

Using Portfolios on Class Dojo

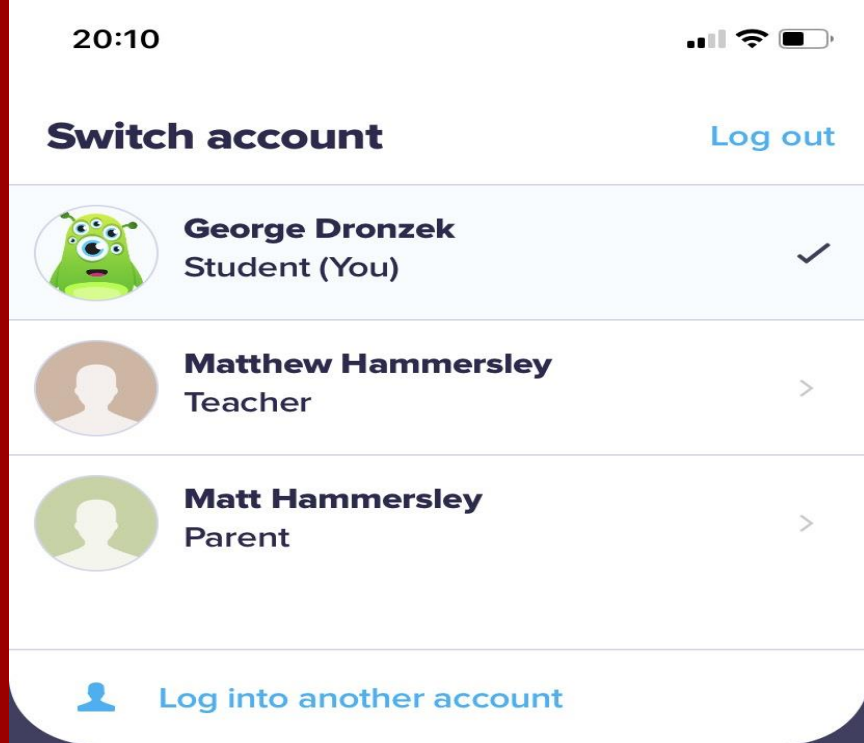

ClassDojo

What are they?

Portfolios are a great way for parents and children to show off their work and share it with their teachers.

Teachers might set work or 'activities' and students can respond, but children can also share something they are proud of and want their teacher to see (Yes, I 100% want to see the most incredible Lego creations, even if it isn't a weekly Learning Project!

Don't worry about the wrong thing being posted, teachers must approve each portfolio submission first, they can even send it back to the child with tips on how to improve, or comment on it too!

How it works

To show you, I have attached myself to my niece and nephew's Dojo account - so apologies to them in advance!

As you can see I have a Teacher account, but now a 'Parent account' (from the code I typed in - you all have done this already) and a student account for George.

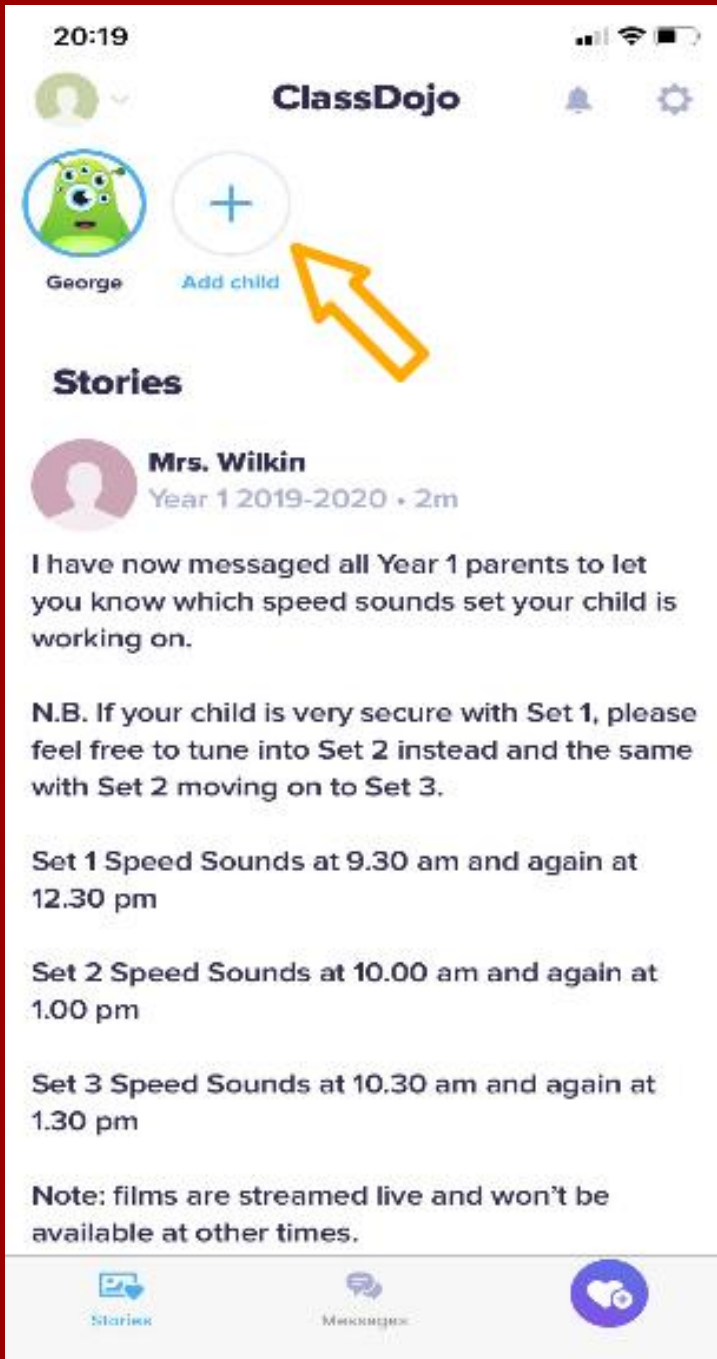

How it works

To see your available accounts, click the icon in the top left hand corner.

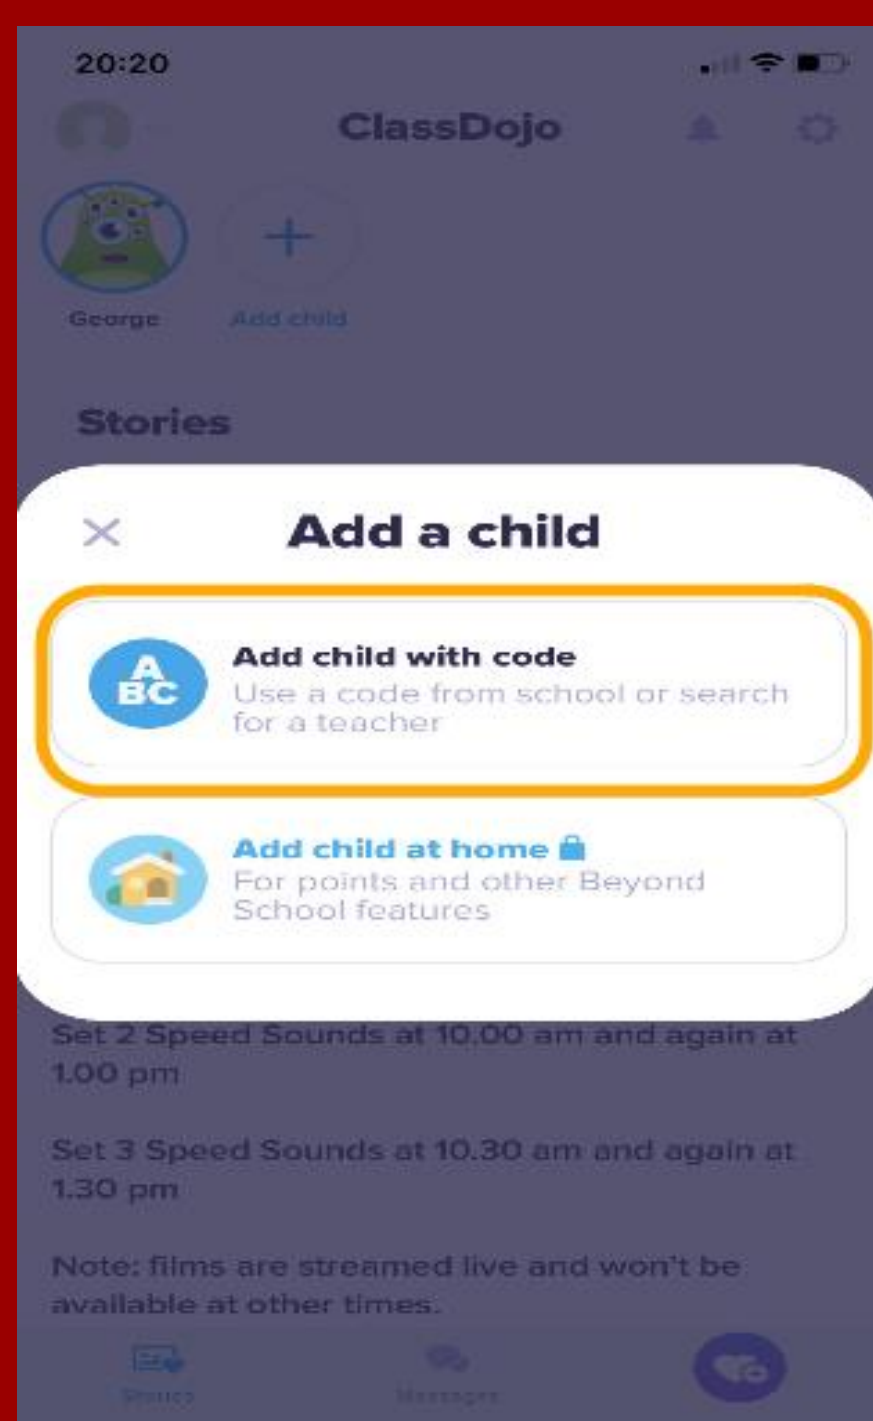

I am currently on George's student account, but will make a new account for Evie for the purposes of this.

First I click the icon and select my parent account.

(SOME OF YOU WILL SKIP THIS STEP AS YOU ALREADY HAVE ACCOUNTS SET UP)

How it works
I want to add a new child (you don't need to do this if you already have one child set up)

How it works

I want to add a child using a code - this is the code that you have been sent on the letter last week.

Without the code, you cannot access your child's account.

You have likely already done this.

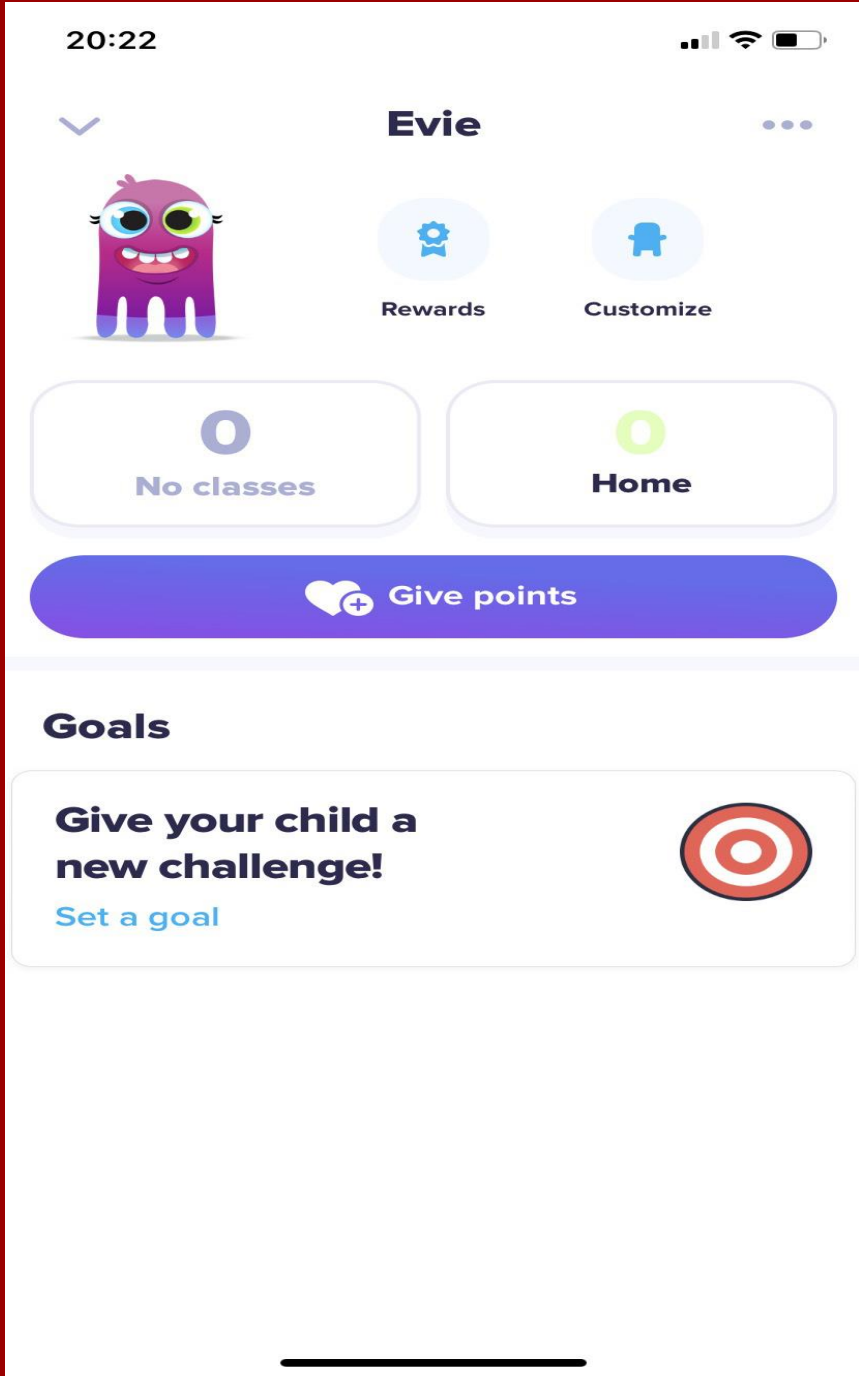

How it works

I have used the code to connect with Evie's account.

If I click on her Dojo character I can edit it, look at points history etc.

This does not allow me to post things to her portfolio.

How it works

On Evie's individual page I can see what rewards she has had, or edit her character - but this does not allow me to affect her portfolio.

How it works

As you can see, my accounts list (see slide 3) now shows both George and Evie's accounts.

If I tap on to Evie's Account, it gives me access to Evie's personal Dojo account, rather than the parental side of it.

A timetable is now available to view on the school website under Home Learning year 5. Any questions, just ask!

How it works

This is Evie's personal Dojo page.

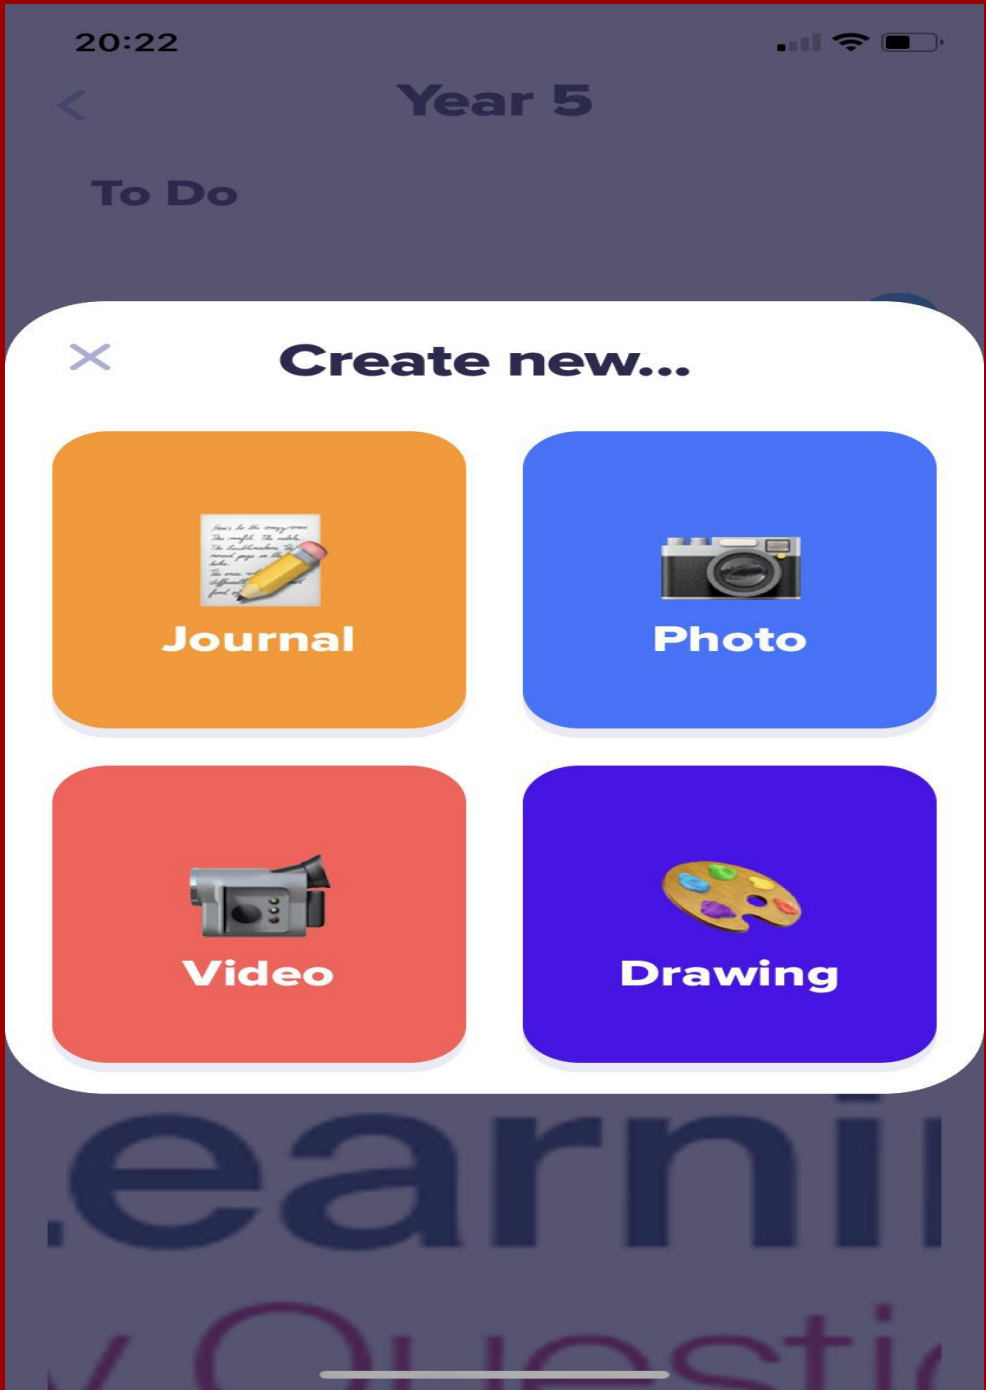

As you can see, at the moment, there are 'No activities' set. This section would be different later in the week if the class teacher had set activities through Class Dojo.

If we tap it, it takes us to the next page anyway, giving us the opportunity to upload to Evie's portfolio.

How it works

We then would click on the + symbol next to the Completed section, where a list of set activities may be in the future.

How it works

This then gives you the option of what sort of entry might go into the portfolio,

Journal

This might simply be a short diary entry of your day, explaining what you have been up to!

Photo/Video

Take a photo or video of something and show your teacher!

Drawing

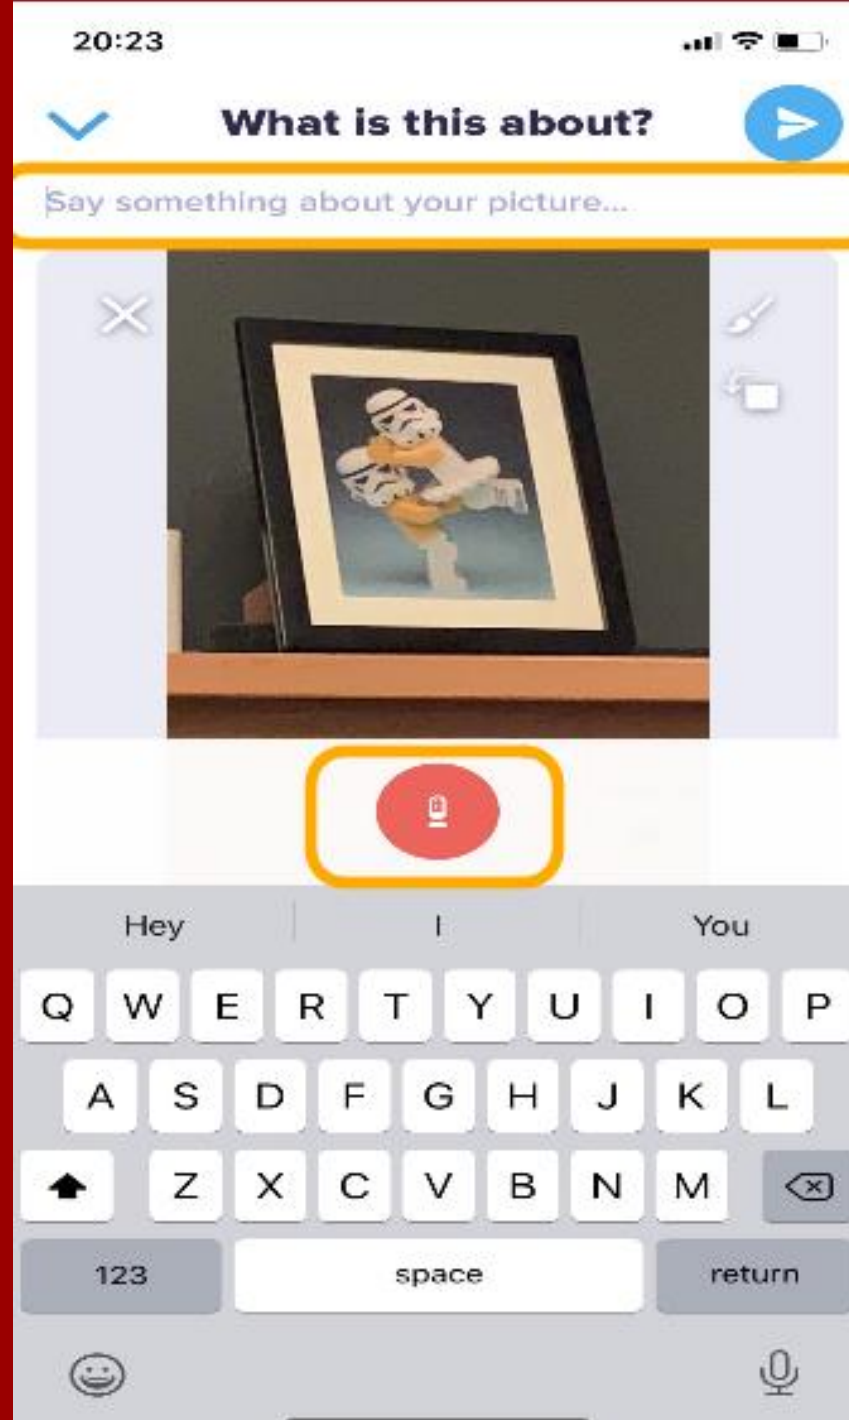

You can draw a picture of something you did to upload!

How it works

I decided to upload a photograph to show a picture of what we might have been learning about

(Yes, that is 2 Stormtroopers dancing, of course they are made from Lego)

How it works

Now I have taken my photo, I need to explain what it is about.

I can either type something in the top box, or another idea if to hold the record button (if you have a microphone) and explain in your own words what your image is of.

20:23

What is this about?

Say something about your picture...

How it works

When I have explained what my image is about, I click the send button to send it to my portfolio.

The class teacher gets a notification and has to approve it before it goes live.

They might send a comment back to tell me how brilliant I am, or ask for more information before it is uploaded fully!
