

Starlings have been enjoying the book – The Iron Man by Ted Hughes

The story is about an iron giant who appears on a cliff and starts eating all the metal tractors in the village. So far we have met a boy called Hogarth, who along with the farmers and other villagers, digs a big hole for the Iron Man and traps him in there. A year later, he reappears and Hogarth saves the village by leading the Iron Man to a scrapyard where he eats metal chains like tasty spaghetti! We are looking forward to reading the rest of the story.

We created our own characters for our own version of the story.

Hope created the creature – A Titanium Dog. In her story the dog arrived on a huge meteor and a girl called Roksie saw it crash. The meteor caused devastation for miles around the town!

Jess created the creature – A Rubber Rabbit. In her story, a girl called DJ spots a strange looking rabbit amongst the other rabbits in the field. The Rubber Rabbit eats all the erasers in the school!

The creature in Caleb's story was a Wooden Mole. The Wooden Mole creates chaos in the village by eating all the wood! The Villagers had to call in the army for some support to help stop the Wooden Mole from eating all things wooden!

James created a Glass Hippo for his story. The Glass Hippo causes havoc in the village by eating all the glass out of the windows and doors! The Villages made a glass trail to a huge mountain where he lived happily for a while.

Unfortunately the glass ran out and the Villagers fear for their windows and doors again!
