Everyday Kindness

A high-speed photograph of a water droplet falling into a pool of water. The droplet is captured mid-fall, just above the point of impact. Below it, a series of concentric ripples spread outwards from the center. The water's surface is a deep blue, and the ripples are highlighted with a golden-brown hue. The background is a soft, out-of-focus gradient of blue and green.

One ripple of kindness can go on to create a large wave!

“Every act of kindness has a positive ripple effect.”

Kindness Grows

When we argue with each other or we refuse to share.

The crack grows ever wider,
but we don't know it's there.

Playing all together

is always much more fun.

We have lots of space here
for each and everyone!

Reflection

- How could you show kindness in school this week and throughout the year?
- Can you create a positive ripple effect with your kindness?
- Do you need to like a person or agree with everything they say to show kindness?

A vibrant sunset scene over a calm ocean. The sun is a bright, glowing orb on the horizon, casting a golden light across the sky and water. The sky is filled with soft, wispy clouds in shades of orange, yellow, and pink. A faint rainbow is visible in the upper left portion of the sky. The ocean's surface reflects the warm colors of the sunset, with gentle waves visible in the foreground.

Dear God,

Thank you that we can be kind to one another.

Thank you for the teachers and families who teach us why we need to be kind.

Thank you, God, for the kindness and love that you show us.

Please help us to forgive our friends for any fallings-out.

Please help us always to give people a second chance.

Please help us to say sorry and start again.

Amen.
