WINDRUSH
DAY

CELEBRATING
GREAT BRITAIN'S
DNA

WINDRUSH Child by John Agard

Behind you
Windrush child
palm trees wave goodbye

doors closing and opening will things turn out right?

above you
Windrush child
seabirds asking why

At least the ship will arrive in midsummer light

around you
Windrush child
blue water rolling by

and you Windrush child
think of grandmother telling you don't forget to write

beside you Windrush child
your Windrush mum and dad

and with one last hug
walk good walk good
and the sea's wheel
carries on spinning

think of storytime yard
and mango mornings

and from that place
England
you tell her in a letter of your Windrush
adventure

and new beginnings

stepping in a big ship

'Windrush Child' read by poet John Agard

A stop-motion adaptation of John Agard's poem 'Windrush Child', designed and animated by 6 -11 year old children at The Green, Nunhead, mentored by Rainbow Collective as part of Black History Month 2018.

Windrush Migration Education pack

*this pack has activities on 'Windrush Child'.
The poet dedicated the poem to Vince Reid, 13, one of the youngest on the boat.*

It looks at why people migrate, at their spirit and bravery, their expectations, hopes and aspirations.

Refugee Week is the UK's largest festival celebrating the contribution of refugees and promoting an understanding of why people seek sanctuary

'Imagine' is the 2020 theme. This year Refugee Week will be held virtually. We hope more children and young people will take part this year than ever, whether at school or home - draw, paint, write a story or poem about the world you want to see, watch a film or read a book about exile, visit an online gallery, learn a song or cook a meal from another country. Share your acts with friends and family, find out more on the website links below. Click below for eight simple acts to make a stand with refugees and asylum seekers and to imagine a better world.
