Celestial Celebration By Aleksandra Szreder Beneath the cloak of twilight's veil, A canvas of stars begins to unveil. Silent whispers from the moon on high, Painting night skies with a celestial sigh. Stardust sprinkled in the cosmic dance, Constellations waltz, creating a trance. Orion's belt, a gleaming silver line, Guiding dreams in the dark divine. The Milky Way, a river of light, A celestial spectacle, pure and bright. Nocturnal beauty, a timeless art, Igniting wonder in every heart. As darkness weaves its velvet thread, Galaxies whisper secrets overhead. Night skies, a poetry of cosmic lore, A boundless tale forevermore.
An outstanding piece of poetry that explores the magic and majesty of astronomy! Miss Priestner, Literacy Lead & teacher of English
