

Sexting Policy

St Mary's Church of England (A) Primary School keeps children safe by ensuring and promoting the safeguarding and welfare of all children in its care: all policies support the most current "Keeping Children Safe in Education Guidance" and "Safeguarding Policy", are fully consistent with the "Every Child Matters" agenda, and fully support the principles of equal opportunities for all.

Sexting' is one of a number of 'risk-taking' behaviours associated with the use of digital devices, social media or the internet. It is accepted that young people experiment and challenge boundaries and therefore the risks associated with 'online' activity can never be completely eliminated. However, St Mary's C of E Primary School takes a pro-active approach to help students to understand, assess, manage and avoid the risks associated with 'online activity'. The school recognises its duty of care to its young people who do find themselves involved in such activity as well as its responsibility to report such behaviours where legal or safeguarding boundaries are crossed.

There are a number of definitions of 'sexting' but for the purposes of this policy sexting is simply defined as: 'Images or videos generated by children under the age of 18, or of children under the age of 18 that are of a sexual nature or are indecent. These images are shared between young people and/or adults via a mobile phone, handheld device, computer, 'tablet' or website with people they may not even know.'

STEPS TO TAKE IN THE CASE OF AN INCIDENT

Step 1 Disclosure by a child.

Sexting disclosures should follow the normal safeguarding practices and protocols (see Safeguarding Policy). A child is likely to be very distressed especially if the image has been circulated widely and if they don't know who has shared it, seen it or where it has ended up. They will need pastoral support during the disclosure and after the event. They may even need immediate protection or a referral to police or social services; parents should be informed as soon as possible (police advice permitting). The following questions will help decide upon the best course of action.

Is the child disclosing about themselves receiving an image, sending an image or sharing an image? What sort of image is it? Is it potentially illegal or is it inappropriate? Are the school child protection and safeguarding policies and practices being followed? For this reason a member of the Mrs Hill or Miss Rhodes should be involved as soon as possible. Denise Keen to be contacted. How widely has the image been shared and is the device in their possession? Is it a school device or a personal device?

Does the child need immediate support and/or protection? Are there other children and/or young people involved? Do they know where the image has ended up?

Step 2 Searching a device – what are the rules?

The policy allows for a device to be examined, confiscated and securely stored if there is reason to believe it contains indecent images or extreme pornography.

When searching a mobile device the following conditions should apply:

- The search is conducted by the Headteacher or a person authorised by them and one other person
- DSL or DDSL should normally be present
- The search should normally be conducted by a member of the same gender as the person being searched. However, if the image being searched for is likely to be of a different gender to the person 'in possession' then the device should only be viewed by a member of the same gender as the person whose image it is.
- If any illegal images of a young person are found the staff involved will discuss this with the Police (see Appendices 1, 2 and 3). The Association of Chief Police Officers (ACPO) advise that as a general rule it will almost always be proportionate to refer any incident involving 'aggravated' sharing of images to the Police, whereas purely 'experimental' conduct may proportionately dealt with without such referral, most particularly if it involves the young person sharing images of themselves. 'Experimental conduct' commonly refers to that shared between two individuals (e.g. girlfriend and boyfriend) with no intention to publish the images further (see Appendix 2). Coercion is not a feature of such conduct, neither are requests for images sent from one person to multiple other young persons.
- Any conduct involving, or possibly involving, the knowledge or participation of adults should always be referred to the police. If an 'experimental' incident is not referred to the Police, the reasons for this should be recorded in the school's 'Safeguarding Incidents Log'.
- Always put the child first.
- Do not search the device if this will cause additional stress to the person whose image has been distributed. Instead rely on the description by the child, secure the advice and contact the Police.

NEVER

Print out any material for evidence

Move any material from one storage device to another

ALWAYS

- Inform and involve the Designated Safeguarding Lead to ensure they are able to take any necessary strategic decisions.
- Record the incident.
- Act in accordance with school safeguarding policies and procedures. If there is an indecent image of a child on a website or a social networking site then the DSL or DDSL will report the image to the site hosting it. Under normal circumstances the staff would follow the reporting procedures on the respective website; however, in the case of a sexting incident involving a child or young person where it may be felt that they may be at risk of abuse then the staff will report the incident directly to CEOP www.ceop.police.uk/ceopreport, so that law enforcement can make an assessment, expedite the case with the relevant provider and ensure that appropriate action is taken to safeguard the child.

Step 3 - What to do and not do with the image?

If the image has been shared across a personal mobile device:

ALWAYS

- Confiscate and secure the device(s).
- Close down or switch the device off as soon as possible. This may prevent anyone removing evidence 'remotely'.

NEVER

- View the image unless there is a clear reason to do so or view it without an additional adult present (this additional person does not need to view the image and certainly should not do so if they are of a different gender to the person whose image has been shared). The viewing of an image should only be done to establish that there has been an incident which requires further action.
- Send, share or save the image anywhere
- Allow children to do any of the above If the image has been shared across a school network, a website or a social network:

ALWAYS

- Block the network to all users and isolate the image

NEVER

- Send or print the image
- Move the material from one place to another
- View the image outside of the protocols in the school's safeguarding and child protection policies and procedures.

Step 4 - Who should deal with the incident?

- Often, the first port of call for a child is a class teacher. Regardless of who the initial disclosure is made to she/he must act in accordance with the school safeguarding and/or child protection policy, ensuring that DSL or DDSL are involved in dealing with the incident.
- The Designated Safeguarding Lead should always record the incident.
- The Headteacher should also always be informed
- There may be instances where the image needs to be viewed and this should be done in accordance with protocols.

Step 5 - Deciding on a response

- There may be many reasons why a child has engaged in sexting – it may be a sexual exploration scenario or it may be due to coercion. It is important to remember that it won't always be appropriate to inform the police; this will depend on the nature of the incident (see Appendix 1 for definitions). However, as a school it is important that incidents are consistently recorded. It may also be necessary to assist the child in removing the image from a website or elsewhere.

If indecent images of a child are found:

- Act in accordance with the Safeguarding policy i.e. inform the DSL or DDSL and store the device securely
- The Headteacher and DDSL will carry out a risk assessment in relation to the child (Use Appendices 2 and 3 for support)
- The Headteacher and DDSL will contact the police (if appropriate). Referrals may be made to Social Care or the Multi-Agency Safeguarding Hub (MASH) but where a crime may thought to have taken place the police are the first port of call.
- Children who have engaged in 'experimental sexting' which is contained between two persons will be referred to MASH for support and guidance. Those who are felt to be victims of 'sexting' will also be referred to MASH at a point where the police feel that this will not impede an investigation
- Inform parents and/or carers about the incident and how it is being managed.

Step 6 - Containment and Prevention

The child involved in 'sexting' may be left feeling sensitive and vulnerable for some time. They will require monitoring by and support from their class teacher. Where cases of 'sexting' become widespread or there is thought to be the possibility of contagion then the school will reinforce the need for safer 'online' behaviour using a variety of resources (see Appendix 3).

Other staff may need to be informed of incidents and should be prepared to act if the issue is continued or referred to by other children.

The school, its children and parents should be on high alert, challenging behaviour and ensuring that the victim is well cared for and protected.

The parents of the child should usually be told what has happened so that they can keep a watchful eye over the child especially when they are online at home.

Creating a supportive environment for students in relation to the incident is very important.

Preventative educational programmes on sexting can be found on CEOP's advice-giving website www.thinkunknow.co.uk

Step 7 - Review outcomes and procedures with the aim of preventing future incidents

The frequency or severity of such incidents may be such that the school will need to review its approach. Where this is the case St Mary's Primary School will adopt the 'PIES' model where:

P = Policies and Practices - ensuring that key policies e.g. Safeguarding, Anti-Bullying, Online safety Policies are still relevant and can meet emerging issues.

I = Infrastructure - ensuring that the school's infrastructure and technologies are robust enough to meet new challenges.

E = Education - ensuring that both adults and young persons are alerted to the issues such as safety mechanisms, support mechanisms and the legal implications of such behaviour.

S = Standards - the Ofsted framework for Behaviour and Safety provides a good benchmark to test the strength of the school's approach

APPENDIX 1

The Legal Position

It is important to be aware that young people involved in sharing sexual videos and pictures may be committing a criminal offence. Specifically, crimes involving indecent photographs (including pseudo images) of a person under 18 years of age fall under Section 1 of the Protection of Children Act 1978 and Section 160 Criminal Justice Act 1988.

Under this legislation it is a crime to:

- take an indecent photograph or allow an indecent photograph to be taken;
- make an indecent photograph (this includes downloading or opening an image that has been sent via email);
- distribute or show such an image;
- possess with the intention of distributing images;
- while any decision to charge individuals for such offences is a matter for the Crown Prosecution Service, it is unlikely to be considered in the public interest to prosecute children.

- However, children need to be aware that they may be breaking the law. Although unlikely to be prosecuted, children and young people who send or possess images may be visited by police and on some occasions media equipment could be removed. This is more likely if they have distributed images. The decision to criminalise children and young people for sending these kinds of images is a little unclear and may depend on local strategies.

However, the current Association of Chief Police Officers (ACPO) position is that: 'ACPO does not support the prosecution or criminalisation of children for taking indecent images of themselves and sharing them. Being prosecuted through the criminal justice system is likely to be upsetting and distressing for children especially if they are convicted and punished. The label of sex offender that would be applied to a child or young person convicted of such offences is regrettable, unjust and clearly detrimental to their future health and wellbeing.

Whilst, as a school, we will want to consider the implications of reporting an incident over to the police, it is not our responsibility to make decisions about the seriousness of the matter; that responsibility lies with the Police and the CPS hence the requirement for the school to refer.

In summary sexting is classed as illegal as it constitutes sharing and/or possessing an indecent image of a child.
