

How has our local high street changed since 1950?

date order	timeline	modern
living memory	1950's	opinion
long ago	similar	chronological era/period	artefacts	what
when	where	why

- The sources of evidence that historians use can be divided into two main types, called primary and secondary:

- Primary Sources – something that comes from the time that the historian is studying

- Secondary Source – sources which do not come from the time that the historian is studying.
