Come forth from within us.

‘Since we are created in the image and likeness of God, we all are temples of the Holy Spirit, equally, objectively, and forever! The only difference is the degree to which we know it, draw upon it, and consciously believe it. When we fan into flame the gift we already have then our lives will bear the fruits of ‘love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, generosity, faithfulness, gentleness and self-control.’ (Gal 5:22)’ [1] ‘I used to think of these fruits as ‘things’ given to us, like something in gift boxes. Now I think of them not as things but as energies. They are dynamic sources of growth in us. We often pray “Come Holy Spirit” as if the Holy Spirit is separate from us. As we grow in awareness that the Spirit of God is already within us, our prayer then becomes, “Come forth from within us and help us to recognise and live your energies.”’ [2]

Joyce Rupp speaks of an occasion when she was hiking in the Colorado Rockies: ‘The forest can be so still and silent; then suddenly a whoosh of wind sways the trees and whispers across the hills. This is so unpredictable and oftentimes when the wind is strong it brings quick changes in the weather but a good hiker is always attentive to its movement. The Spirit of God came upon the followers of Jesus as unexpectedly as wind in the mountains. In that Upper Room, people who had been terrorised suddenly experienced an immense freedom and a deep sense of God’s life within them. They discovered a new dynamic power of love and a new determination to live what Jesus had proclaimed to them.

We need to stay tuned to the movement of the Spirit if we are to hear the call to transformation or deeper growth. Our Pentecosts are rarely large, powerful gales; rather they are usually little, unpredictable and unexpected gusts that change our lives a little at a time. We can forget or take for granted the smaller breezes if we are not deliberately attentive to them. It is easy to dismiss these moments of transformation, either because we are too busy or because we do not recognise the activity of the Divine.

Pentecost is a feast of the mysterious movement of God. Each year it is an invitation to be attentive once more to God’s marvellous presence in our lives.’ [2]

CAFOD Update:

Church teaching says that we should not only support those in poverty but also tackle the root causes of poverty? Pope Benedict XVI said that "Love - caritas - is an extraordinary force which leads people to opt for courageous and generous engagement in the field of justice and peace." For decades CAFOD has spoken out against injustice. To find out more and get involved in tackling the root causes of poverty, please go to cafod.org.uk/latest/campaigns.
