Behaviour Policy

Reviewed September 2026
Next review September 2027

1 Mission Statement

With Christ, we live, love, learn and grow.

2 Aims

To encourage acceptable standards of behaviour, which promote respect for people and property, and develop patterns of behaviour which will be suitable throughout life. Within the school, these standards will contribute to effective learning and to a harmonious atmosphere, in keeping with our mission statement.

3 Context

This policy sits within a group of policies, which are there to keep the school community safe, and in promoting the best possible environment for learning. These include:

- Safeguarding Policy
- Anti-bullying policy
- Attendance Policy
- Equalities Policy
- Health and Safety Policy
- SEND Policy

4 Bullying

The school works to prevent bullying by educating the children about what bullying is, what to do if children feel they are being bullied and whom they can speak to. The school is active in addressing incidents of bullying and works to support victim and perpetrator. See anti-bullying policy.

5 Child-on-child abuse

Child-on-Child abuse is defined as abuse between children under 18 years of age. St Mary's Catholic Primary School & Nursery has a zero-tolerance approach to abuse, including child-on-child abuse.

Child-on-child abuse can be manifested in many different ways, including:

- Bullying, including cyberbullying and prejudice-based or discriminatory bullying.
- Physical abuse – this may include an online element which facilitates, threatens and/or encourages physical abuse.
- Sexual violence – this may include an online element which facilitates, threatens and/or encourages sexual violence.
- Sexual harassment, including online sexual harassment, which may be standalone or part of a broader pattern of abuse.
- Causing someone to engage in sexual activity without consent.
- The consensual and non-consensual sharing of nude and semi-nude images and/or videos.
- Upskirting.
- Initiation and hazing-type violence and rituals, which can include activities involving harassment, abuse or humiliation used as a way of initiating a person into a group, and may also include an online element.

The school's procedures for managing allegations of child-on-child abuse are:

- If child-on-child abuse is suspected or reported, the incident will be dealt with immediately by the member of staff who has been approached
- A clear account of the incident will be recorded and given to the head teacher or other member of the SLT.
- Then the head teacher or other member of the SLT will interview all concerned and will record the incident on CPOMs and Anti- Bullying File if appropriate.
- Class teachers will be kept informed
- Sanctions will be used as appropriate and in line with the behaviour policy
- Parents will be informed.

Staff will follow these procedures, as well as the procedures outlined in the school's Anti-Bullying Policy where relevant.

St Mary's Catholic Primary School & Nursery and DSLs will consider:

- the wishes of the victim in terms of how they want to proceed
- the nature of the alleged incident
- the ages of the children involved
- the development stages of the children involved
- any power imbalance between the children
- is the incident a one-off or a sustained pattern of abuse
- are there ongoing risks to the victim, other children or school staff
- contextual safeguarding issues.

6 Rules

The school's rules are based on the Catholic Christian values it seeks to promote e.g. gentleness, respect, humility, truth and so on. The values are displayed prominently in the front entrance. Each week the school focuses upon and explores a different value.

There are general rules of behaviour:

- Be kind to others
- Show respect to each other
- Look after property
- Keep the classroom tidy
- Listen to the adult and each other
- Walk around school, don't run
- Put hand up to speak
- Show me 5 (means everybody stops and looks at adult)

At the start of the year class teachers involve the children in drawing up a class charter, which clarify and explain these rules at an age-appropriate level.

There are also specific rules related to the dinner hall and the playground – see appendices 5 and 6.

7 Behaviour strategies and teaching of good behaviour

We hope to achieve these aims through the following objectives:

A. Improve and maintain standards, through increased self-discipline of all members of the school community.

This will be achieved in the following ways:

From staff

1. Awareness that they are role models for pupil behaviour.
2. Providing opportunities for discussion of acceptable norms.
3. Demonstrating in their relationships with the children that each individual, their efforts and achievements are valued.
4. Valuing children's achievements and efforts.

From children

1. Children will be involved in the drawing up of an annual class charter that they will sign.
2. Being made aware of the need for codes of conduct within the school and the wider community. This will be achieved through discussion opportunities and day-to-day interaction.
3. Being encouraged to develop self-discipline by:
 - Being polite and courteous in all aspects of school life
 - Having consideration for others and reflecting on the results of their actions
 - Being open and honest when confronted by their actions
 - Showing good manners e.g. when eating lunch
 - Being encouraged to value their own efforts by presenting work to their own highest possible standard.

B. To create an atmosphere of respect and trust.

From adults

1. Open discussion of any areas of concern will be encouraged amongst all adults within the school.
2. Regular opportunities for liaison between support staff and teaching staff as appropriate and meetings with the Head teacher or Deputy or other senior member of staff as appropriate.
3. Approach behaviour which challenges with a calm and controlled, firm manner, give the children the opportunity to calm down before discussion.
4. It is the responsibility of every member of staff to contribute to the maintenance of good behaviour in class and around the school.

Between adults and children

1. Children will be encouraged to discuss their concerns with any member of staff. If concerns are related to safeguarding, the member of staff will report to the designated safeguarding lead.
2. Children will be given the opportunities to be placed in positions of trust and will be expected to take on appropriate responsibilities. Class council / school council meetings will take place regularly. Executive committee and school council will be made up of house captains and deputies from Year 6 plus two elected class representatives from each of Years 1 to 6. Play leaders will, on a rota basis, organise playground games and activities at morning break and lunchtime.
3. Children will be expected to use an adult's full title, e.g. Mr _____, Mrs _____, Miss _____, when addressing them.

4. Children will be expected to demonstrate courtesy to adults and children throughout the school day.

Between children and children

1. Pupils will be expected to empathise with other points of view during discussion situations.
2. They will be encouraged to respect the feelings of others and respond appropriately.

Children and property

Children will be taught to take care of school property and that of others.

C. Develop an agreement with parents to assist us in achieving our aims by their interest and support.

This will be achieved by:

1. Making them aware of our behaviour policy, with copies given to parents on their child's admission to school and thereafter available to view in school and on the school website. Creating an atmosphere in which parents can feel confident in approaching the school with any areas of concern and dealing with these worries at the earliest opportunity.
2. Providing occasions for regular verbal and written reporting on pupil achievement and behaviour. Ensuring that if a child's standard of behaviour or performance are not satisfactory, parents are invited to discuss the matter at the earliest opportunity.
3. Expecting parental support in upholding any remedial action that may need to be taken.
4. In the unlikely event of non co-operation and continued adverse behaviour, informing parents of the enforcement of accepted procedures.

8 Roles and Responsibilities

Governing Body

The governing body is responsible for setting general principles that inform the behaviour policy. The governing body must consult the headteacher, school staff, parents and pupils when developing these principles. The governing body should also be aware of its responsibilities under the Equality Act 2010 to promote equality of opportunity and to reduce discrimination.

Headteacher

The headteacher is responsible for developing the behaviour policy in the context of this framework. S/he must decide the standard of behaviour expected of pupils at the school and how that standard will be achieved, the school rules, any disciplinary penalties for breaking the rules and rewards for good behaviour. The behaviour policy includes measures to prevent all forms of bullying among pupils. The headteacher publicises the school behaviour policy, in writing, to staff, parents and pupils at least once a year on the school website.

Teachers/ Teaching Assistants

Teachers, teaching assistants and other paid staff with responsibility for pupils have the power to discipline pupils whose behaviour is unacceptable, who break the school rules or who fail to follow a reasonable instruction. Teachers, teaching assistants and other paid staff with responsibility for pupils can impose any reasonable disciplinary penalty in response to poor behaviour.

Parents

Parents are under a legal duty to ensure that their child (aged 5-16) receives a suitable full-time education either at a school or by making other suitable arrangements. Parents have a clear role in making sure their child is well behaved at school. Parents must take responsibility for their child, if excluded, and ensure that they are not in a public place without good reason during school hours within the first five school days of any exclusion. If they do not, the school or local authority may issue a fixed penalty sanction. Parents must also ensure that their child attends the suitable full time education provided by the school governing body or the local authority from the sixth day of any exclusion. Parents are expected to attend a reintegration interview following any fixed period exclusion from primary school and any fixed period exclusion of more than five days from secondary school.

9 Rewards and Sanctions

See also Appendix 2, 3 and 4 'Behavioural Procedure Posters' for each key stage

REWARDS

- a) At Key Stage 2 a system for rewarding positive contributions of all kinds with house points is in operation. The house achieving the highest number of points in a half term is suitably rewarded during junior assembly and the highest achievers in the other houses.

House points are to be awarded on a sliding scale. A minimum of 1 to a maximum of 5 house points can be given for any one event – 5 typically given for something exceptional.

- b) Children from Nursey to Y6 are rewarded with Class Dojos, an online rewards and sanctions program. In EYFS and KS1 the child who collects the most Dojo points in a week is the Dojo Champion. In KS2, Dojo points are converted to house points. Parents are made aware via alerts when their child is awarded points.

Dojos are to be awarded on a sliding scale. A minimum of 1 to a maximum of 5 house points can be given for any one event – 5 typically given for something exceptional.

- c) Praise and public acclaim - within class and at school assemblies.
Sharing success - acknowledging good work produced within school, extra- curricular achievements and leisure activities at school assemblies.

SANCTIONS

A list of agreed sanctions is included. The list is not exclusive and can serve as a guide. If alternative sanctions are to be used they must first be discussed with the head teacher or deputy.

Recording incidents of bad behaviour

Staff can use CPOMs to log incidents of bad behaviour. If necessary, staff should also verbally inform HT or DHT/ AAHT. All serious incidents will be recorded on CPOMs. Children will be asked to reflect on the bad behaviour: what it was they did and what they could do next time. This could be in the form of a 'think sheet' which will be discussed with head teacher/deputy. Parents will be informed of the incident by class teacher, deputy or head teacher.

Sanctions – conduct outside the school gates

Teachers have a statutory power to discipline pupils for misbehaving outside of school premises. This includes misbehaviour online particularly if it impacts on pupils in the school (see p32 of DfE 2024 publication, Behaviour in Schools Advice for headteachers and school staff). Headteachers have a specific statutory power to regulate pupils' behaviour in these circumstances 'to such an extent as is reasonable.' The school will respond to all non-criminal bad behaviour and bullying which occurs anywhere off the school premises and is witnessed by a staff member or reported to the school using the sanctions above as a guide. Subject to the policy, the teacher may discipline for any misbehaviour when the pupil is:

- Taking part in any school-organised or school-related activity or
- Travelling to or from school or
- Wearing the school uniform or
- In some other way identifiable as a pupil at the school.
- Online

The teacher may also discipline for misbehaviour at any time, whether or not the conditions above apply, that:

- Could have repercussions for the orderly running of the school or
- Poses a threat to another pupil or member of the public or
- Could adversely affect the reputation of the school.

10 PERSISTENT, UNACCEPTABLE BEHAVIOUR

Persistent, unacceptable behaviour will result in some or all of the following:

- Formal meetings with the parents
- Formal monitoring strategies put in place, e.g., behaviour chart, contract
- Individual Behaviour Plan created
- Behaviour diary with planned meetings with parents and staff

- Contacting external behaviour support services if necessary, e.g. LCC Specialist teachers, Chorley Inclusion Support Services, Golden Hill Pupil Referral Unit and Inclusion Support Team, SEND services, School Nurse, IEST, CISS

If the behaviour does not improve then the option of “fixed” term exclusion may arise.

At all times, the school will seek to work with parents to resolve any problems so that exclusion is avoided. However, continuous, unacceptable behaviour could result in fixed term exclusion for a given period of time.

In exceptional circumstances, fixed term exclusion may be given immediately. Following this, an Individual Behaviour Plan to help the child improve their behaviour may be put in place. This may involve working with other support agencies such as an educational psychologist, specialist teacher, attendance consultant and appropriate behaviour support agencies e.g. Chorley Inclusion Support Services, Golden Hill Pupil Referral Unit and Inclusion Support Team. The school will always consult on national and local authority guidelines on exclusions.

Definitions

Fixed Term Exclusion:	If a child continually misbehaves, disturbing his/her own and other pupils' education he/she will be subject to a fixed period of exclusion. The child will be allowed back into school after an interview with the parents, child and head teacher. From this will be the clear understanding that his/her behaviour must improve.
Permanent Exclusion:	The school will usually only permanently exclude a child as a last resort, after trying to improve the child's behaviour through other means. However, there are exceptional circumstances in which the head teacher may decide to permanently exclude a pupil for a 'one-off' offence.

Parents have the right to make representations to the governing body about an exclusion and the governing body must review the exclusion decision in certain circumstances, which include all permanent exclusions. Where a governing body upholds a permanent exclusion, parents have the right to appeal the decision to an independent review panel. Schools are under a duty to provide suitable full-time education for an excluded pupil from the sixth school day of any fixed period exclusion of more than five consecutive school days. Local authorities are under a duty to provide suitable full-time education from the sixth school day of a permanent exclusion. It is reasonable to expect that schools will endeavour to set and mark work for all excluded pupils during the first five days of any exclusion (although there is no legal duty to do so).

TAKING ACCOUNT OF INDIVIDUAL PUPIL NEEDS

At St Mary's we take account of a range of individual pupil needs when developing and implementing our behaviour policy. We take account of pupils with special educational needs (SEN) or disabilities, but also of the needs within certain other groups defined by Ofsted[1] as 'at risk' within the education system:

- minority ethnic and faith groups, travellers, asylum-seekers and refugees
- pupils who need support to learn English as an additional language (EAL)
- children looked after by the local authority
- sick children
- young carers
- children from families under stress
- any other pupils at risk of disaffection and exclusion

Equality Act 2010

In dealing with issues of behaviour, school does not discriminate because of the sex, race, disability, religion or belief, sexual orientation or gender reassignment of another person with whom the pupil is associated. School will actively avoid any other prohibited conduct in regard of the act.

11 Searching, Screening and Confiscation – see appendix 7 for more details.

There are two sets of legal provisions, which enable school staff to confiscate items from pupils:

1. The general power to discipline enables a member of staff to confiscate, retain or dispose of a pupils' property as a punishment. Staff are protected against liability for damage to, or loss of, any confiscated items provided they have acted lawfully and reasonably. Confiscated items must be returned to parents/ carers.

1. When searching, always seek consent in the first instance. There is power to search without consent for 'prohibited items' including (see detailed guidance in appendix 7):
 - a. Knives and weapons
 - b. Alcohol
 - c. Illegal drugs
 - d. Stolen items
 - e. Tobacco, cigarette papers, vapes
 - f. Pornographic images
 - g. Any article that has been or is likely to be used to commit an offence, cause personal injury or damage to property
 - h. Any item banned by the school rules which has been identified in the rules as an item which may be searched for Weapons and knives and extreme or indecent images of children must be handed to the Police. Otherwise it is for the teacher to decide when to return an item. Staff will speak with headteacher or deputy headteacher if advice is needed. Force CANNOT be used to search for these items.

General points from advice around 'searching' pupils from updated advice, September 2023 – see appendix 7 for more detail.

- Under common law, school staff have the power to search a pupil for any item if the pupil agrees.
- The search should be undertaken by a person of the same sex and witnessed by another member of staff.
- A pupil's possessions can only be searched in the presence of the pupil and another member of staff, except where there is a risk that serious harm will be caused to a person if the search is not conducted immediately and where it is not reasonably practicable to summon another member of staff.
- A member of staff may search a pupil's outer clothing, pockets, bags, desks or lockers provided the pupil agrees.
- The person conducting the search must not require the pupil to remove any clothing other than outer clothing. 'Outer clothing' means any item of clothing that is not worn wholly next to the skin or immediately over a garment that is being worn as underwear, as well as hats, shoes, boots or scarves.

Members of staff should not conduct a strip search. This must be conducted by the police and witnessed by an appropriate adult. There must be just cause to request a search by police.

12 Use of Reasonable Force

At St Mary's we act on the advice given in the DfE document Restrictive interventions, including use of reasonable force, in schools Guidance for schools in England April 2026. There is a separate Physical Intervention Policy which gives detail on the use of reasonable force in school.

St Mary's does not have a 'no-contact' policy. There is a real risk that such a policy might place a member of staff in breach of their duty of care towards a pupil or prevent them from taking action needed to prevent a pupil causing harm.

What is reasonable force?

Reasonable force refers to the legal power given to school staff to use only the minimum amount of physical force necessary, and for the shortest time required, to prevent harm or manage specific situations.

It is used to:

- Prevent injury to the pupil or others
- Stop a criminal offence
- Prevent damage to property
- Stop serious disorder in school

Who can use reasonable force?

- All members of school staff have a legal power to use reasonable force.
- This power applies to any member of staff at the school. It can also apply to people whom the headteacher has temporarily put in charge of pupils such as unpaid volunteers or parents accompanying students on a school organised visit.

School cannot:

- use force as a punishment – it is always unlawful to use force as a punishment.

In the use of reasonable force, the school acknowledges its legal duty to make reasonable adjustments for disabled children and children with special educational needs (SEN).

Key points about reasonable force:

It must be proportionate to the situation and not more than necessary. It cannot be used as a form of punishment. Staff must consider the pupil's age, size, needs, and welfare and use alternative strategies if possible. The use of force should always respect the pupil's dignity and be avoided if it risks physical or psychological harm.

In summary, reasonable force is a last-resort intervention, strictly limited to what is necessary to keep people safe or maintain order. See Physical Intervention Policy.

13. School Support Systems

Supporting staff in behaviour management

There is a very experienced, well-trained staff at St Mary's, who manage behaviour well. When there is behaviour presented which challenges the expertise at hand, the school seeks support, advice and training from outside agencies e.g. LCC specialist teachers, the LCC Inclusion Engagement Support Team and Golden Hill Inclusion Support Team. At times, CPD opportunities are provided for example in training lunchtime welfare staff in promoting positive lunchtimes. At times, the school pairs up experienced staff with less experienced staff in managing specific types of behaviour.

The school approach to pastoral care for staff accused of misconduct is guided by advice and policies from KCSiE Sept 2026 and from LCC HR procedure:

Dealing with allegations of abuse against staff

The County Council commends the use of the DfE's guidance for dealing with allegations of abuse against staff:

Keeping Children Safe in Education 2024 - Part 4 of this document relates to all adults working with children and young people, whether in a paid or voluntary position, including those who work with children on a temporary or supply basis.

When an allegation of abuse is made against a member of staff, school will contact the safeguarding team at LCC and potentially LADO. The school will also contact the LCC Human Resources Team, to discuss the allegation and whether the member of staff should be suspended from work. An individual should only be suspended if there is no reasonable alternative.

Allegations that are found to have been malicious should be removed from personnel records and any that are not substantiated, are unfounded or malicious should not be referred to in employer references.

If an allegation of abuse is made against a member of staff in school, the member of staff will be provided with a copy of the following document, which is intended to provide a broad overview of some of the key issues the employee may wish to understand, and also to signpost them to appropriate information, advice and support:

<https://schoolsportal.lancsnqfl.ac.uk/modules/clicksuite/clickweb/media/doc.asp?id=147225>

In addition, sections 23 and 24 of the School Child Protection and Safeguarding Policy deal with safer schools/safer staff, including how allegations are managed.

It is important that a clear and comprehensive summary of any allegations made, details of how the allegation was followed up and resolved, and a note of any action taken and decisions reached, is kept on a person's confidential personnel file, and a copy provided to the person concerned. The purpose of the record is to enable accurate information to be given in response to any future request for a reference if the person has moved on. It will provide clarification in cases where a future DBS Disclosure reveals information from the police about an allegation that did not result in a criminal conviction. It will also help to prevent unnecessary reinvestigation if, as sometimes happens, an allegation re-surfaces after a period of time. The record should be retained at least until the person has reached normal retirement age or for a period of 10 years from the date of allegation if that is longer.

14 Complaints Procedure

The school's complaints procedure can be found on the school website or provided in hard copy form the school office.

All complaints about the use of force will be thoroughly, speedily and appropriately investigated.

- Where a member of staff has acted within the law – that is, they have used reasonable force in order to prevent injury, damage to property or disorder – this will provide a defence to any criminal prosecution or other civil or public law action.

- When a complaint is made, the onus is on the person making the complaint to prove that his/her allegations are true – it is not for the member of staff to show that he/she has acted reasonably.
- Suspension is not be an automatic response when a member of staff has been accused of using excessive force. School will refer to the “Dealing with Allegations of Abuse against Teachers and Other Staff” guidance where an allegation of using excessive force is made against a teacher. This guidance makes clear that a person should not be suspended automatically, or without careful thought.
- School will consider carefully whether the circumstances of the case warrant a person being suspended until the allegation is resolved or whether alternative arrangements are more appropriate.
- If a decision is taken to suspend a teacher, the school will ensure that the teacher has access to a named contact who can provide support.
- The Governing Board will always consider whether the staff member has acted within the law when reaching a decision on whether or not to take disciplinary action against them.
- As employers, schools and local authorities have a duty of care towards their employees. It is important that schools provide appropriate pastoral care to all members of staff

14 Consultation, monitoring and evaluation

This policy has been reviewed and updated over a number of years and reviewed by staff and governors annually.

Appendix 8 Searching, Screening and Confiscation

In July 2022, the DfE published revised advice on Searching, Screening and Confiscation (Advice) in the wake of the media attention surrounding the 'Child Q' case.

Under Article 8 of the Human Rights Act 1998, pupils have a right to respect for their private life, which means they can expect a reasonable level of privacy at school. This right is not absolute, but any interference with it by the school (or other public body) must be justified and proportionate.

Under common law, school staff have the power to search a pupil for any item if the pupil agrees. The member of staff should ensure the pupil understands the reason for the search and how it will be conducted so that their agreement is informed – are they a SEND pupil?

The search should be undertaken by a person of the same sex and witnessed by another member of staff.

There is a limited exception to this rule. This is that a member of staff can search a pupil of the opposite sex and/or without a witness present only:

- if the member of staff carrying out the search reasonably believes there is risk that serious harm will be caused to a person if the search is not carried out as a matter of urgency;
- and in the time available, it is not reasonably practicable for the search to be carried out by a member of staff who is same sex as the pupil or it is not reasonably practicable for the search to be carried out in the presence of another member of staff.

When a member of staff conducts a search without a witness they should immediately report this to another member of staff, and ensure a record of the search is kept.

Only the headteacher, or a member of staff authorised by the headteacher, can carry out a search. The headteacher can authorise individual members of staff to search for specific items, or all items set out in the school's behaviour policy. For example, a member of staff may be authorised to search for stolen property and alcohol but not for weapons or drugs.

A member of staff may search a pupil's outer clothing, pockets, bags, desks or lockers. The person conducting the search must not require the pupil to remove any clothing other than outer clothing. 'Outer clothing' means any item of clothing that is not worn wholly next to the skin or immediately over a garment that is being worn as underwear, as well as hats, shoes, boots or scarves.

A member of staff is able to search lockers and desks or other personal spaces at the school for any item provided the pupil agrees. Schools can make it a condition of having the locker or space that the pupil agrees to have these searched. If the pupil withdraws their agreement to search, a search may be conducted both for the prohibited items listed and any items identified in the school rules for which a search can be made. A pupil's possessions can only be searched in the presence of the pupil and another member of staff, except where there is a risk that serious harm will be caused to a person if the search is not conducted immediately and where it is not reasonably practicable to summon another member of staff.

Members of staff should not conduct a strip search. This must be conducted by the police and witnessed by an appropriate adult. There must be just cause to request a search by police.

If a pupil refuses to co-operate, the member of staff may sanction the pupil in line with the school's behaviour policy.

If the pupil still refuses to co-operate, the member of staff should assess whether it is appropriate to use reasonable force to conduct the search. A member of staff can use such force as is reasonable to search for any prohibited items identified in paragraph 3, but not to search for items which are identified only in the school rules - Note the list of prohibited items – no vapes or mobile phones!

Mobile phones / devices can be confiscated if it is believed to contain pornography or indecent images of children. Staff should not view this content but give the device to the DSL.

If the member of staff considers a search to be necessary, but is not required urgently, they should seek the advice of the headteacher, designated safeguarding lead (or deputy) or pastoral member of staff who may have more information about the pupil. During this time, the pupil should be supervised and kept away from other pupils.

School staff may wish to consider using CCTV footage to decide whether to conduct a search for an item.

The decision to use reasonable force should be made on a case-by-case basis. The member of staff should consider whether conducting the search will prevent the pupil harming themselves or others, damaging property or from causing disorder.

The designated safeguarding lead (or deputy) should be informed of any searching incidents where the member of staff had reasonable grounds to suspect a pupil was in possession of a prohibited item as listed in policy. The staff member should also involve the designated safeguarding lead (or deputy) without delay if they believe that a search has revealed a safeguarding risk.

Any search by a member of staff for a prohibited item listed in section 11, part 2 of policy and all searches conducted by police officers should be recorded on CPOMS, the school's online safeguarding reporting system, including whether or not an item is found.
