A special school for autistic pupils

25th June 2026

Dear Parents and Carers,

I trust you are all coping with the heat as best as you can today.

We have received information that the red weather alert has been extended for tomorrow due to the very high temperatures.

We have hired portable air conditioners but the building is becoming hotter each day. Many classrooms are over 35 degrees even with the portable air conditioners running.

School will be open tomorrow but once again if you think your child will be more comfortable at home please update us in the morning. Families who have already informed us don't need to call again unless there is a change of plan.

Please remember to drink water and try to stay out of the sun. Do get in touch if you have any queries.

Best wishes,
