What makes me unique?

Building a Picture

This booklet is our first glimpse of your child as a unique individual.

We need to know as much about your child as possible in order to get to know them well and help them settle with us quickly.

Please fill in this booklet and add photographs of special people in your child's life. Tell us about all of the things that they like to do so that we can provide these opportunities here at nursery too.

Please bring this booklet along with you when you visit us so that we can start to plan for your child's interests.

This is the first step in building a relationship with you and your child. Please tell us anything else that would help us to get to know you and your child better and continue to provide us with regular information about your child's activities and experiences at home.

To ensure that we meet the individual needs of your child, please give us as much detail as you can about their daily routine, including feeding (what do they eat and how do they like to be fed), sleeping (what time do they sleep and where), toileting.
