As a Writer: Every Stranger has a Story This topic will be initially based upon Kensuke's Kingdom. The children will continue Michael's story creating a distinct atmosphere of their own choosing. They will compare the boys in both books and the friendships they develop. It will also provide a stimulus in endangered animals and provide cross curricular links to Biomes.		As a Writer: Every Life Matters This topic takes its focus from our History topics of conflict and crime and punishment. Once will provide the children with the opportunity to investigate the Holocaust and look at survivors' stories. In addition, A Kind of Spark, will introduce the children to a more diverse way of thinking and encourage them to question the past further.		As a Writer: I'm a Survivor This topic will be linked to the book Holes. Children will do writing linked to the novel whilst also writing about other disasters that have happened around the world such as Titanic, Twin Towers, Munich Air Disaster and Mount Everest. Videos from Literacy Shed such as Francis and Broken.
