

Good news day

What to do

This is a project that you can keep adding to. It's purpose is to capture inspirational acts in your community and the wider world.

Step 1:

Search the local and national news for stories of inspirational acts. These are reports of people or groups who have impressed you by making a positive difference.

Step 2:

On paper or digitally, capture the key information in words and pictures:

Q: Who inspired you?

Q: Where in the world do they live?

Q: How did they make a positive difference?

Q: What skills and qualities did this inspirational person/group show?

Step 3:

Use the images and information you have gathered to create a collage that you can share with your class when you return to school.
