

Capital Letters

Learn this rule — put a capital letter at the start of every sentence.

You always start with a capital letter.

Put a tick by the sentences that start correctly.

Put a cross by the ones that don't.

The fence will be painted bright blue.

Simon Is The Best Swimmer In His School.

Custard on toast is my favourite meal.

he loves reading fantasy books.

Most other words in a sentence should begin with lower-case letters.

Sentences always start with a capital letter.

1

Put a tick by the sentences that start correctly.

Put a cross by the ones that don't.

she is a nice person.

Geography is my brother's favourite lesson.

at the park, there are swings and a slide.

After school, I have guitar lessons.

Capital Letters

Names of people and places should start with a capital letter.
So should the days of the week.

Monday Sally Jacob Paris

Circle the four words below that are missing capital letters.

mike loves cars. he races them every saturday in hull.

A place
name

A name

The start of a sentence

A day of the week

2 Circle the four words below that are missing capital letters.

on friday, sally and i are going swimming.

3 Fill in each gap with the correct letter from the box.
Choose whether or not it should be a capital letter.

i m ___y best friend ___nna is having a birthday a party on ___aturday. I hope she likes the p s ___resent that ___ got her.

The word 'I' should always be a capital.

Get off to a good start...

Don't forget your capital letters. They're really important.

