

Order That!

Need: Roman numeral cards (see below)

- A game for two players.
- The Roman numeral cards are placed face down on the table.
- Each child takes five number cards, making sure they don't look at them.
- When both players have five cards, they turn them over and put them in order from smallest to greatest.
- The winner is the first person to order their five numbers correctly.
 - They score one point.
- Both players must agree that the finished order is correct by writing the order using our number system.
- The cards are returned to the centre, shuffled around and the next round can begin.
- The winner is the first person to score three points.
