

Dear Parents (and children),

Hello, I'm Mrs Nelson (I used to be Miss Cooper).

I will be setting your home learning work for the rest of this term.

I have included Maths work from the same programme that the children were following before half term. There is, as there was before, a parent guide to support you and your child in completing this work.

The English work for this fortnight is covered by the other home learning tasks set.

Recently, primary and secondary teachers from Bishop Hogarth trust, have worked together to develop a transition programme of work for History and Geography. This is to ensure that our children have the very best start in these subjects when they arrive at secondary school.

The other home learning tasks included for this fortnight are the programmes of work created by this team of teachers.

We are very excited for the children to complete this work as it contains topics which have not been covered before on most primary curriculums and I am sure that the children will enjoy it.

If you require any support with any of the work set, please do not hesitate to contact me via the school email address. I am always happy to discuss any issues that may come up.

Don't forget to share your achievements on twitter, Facebook or again, via school email.

I do hope this letter finds you all well, physically and mentally. This has been a challenging time for all, but I know the children will continue to do their very best. Please continue to enjoy spending time with one another, doing things that we never usually get the chance to do.

Very best Wishes,

Mrs Nelson x
