Design a D-Day Medal

Medals are often given to soldiers for showing bravery during a conflict. You have been asked to create a medal for British soldiers who served on D-Day.

Use the outline below to create your design.

In your design, you must include:

- the date of D-Day (6th June 1944);

- the colours of the Allies;

- a symbol to signify the war and the soldiers' sacrifice and victory;

- a reference to the different armed forces who took part (air force, army and navy);

- annotations to explain your choices.
