

Have your say on plans to upgrade Armley Gyratory

Dear resident,

As you live or work near Armley Gyratory, we want your views on our proposals to improve its layout. In 2018 we shared our plans and, having considered public feedback, we have now updated our designs.

The designs will improve the operation of the gyratory, provide higher quality and improved routes for all road users, including pedestrians and cyclists, and will enhance the area around the gyratory through new landscaping. We now want to know what you think of our proposals and how well they will tackle the gyratory's current problems. We will then submit a planning application for the upgrade, before further refining the detailed design.

About Armley Gyratory

Armley Gyratory is a signalised roundabout to the west of Leeds city centre. It is a key junction and a major entry/exit point for traffic travelling through the city.
