

LO: To read and respond to a poem - Cat-Shots Wednesday 31st October 2018
Celebrating Black History Month.
We performed a poem by Grace Nichols - Cat shots.

Cat-Shots

1. Sitting upright with her legs well together – a beautiful vase that doesn't need a flower.

2. Lying on the fish-tank like the Guardian of fish, looking so benevolent but there's a deep fish-wish.

3. Standing by the door like a real little muggins, wanting to stay out yet wanting to come in.
