

This week, we are going to look at words that have prefixes.
Can you remember what a prefix is?

A prefix is a group of letters added before a root word to alter its meaning and create a new word.

We are going to concentrate on the prefix...

re-

Have a look at the following words and write in your home learning book what they have in common.

*rebound

*recycle

*redo

*reflect

*refresh

*repeat

*replay

*retreat

All of these words have the prefix re at the beginning of their word. The prefix re means back or again, e.g. redo means to do something again.

*Rebound = to spring back

*Recycle = to use something again

*Redo = to do something again

*Reflect = redirect something back to where it came from

*Refresh = bring the freshness back

*Repeat = to do something again

*Replay = to play something again

re-

that usually means 'again' or 'back' e.g. repay

Could you use each word in a sentence?

Add re to these root words and write the meaning of the words in your home learning book. Use a dictionary.

*turn

*appear

*verse

*build

*condition

*take

*join

How did you get on?

*return = to come or go back somewhere

*reappear = to appear again

*reverse = to move in a backwards direction

*rebuild = to build something again

*recondition = to bring something back to good condition

*retake = to take something again such as a penalty in football or a photograph with a camera

*rejoin = to join something again
