends. For our returning pupils, we are already planning some fantastic things for the new academic year and truly look forward to welcoming you all back, refreshed and ready to learn, this coming September!

Thank you once again for your support,
Mr Finlay- Head of School

UPCOMING EVENTS

Year 8 Leavers Service

The Year 8 Leavers Service is taking place at Wesley Methodist Church at 1:30pm TODAY.

The service will last approximately 45 minutes.

Please note that the Google Form should have already been completed to confirm your child's arrangements. SCHOOL NEWS

Dorothy House Fundraising

A huge well done to everyone who has supported our fundraising for Dorothy House Hospice Care. Thanks to your generosity through our Wacky Tie Day and Mr Finlay's Ironman Challenge, we have already raised an incredible amount for this fantastic charity. We're also excited to add the totals from our Sponsored Swim and Wellbeing Market, so watch this space for our final fundraising total.

PSHE Day

Some of our pupils recently took part in an engaging PSHE day focused on personal safety, online safety and challenging misogynistic behaviours. Working with Collaborate Digital, they explored everyday sexism, the influence of online content and practical ways to stay safe. Pupils also created their own podcasts to share these important messages with other young people, helping to raise awareness and encourage positive conversations beyond the classroom. A fantastic opportunity for our students to develop their understanding, have their voices heard and make a positive impact.

CAREERS SPOTLIGHT

Plumber

What do they do?

Plumbers install, maintain and repair the systems that supply water, heating and drainage in homes, schools, businesses and other buildings. They work on everything from fixing leaking taps and installing bathrooms to fitting central heating systems and renewable technologies such as heat pumps. Their work helps ensure buildings are safe, comfortable and have access to clean water.

Key skills needed:

Plumbers need good practical and problem solving skills, as well as the ability to work carefully and accurately. They should be good communicators, able to explain repairs and solutions to customers, and comfortable working independently or as part of a team. Physical fitness, attention to detail and strong maths skills are also important.

What do they do day to day?

A plumber's daily work can vary depending on the job. They may install new pipework, repair leaks, fit kitchens and bathrooms, service heating systems, unblock drains or diagnose plumbing faults. They often visit different sites throughout the day, use specialist tools and equipment, read technical drawings and ensure all work meets safety and building regulations. They also provide advice to customers on maintaining their plumbing systems.

How do you become one?

Many plumbers start their careers through an apprenticeship, where they earn while they learn. You'll usually need GCSEs, including English and Maths, to begin an apprenticeship. Alternatively, you can study plumbing at college before gaining practical experience. Once qualified, many plumbers choose to specialise in areas such as gas engineering (requiring Gas Safe registration), renewable heating systems or commercial plumbing. Some even go on to run their own successful businesses.

Why is this job important?

Plumbers play a vital role in keeping homes, schools, hospitals and businesses running safely and efficiently. They help provide clean water, reliable heating and effective sanitation, all of which are essential for health and wellbeing. As the UK moves towards greener technologies, skilled plumbers are also helping to install energy efficient and renewable heating systems, making the profession increasingly important for the future.

10 Top Tips for Parents and Educators

TECH-FREE SUMMER FOR TEENS

For many 11- to 16-year-olds, summer can quickly become screen heavy, especially when socialising, entertainment, and downtime all happen via their devices. Encouraging a tech-free summer isn't about banning technology altogether, but about helping young people rediscover friendship, creativity, independence, and the great outdoors. The NHS recommends that young people aged 5 to 18 aim for an average of at least 60 minutes of physical activity each day across the week.

1 BUILD OUTDOOR CHOICE

Teens are more likely to engage when they feel they have a level of control. Create a simple 'summer outdoors menu' with options such as cycling to a favourite café, playing rounders, visiting a skatepark, dog walking, photography walks, geocaching, or helping around the garden. Parents and educators can then ask young people to choose two or three activities each week that interest them.

2 PREPARE THE KIT

Small barriers can stop teenagers going outside, especially if they feel uncomfortable, too hot, or unprepared. Keep a grab bag with sun cream, water, snacks, plasters, a cap, period products, and a lightweight waterproof. During hot weather, plan shade, water breaks, and calmer activities, as vigorous exercise is not advised on very hot days.

3 TRY MICRO-ADVENTURES

Outdoor activities don't need to be expensive or complicated. A micro-adventure could be as simple as watching the sunrise, walking to a local viewpoint, making breakfast outside, visiting a new green space, or planning a bus journey to a nearby nature trail. Encourage teens to plan the route, snacks, and timings themselves to help build their independence.

4 LINK TO REAL INTERESTS

A young person who dislikes sport may still enjoy being outside if the activity connects with something they already care about. Link outdoor time to music, art, animals, fashion, cooking, photography, or social interaction. Ideas include sketching in a park, making a nature playlist, filming a wildlife vlog script, or designing posters for a community garden.

5 CREATE SOCIAL PULL

For many teenagers, friends are the strongest motivator in various areas of life. Parents can invite one or two friends on walks, picnics, or garden games, while schools can promote lunchtime leagues, outdoor clubs, or summer meet-ups linked to existing interests. Make these activities feel social rather than supervised, with adults nearby for safety but not dominating the experience.

6 MAKE TRAVEL ACTIVE

Active travel is a practical way to build outdoor time into everyday routines. Encourage young people to walk, cycle, or scoot short journeys where it's safe to do so, such as to school, the library, a friend's house, or a sports club. Educators could run a summer 'active miles' challenge, with pupils logging their journeys completed on foot or by pedal.

7 USE PHONE-FREE CHALLENGES

Rather than simply saying, "Put your phone away", turn time spent offline into a shared challenge. Try a two-hour, phone-free park visit, a family evening walk, or a tutor-group challenge where pupils track their screen-free outdoor hours and share what they've been doing. You could all agree to keep devices in a box, bag, or classroom drawer, and allow for check-in time afterwards.

8 OFFER REAL RESPONSIBILITY

Teens often respond well when outdoor activities feel purposeful. Give them the responsibility for setting up a garden get-together, planning a picnic budget, leading a warm-up routine, mapping a walking route, or organising outdoor equipment. Schools could ask pupils to design an outdoor wellbeing trail, manage a sports rota, or support younger pupils during activity sessions.

9 REPLACE, DON'T REMOVE

If screens are taken away without an appealing alternative, young people may see outdoor time as a punishment. Replace gaming sessions with football drills, dance practice, basketball shots, treasure hunts, or card games outside. Replace screen scrolling with a 'boredom box' containing items like chalk, a frisbee, skipping ropes, playing cards, seed packets, or a disposable-style camera.

10 CELEBRATE SMALL WINS

Not every teenager will suddenly love the outdoors, so recognise their gradual progress. Celebrate a 20-minute walk, an hour at the park, a phone-free picnic lunch, or choosing to cycle instead of being driven around. Parents and educators can use praise, certificates, group displays, or simple shared reflection to show that outdoor effort matters.
