Athens and Sparta

Athens and Sparta were both
Greek city states.
They were very different.

Athens

Athens was ruled by a democracy and believed the city should be run fairly.

The Athenians wanted to expand their lands which led to many battles.

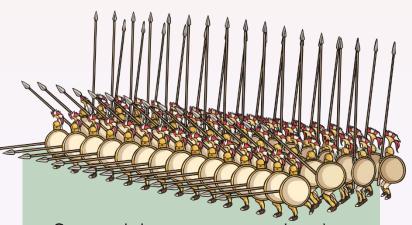

They believed in education but only for boys.

Women and girls didn't have the right to an education and couldn't participate in business. wealthy girls could be educated at home.

Sparta was ruled by one king who made all of the decisions.

Their army was famous in Ancient Greece because it was so powerful.

Sparta did not try to invade other cities or claim more land.

Spartans were raised to be in the army. Boys would learn to train from a young age. It was very strict.

Women were not allowed to join the army but had to train and had to be fit and healthy.

Help!

The Athenians needed to ask for help! So they decided to ask the Spartans. Although they often fought against each other, when faced with an outside enemy the Greek city states usually joined forces. The Spartan army was very famous and would have been very useful to the Athenians. They sent a runner, Pheidippides, to Sparta to ask. He ran for 2 days and nights from Athens to Sparta, running 240km in total.

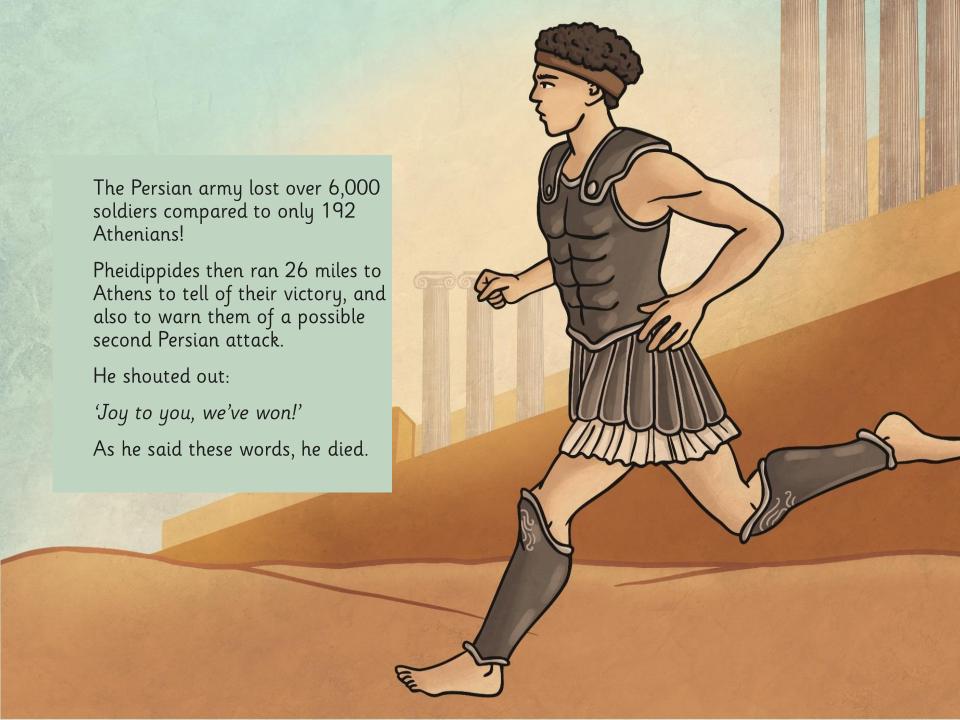

The Spartans were celebrating a festival and so said they would help, only once the festival was over. Pheidippides then ran back to Athens with the news that they would need to wait!

help? How do the Athenians feel about the Spartans' reason for not helping?

Task 2: Ordering Events

Can you put the events onto a timeline?

King Darius of Persia wanted to invade Athens to increase his empire.	The Persian soldiers arrived at Marathon.	Pheidippides ran to Sparta to ask for assistance as the two city states often joined together to fight mutual enemies. It took him 48 hours to run to Sparta.
Pheidippides ran to Sparta and asked for help as they often supported Athens, but Sparta said they could not help for 2 more days as they were celebrating a festival. He ran 160 miles back to Athens to report the news.	Marathon ready to attack. The much smaller Athenian army waited anxiously for help from their allies, the Spartans. When no help arrived they had to think of a new plan.	The Athenians began to prepare after seeing King Darius' ships approaching.
The Athenians were worried but ran right into the Persian army lines as they were trying a new strategy.	The Persians were not prepared for this new strategy. They nearly pushed through the Athenian lines but did not succeed. They lost many soldiers.	The Persians knew they were losing so withdrew. Determined not to leave completely defeated, they went to Athens to attack the unprotected city. The Athenians managed to get back in time to defend their city.
6,400 Persian soldiers died, but only 192 Athenians die in the famous battle.	Pheidippides last job was to take the victory message back to Athens. He told the city they had won the battle.	Pheidippides then sadly died.
