Martyn's Law: Our School's Safety Procedures

As part of new Government guidance known as Martyn's Law, all schools are expected to have clear plans in place for how they would respond in the unlikely event of a serious emergency. This includes having a written lockdown procedure and making sure staff and pupils know what to do to stay safe. [naspm.co.uk]

We have now created our school's lockdown policy (available on our school website) following the national advice that schools should prepare proportionate safety measures and train staff accordingly. Over the coming weeks, we will practise these procedures with the children in a calm and age-appropriate way. This helps ensure everyone feels confident and prepared, just as we do with regular fire drills. Our priority is always to keep our pupils, staff, and community safe. If you have any questions, please contact the school.
