Welcome back to school

I hope everyone has had a lovely summer holiday. It has been lovely to see all the children back in school looking smart in their school uniforms. As we start a new school year, over the next couple of weeks we will be asking you to fill in up to date contact forms and asking you to look through the revised parent code of conduct policy. Keeping your children safe is paramount here at St Luke's so in line with current practice and following recent events in the North West, the children and staff will continue to practise together, what to do in emergency situations, in order to keep your child more confident and safe. Emergency situations could include fire, bomb or a situation within the local community.

If you have any questions, or need more information about emergency procedures, please feel free to contact me.

We expect students to wear the correct uniform each day.
