

Maya Key question 4 RS2a Zones of inference

What I don't understand/would like to know

What I can work out

What I can see

A stone sculpture of a Maya deity, possibly a god of the underworld or a ruler. The figure has a tall, pointed headdress with circular motifs. The face is serene with closed eyes. The figure wears a necklace with a central circular pendant. The hands are positioned in front of the chest. The sculpture is set against a black background.