

Curriculum Intent

Southbroom Infants School aims to provide a high quality music curriculum that is embedded in every aspect of school life and inspires a life-long love of music in every child. We aim for our music provision to provide a platform for every child to be a musician. We strongly believe that the opportunity to engage in musical experiences impacts positively on the development of the whole child, building upon social skills as well as other transferrable curricular skills such as counting

Curriculum Implementation

At Southbroom Infants, each class has the opportunity to participate in a weekly music session with their class. Planning is topic-based and is linked closely to other subject areas where there is an obvious connection so that the children are familiar with this and already have a confident knowledge of themes such as fairy tales and animals. Units of work are usually planned over a period of 6 sessions which are taught as weekly sessions. All

Curriculum Impact

Through playing, singing, creating and performing, children will develop confidence, communication, thinking and creative skills and improve their emotional well-being. The skills involved in playing and listening to music will also help learners develop the self-esteem, self-discipline, cooperation, creativity, and self-motivation necessary for success. Our children will have a love of singing and music making and will be confident to apply the skills they have learnt across a range of both un-tuned and tuned instruments. By the time
